Snow Cripples New York, Cut Off From Suburbs

NEW YORK (AP) — New York was crippled and cut off from its suburbs this morning in the wake of a storm that dumped 15 inches of snow, piled into drifts whipped by high winds.

The New York and American stock exchanges closed.

The Long Island Rail Road shut down, cutting off 90,000 commuters. The Penn Central and New Haven railroads drastically cut schedules, and buses were mired in huge traffic jams caused by stalled and deserted vehicles.

The State Thruway was closed from Albany to New York City —148 miles—for the first time in its history, and more than 1,000 cars were stranded on the Tappan Zee Bridge, a thruway span across the Hudson River at Tarrytown. The passengers took shelter locally.

Subways were running near normal. All public and parochial schools and colleges were closed, as were all branches of the public library.

Kennedy International, La Guardia and Newark airports were closed. More than 6,000 persons were stranded at Kennedy, where food supplies were being rapidly exhausted. Roads to the airport were blocked by stalled vehicles. One jetliner with 39 passengers was snowbound on a runway for nine hours Sunday before plows could free it.

Thirteen of New York City's 15 inches fell Sunday, a record for a single day.

Winds gusting to more than 40 miles per hour and temperatures in the 20s complicated the snow removal problem, as city officials declared a "snow emergency" and urged motorists to stay at home.

Upstate New York escaped the brunt of the storm and airliners were diverted from Kennedy to Montreal and Niagara Falls.

Northern New Jersey was equally crippled, but three commuter train lines into New York City were reported in operation. The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said its electric-powered trains were operating normally, but diesel service was subject to delays.

Public schools in seven Northern New Jersey counties were closed, and many other areas reported partial closings.

The New Jersey Turnpike was shut from New Brunswick to Newark, and other parkways were plagued by deserted autos. Arteries leading to New York City were jammed and moving slowly.

The state legislatures in Trenton, N.J., and Albany N.Y., canceled today's session.

Connecticut commuters had it no better, as sections of the turnpike were closed and many secondary roads were impassable. A stalled train on the New Haven Railroad further delayed the irregular schedules.

Canaan, in northwestern Connecticut, reported 35 inches of snow.

Victim of the storm Sunday was the Northeast Ski Jump Championship, scheduled for Salisbury, Conn., which was canceled because of excessive snow and wind.

The storm center moved into the Atlantic Ocean off Nantucket, Mass., at 3:30 a. m. the Weather Bureau said. It had originated off the Virginia Capes Saturday night, and dumped five inches of snow in portions of Virginia and Maryland.

The near-blizzard moved from the metropolitan area into New England, dumping 16 inches of snow at Scituate, R.I., near Providence. Massachusetts, Maine and southern New Hampshire and Vermont also bore the brunt of the storm.

Power failures, caused by lines collapsing under the weight of ice and snow, occurred sporadically, chiefly in Westchester County, directly north of New York City.

SNOW PARALYZES NEW YORK. There are more pedestrians than cars on New York's normally busy Second Ave., near 45th St., looking north, today following a street-burying blizzard Sunday that paralyzed the city. (UPI Telephoto)

50 Enemy Rockets Found Near Saigon

Termed One Of Biggest Caches Yet

First Capture Of Warhead Device, South Viet Claims

SAIGON (AP) — Fifty monster rockets that one American adviser said could "raise hell" in Saigon have been found only one day's travel from the capital, they were part of one of the biggest enemy rocket stockpiles uncovered in the war.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said it was the first capture of 240mm rocket, warheads of which are twice the size and nearly seven times as powerful as the Russian 122mm and Chinese 107mm missiles regularly used by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

"It's not anything like we've seen before," said an American officer. "Someone fabricated this, and it is not a mass produced item like you'd find in a Moscow parade."

Military spokesmen said the warheads probably had been improvised at arms factories in Cambodia and were hauled into South Vietnam on bicycles. Seventy bicycles were found with the rockets.

They speculated the big rockets were to be fired from crude launchers that would limit them to a range of one to four miles. The 122mm rockets have a range of seven miles.

The spokesman said the 240mm warheads could carry 100 pounds of explosives, compared to 14½ pounds in the 122mm rockets. Thus the 50 rockets had a total punch of 5,000 pounds of explosives, or one-twelfth of the average bomb load of a U.S. B52 bomber.

South Vietnamese marines found the new type rockets in a 30-ton munitions cache in 34 man-made caves in War Zone C, 60 miles north of Saigon and 18 miles from the Cambodian border.

Boy's Heart Transplanted

Girl Reported 'Improving' After Receiving New Heart

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Impulses from the new heart given six - year - old Christie Corhn "indicate a good strong, steady beat, beep, beep, beep" today.

Robert D. Southwick, hospital administrator, gave the report from physicians who watched an electrocardiogram rigged to monitor the little girl's heart beat.

He reported "significant improvement" in Christie's total body function.

She received the heart of William M. Becker, 7, a half-hour after he died Saturday of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Dr. Edward Prat, chief of staff at Children's Hospital where the operation took place, reported Christie had a good night. He said she talks, recognizes people, and had asked to see her parents.

The parents had not visited Christie before a mid-morning news conference.

Prat said that so far there is no indication that the child's body is rejecting the new heart.

Christie's parents Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Corhn of nearby High Point, beamed with satisfaction and relief when they talked with treporters late Sunday.

"We didn't get to talk to her," said Mrs. Corhn.

"She was asleep when we saw her. "But she has talked to the doctors, asking for a glass of water and that sort of thing."

The transplant is the fourth involving children or infants. The other three were unsucessful.

Weekly Sessions Deadlocked

POW Exchange Seen Topic For Behind Scenes Talks

PARIS (AP) — Exchanges of prisoners is considered the most likely subject to be taken up first at secret negotiations behind the scenes at the Vietnam peace talks if and when they take place.

A flock of unconfirmed rumors have suggested for the past week that such secret talks already have started. The weekly conference sessions are deadlocked because Hanoi and the Viet Cong want to talk about the political future of South Vietnam while the United States and Saigon insist on discussing military de-escalation measures. Prisoner exchange is one subject which Western observers think could be taken up in private without either side compromising its position on how the conference should proceed.

The North Vietnamese are holding several hundred American airmen, and the Viet Cong is believed to hold a few dozen Americans in jungle prison camps. The Saigon government holds thousands of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong "suspects," including all captured by the Americans.

North Vietnam has consistently refused to provide a list of the American prisoners it holds, as required by the Geneva conventions, or to allow Red Cross inspection of its prison camps.

The American negotiators in Paris want very much to talk to the North Vietnamese about these prisoners—to obtain names, to arrange shipments of mail and food parcels and finally to negotiate the prisoners' release.

Arranging an exchange will be complicated by the fact that all the prisoners on the allied side are in South Vietnamese hands, while Hanoi has very few South Vietnamese prisoners. This rules out any direct prisoner exchange between the United States and North Vietnam, particularly as Hanoi has never acknowledged that its troops are fighting in South Vietnam.

To negotiate openly about prisoners thus would constitute a significant admission by Hanoi. For this reason the North Vietnamese might be willing to take up the subject only in strictly secret contacts with the United States.

Hanoi would hardly allow the Saigon government's delegation to take part in such talks unless the National Liberation Front's delegation also joins in. Yet Saigon is vigorously opposed to any recognition of the NLF as an equal negotiator.

Another problem will be the fate of any captured North Vietnamese who don't want to go back to their Communist country. In the Korean armistice negotiations at Panmunjom, the Chinese Communists and North Koreans delayed the proceedings for weeks with their insistence that all prisoners must be returned, including whose who objected.

100 Soviet-Bloc Trawlers Dragging Nets Off Virginia

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — Nearly 100 Soviet-bloc trawlers dragged their nets off the Virginia coast today, some less than 20 miles from the Wallops Island rocket center where a routine meteorological launch was planned tonight.

Worsening weather raised the prospect of problems, however, for both the launch and the trawlers, which during the night rode 10-foot seas and 40-mile-an-hour winds under the watch of two Coast Guard cutters.

Most of the fleet was amid schools of cod and sea bass from 25 to 45 miles off the entrance to Hampton Roads, one of the largest naval installations on the East Coast.

The remainder, nine trawlers and the 600-foot factory ship Pomorze, were 60 miles to the north, 18 miles off Wallops and just south of the Maryland line.

It was off Wallops and neighboring Chincoteague Islands that the trawlers first appeared last Thursday, growing first to a dozen, then to 50 or more by the weekend.

East Really Gets It, The District Doesn't

The area continues to bear a somewhat charmed life weatherwise.

While the east was under a blanket of white — 16 inches or more in spots — the tri-state district was under a blanket of blue, with only a chance of light snow Tuesday.

The forecast calls for increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight, with the low in the 20s, and for cloudy and the chance of snow Tuesday. Tomorrow's high will be in the 30s.

Abel, Narick End Drives For Presidency Of USW

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The campaign for the presidency of the United Steelworkers ends today with incumbent I. W. Abel and challenger Emil Narick scurrying for support from the membership.

News conferences, handshaking and rallies are on the agenda for both men vying for the chief executive post of the nation's third largest union. Union members vote Tuesday.

Narick, a counsel at the international headquarters, predicted Sunday the union membership "will elect a new generation of leaders."

"IF nothing else, the campaign has proven that steelworkers want new leadership," Narick said at a testimonial dinner at Aliquippa Local 1211.

Carl DePasqua, recently-named head football coach at Pitt, attended the dinner and boosted Narick. "I've known Mr. Narick for many years," he said, "and I can vouch for his interest in the working man."

Narick also praised the campaign efforts of his staff. "With the lack of money, I've been amazed at the ingenuity shown by one group of Narick workers after another across the nation in spreading my story," said the union lawyer.

Narick, 52, said the 328 endorsements he received from locals shows the discontent of the membership.

ABEL, speaking at a rally in Warren, Ohio, told local presidents and members of District 26 that "ours is the only major industry where members enjoy such benefits as extended vacations with pay of 13 weeks, vacation bonuses and the new widow's or survivor's pensions."

The incumbent president, who has the support of 24 strong district directors, said he expected the column of dissatisfaction but added that "Mr. Narick just isn't a worthy opponent with his lack of union experience."

Abel, 60, said Narick "hasn't participated in grievances, contract negotiations or locals' difficulties."

Under the current executives, Abel said, union members have gained unequaled salary boosts, pension and fringe benefits after just two rounds of bargaining.

HERE ARE 9 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A HOOVER SPIN-DRYING WASHER

ROLLS ON LARGE CASTERS
Large easy rolling casters let the HOOVER move about with complete ease. Store it in one place... use it in another.

FAMILY-SIZE LOADS
2 Double Sheets plus pillow cases, or 36 diapers, or 12 men's shirts. Washes even the most delicate things.

TURBO-ACTION AGITATION
The unique HOOVER energy disk, located on the back of the washer tub, actually surges water through the clothes. This remarkable wash action gets clothes really clean.

SAVES $$ ON WATER
Uses only 1/3 the amount of water that most automatics use. Saves up to 100 gallons every 3 loads.

SAVES $$ ON DETERGENT
The washing action is so efficient, it needs less detergent than the agitator or tumbler-type washer. It has a SUDS-SAVER, too!

WASHES FAST
The HOOVER washes a full load of laundry in four minutes or less, in a gleaming lifetime stainless steel washtub.

DRIES IN SECONDS
The clothes are spun at the amazing speed of 2,000 RPM, this enables the washer to extract soap or detergents that can't be rinsed out. Laundry comes out really damp-dry.

NO PLUMBING NECESSARY

roc-lon*ized* SELF-LINED INSULATED DRAPERY FABRICS

ALL THE ADVANTAGES OF CUSTOM LINED DRAPERIES AT A READY MADE PRICE

ROC-LONIZED draperies

Don't just hang there looking beautiful... they do something

A miracle of modern science brings you the only Climate Controlled Drapery in all the world. Roc-lonized antique satin draperies actually insulate against heat and cold. Protect against window drafts. Shield fabrics from hot sun rays. Save on heating and air condition bills. In addition to adding comfort to your rooms, you add beauty too. Roc-lonized draperies have a "fine hand", luxurious textures and are crease resistant. Just gently squeeze the deep fold fibers and see how they bounce back into shape. Their permanent finish makes them 100 per cent washable by hand or machine. Or, they are completely dry-cleanable.

Buy beauty, comfort and savings in these ready-made draperies with the custom-made look. Use the handy chart for the sizes you want. Bring in the measurements and make every window a winner in your home!

HERE ARE 9 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY A HOOVER SPIN-DRYING WASHER

THIS PORTABLE

ROLLS ON LARGE CASTERS

Large easy rolling casters let the HOOVER move about with complete ease. Store it in one place... use it in another.

WASHES A FAMILY SIZE LOAD

FAMILY-SIZE LOADS

2 Double Sheets plus pillow cases, or 36 diapers, or 12 men's shirts. Washes even the most delicate things.

SO THOROUGHLY YOU'LL HARDLY BELIEVE IT

TURBO-ACTION AGITATION

The unique HOOVER energy disk, located on the back of the washer tub, actually surges water through the clothes. This remarkable wash action gets clothes really clean.

SAVES UP TO 200 GALLONS OF WATER

100 GALLONS

SAVES $$ ON WATER

Uses only 1/3 the amount of water that most automatics use. Saves up to 100 gallons every 3 loads.

WITH 1/3 CUP OF DETERGENT

SAVES $$ ON DETERGENT

The washing action is so efficient, it needs less detergent than the agitator or tumbler-type washer. It has a SUDS-SAVER, too!

IN 4 MINUTES

WASHES FAST

The HOOVER washes a full load of laundry in four minutes or less, in a gleaming lifetime stainless steel washtub.

RINSES AND SPINS DRY IN 2 MINUTES

DRIES IN SECONDS

The clothes are spun at the amazing speed of 2,000 RPM, this enables the washer to extract soap or detergents that can't be rinsed out. Laundry comes out really damp-dry.

Car Crushes Area Youth

WEIRTON — A Requiem High Mass will be held Wednesday for a 20 - year - old Weirton youth who was found Sunday morning beneath an auto which apparently had slipped from cement block supports and crushed him.

Ronald David Bonacci, son of Joseph Bonacci Sr. and Isabelle Tesack Bonacci of 276 Putnam Ln., was found Sunday about 10 by his parents in a lot adjacent to his home after he failed to appear for breakfast.

The family said the youth had told them he was going out Saturday night, but he apparently stopped to work on the 1953 Chevrolet which was mounted on cement blocks.

Bonacci was pronounced dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital Sunday at 10:30 a.m. by Hancock County Coroner John D. Herron. Herron, who set the time of death at Saturday about 5:30 p.m., attributed the death to chest injuries.

In addition to his parents, survivors include a brother, Joseph Bonacci Jr. of Weirton; two sisters, Mrs. Herman (Jo Anne) Bane of Wintersville, and Mrs. Charles (Donna) Gilroy of Lima, and the maternal grandfather, Frank Hans of Weirton.

The mass will be Wednesday at 9 a. m. at St. Joseph the Worker Church, with Fr. James Altmeyer as celebrant. Burial will follow in the cemetery at Paris, Pa.

Friends may call at the Bellanco Funeral Home in Weirton today from 7 to 9 p. m. and Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Fatality

southbound car driven by James T. Criss Jr., 23, of 220 Lee Ave., which collided with a northbound car operated by Mrs. Rose Chestnut, 44, of Lisbon RD 3. She received lacerations and contusions.

A ruling on the death will be made by Dr. David Belinky, Mahoning County coroner, following an autopsy.

It was Columbiana County's fourth traffic fatality of the year.

Mr. Hutcheson was born here Jan. 16, 1945, a son of Charles Elmer Hutcheson Jr. and Naomi Thomas.

Besides his parents, he leaves three sisters, Victoria, Deborah and Kimberly, and two brothers, Robert and Dennis, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutcheson Sr. of Lisbon and Mrs. Blanche Thomas of Rochester, Pa.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home, with the Rev. Paul Haney of the First Christian Church officiating. Burial will be in Cresthaven Memorial Gardens on Route 7 near Rogers.

Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Tuesday at the funeral home.

"Athlete Foot" Is A Misnomer

A common Myth about ATHLETE FOOT (DERMATOPHITOSIS) is that it is a "contagious disease of the feet" . . . "picked up in Gyms and Swimming Pools at Summertime."

The term implies that somehow Athletes or feet are involved with this disease . . . However, it is caused by a fungus (mushroom) which thrives on any part of the body that is Warm, Dark, and Moist — armpits, groin, between - the - toes, etc. . . .

Contrary to popular belief, it is a year-round infection, and "contagion" can be prevented by keeping clean and dry those areas most suited to fungus growth.

The cars for people who believe that style never goes out of style.

When the conversation turns to cars, a Cadillac owner is seldom asked the model and year of the one he drives. The fact that he drives the car of cars is sufficient. For a Cadillac, regardless of its year, is the most universally desired of all motor cars.

This is because the beauty, craftsmanship, luxury and performance inherent in a Cadillac never go out of style. A case in point is the 1966 model shown above. Its Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, variable-ratio power steering and other refinements have only recently become available on some lesser cars.

A great many late-model, previously-owned Cadillacs also have a Tilt and Telescope steering wheel and Automatic Climate Control. For a richly rewarding investment in motoring pleasure, see your authorized Cadillac dealer's attractive selection of new and previously-owned Cadillacs today.

southbound car driven by James T. Criss Jr., 23, of 220 Lee Ave., which collided with a northbound car operated by Mrs. Rose Chestnut, 44, of Lisbon RD 3. She received lacerations and contusions.

A ruling on the death will be made by Dr. David Belinky, Mahoning County coroner, following an autopsy.

It was Columbiana County's fourth traffic fatality of the year.

Mr. Hutcheson was born here Jan. 16, 1945, a son of Charles Elmer Hutcheson Jr. and Naomi Thomas.

Besides his parents, he leaves three sisters, Victoria, Deborah and Kimberly, and two brothers, Robert and Dennis, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hutcheson Sr. of Lisbon and Mrs. Blanche Thomas of Rochester, Pa.

Services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home, with the Rev. Paul Haney of the First Christian Church officiating. Burial will be in Cresthaven Memorial Gardens on Route 7 near Rogers.

Friends may call from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Tuesday at the funeral home.

Car Crushes Area Youth

WEIRTON — A Requiem High Mass will be held Wednesday for a 20 - year - old Weirton youth who was found Sunday morning beneath an auto which apparently had slipped from cement block supports and crushed him.

Ronald David Bonacci, son of Joseph Bonacci Sr. and Isabelle Tesack Bonacci of 276 Putnam Ln., was found Sunday about 10 by his parents in a lot adjacent to his home after he failed to appear for breakfast.

The family said the youth had told them he was going out Saturday night, but he apparently stopped to work on the 1953 Chevrolet which was mounted on cement blocks.

Bonacci was pronounced dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital Sunday at 10:30 a.m. by Hancock County Coroner John D. Herron. Herron, who set the time of death at Saturday about 5:30 p.m., attributed the death to chest injuries.

In addition to his parents, survivors include a brother, Joseph Bonacci Jr. of Weirton; two sisters, Mrs. Herman (Jo Anne) Bane of Wintersville, and Mrs. Charles (Donna) Gilroy of Lima, and the maternal grandfather, Frank Hans of Weirton.

The mass will be Wednesday at 9 a. m. at St. Joseph the Worker Church, with Fr. James Altmeyer as celebrant. Burial will follow in the cemetery at Paris, Pa.

Friends may call at the Belanco Funeral Home in Weirton today from 7 to 9 p. m. and Tuesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

"Athlete Foot" Is A Misnomer
A common Myth about ATHLETE FOOT (DERMATOPHITOSIS) is that it is a "contagious disease of the feet" . . . "picked up in Gyms and Swimming Pools at Summertime."
The term implies that somehow Athletes or feet are involved with this disease . . . However, it is caused by a fungus (mushroom) which thrives on any part of the body that is Warm, Dark, and Moist — armpits, groin, between - the - toes, etc. . . .
Contrary to popular belief, it is a year-round infection, and "contagion" can be prevented by keeping clean and dry those areas most suited to fungus growth.

When the conversation turns to cars, a Cadillac owner is seldom asked the model and year of the one he drives. The fact that he drives the car of cars is sufficient. For a Cadillac, regardless of its year, is the most universally desired of all motor cars.
This is because the beauty, craftsmanship, luxury and performance inherent in a Cadillac never go out of style. A case in point is the 1966 model shown above. Its Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, variable-ratio power steering and other refinements have only recently become available on some lesser cars.

Six-Inch-Deep Pollution

A faulty valve far below the ocean floor in the Santa Barbara Channel is oiling congressional machinery that must be put into motion to guard against pollution from offshore oil drilling operations.

Unfortunately oil from that same valve is polluting the water in the area, fouling beaches and boats and killing wildlife.

Santa Barbara is a resort city 90 miles northwest of Los Angeles. Today its famous beach area is a black mess. Winds have whipped up to six inches of the black goo into shore.

CLEAN-UP OPERATIONS are under way along the beaches and in the harbor as Union Oil Co. crews work to check the 21,000-gallon-a-day flow.

The sickening sight of crude oil creeping onto the beautiful Southern California coast has started some activity at the federal level to head off other such occurrences.

An emergency board set up by the Department of the Interior has ordered more frequent testing of blow-out prevention devices; more rigid drilling procedures and installation of additional casings where needed.

This is just the beginning.

The federal government has the responsibility and the power to regulate offshore drilling. As a matter of fact, the government is a partner in the current drilling operation that has brought so much grief to Southern California. Major oil companies paid $600 million to the government for drilling rights and agreed to pay royalties on any oil discovered.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine is trying, through the Senate Subcommittee on Water and Air Pollution, to get congressional action on new regulatory legislation.

The subcommittee is holding hearings on stiff antipollution proposals that include the authority to charge clean-up costs of up to $15 million against anyone who negligently discharges oil into water; provide a $5,000 penalty, a year in jail, or both, for anyone knowingly discharging a substantial amount of oil into water and failing to notify the secretary of the interior so that clean-up action could be taken. The penalties would apply to pollution from ships or offshore drilling and dock facilities.

SEN. MUSKIE observed that Congress acts quickly with authority in pollution matters only when a crisis of sorts occurs. People in Santa Barbara consider the present situation a crisis.

It is estimated that in two decades 25 per cent of all oil production will come from offshore installations. There can be no excuse for inadequate regulatory measures to curb abuse and prevent disastrous accidents in this growing industry.

Warning Won't Work

Arrest of a Chester woman by Ohioville police for dumping refuse along Beaver Creek should serve as a new deterrent against the disgusting practice of tossing trash and garbage in that area.

Warnings from health officials and law officers seem to have little effect on such violators, and they continue to insult the laws of man and nature by adding to noisome dumps which draw rodents, pollute air and water and mar what could be lovely woodland.

Warnings won't work. Arrest and punishment will. This is the only way for policemen, deputies and constables to meet a growing problem that demands attention here and across the nation.

Tossing trash out of a car window must not be allowed to serve as the cheapest way of disposal. It is the most costly way for the community, and it must be made the most costly for the culprit.

A Part Of U.S. History

There must be moments in the mind of Petty Officer 2C Tony Lamantia when he solemnly considers his role of a Navy technician which has thrust him into the international spotlight.

The dark-eyed, unassuming Toronto sailor and his 70 fellow crewmen of the USS Pueblo have become a chapter in the ever-changing world stature of this nation.

Seizure of the spy ship by North Korea a year ago has reportedly cost the U.S. prestige, revealed internal Navy problems of serious scope, and opened new thinking about the code of conduct of a prisoner of war in an era of scientific mental and physical brutality.

Tony's ordeal and those of his fellow prisoners and their families will not be forgotten in a lifetime, nor in the annals of this nation.

The Pueblo incident has served to open the eyes of Americans to their own strengths and shortcomings, to the harsh realities of force. It has been a valuable warning, without the disastrous consequences of Pearl Harbor, of the need for preparedness and military coordination, a revelation which will be beneficial in the years ahead.

We should be appreciative that the Pueblo crew has returned, and has provided lessons which will help change policies that shape the nation's history of which these men are now a part.

If Winter Comes . . .

Kites were flying over the West End Saturday, and a Lisbon area woman discovered a hopeful grasshopper near her home last week.

Signs of spring? Sap is flowing in the maples in the western part of the country, but that doesn't mean the trees are about to burst into leaf.

A New Yorker who bought paint for his sailboat Friday skiied to work this morning. If winter comes, can spring be far behind? No — if winter comes. Keep that snow shovel handy, Henry!

Crime and U.S. Policy

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The crime problem in Washington, as everyone knows by now, is serious. And everyone is worried about it because it could have an effect on the national policies of the country. It's very difficult for people to make decisions on the affairs of state when they are living in an atmosphere of apprehension and anxiety.

Art Buchwald

Let me explain what I mean.

The other day I was getting a briefing on America's defense posture from my good friend, Gen. A. B. Em at the Pentagon.

"The United States has never been stronger, in spite of everything you read," Gen. JEm told me. "We've got hardware in every part of the globe and, while we're not looking for trouble, I assure you that there isn't a nation in the world, including you-know-who, who would mess with us. But, of course, our real business is peace."

"IT'S GOOD TO TALK to someone who is neither a 'dove' nor a 'hawk'," I said.

"Without giving away any secret information, our missile sites right here in the continental United States could knock out anything the othtr side could send over."

An aide walked in. "I'm sorry to bother you, sir, but your car has been stolen."

"My car!"

"Yes, sir. Right off the Pentagon parking lot."

"Of all the nerve," the general shouted. He put on his coat and said to me, "I'm sorry I have to break this up." And then to his aide, "Let's go ahead with the bombing raid on the DMZ. And double the bomb loads."

I wandered over to State to see if I could talk a friend on the Middle East desk into having lunch. He was wrestling with the tricky situation out there. "It's our policy to find a peaceful solution to this problem, making sure that neither the Arabs nor the Israelis feel they've won anything. But at the same time we must calm the fears of both parties and urge them to reconcile their differences."

JUST THEN HIS SECRETARY came in. "It's hour wife on the phone." He picked it up. "Hello . . . What do you mean someone broke into the house? They took everything? the windows . . . Will you calm down? . . . Yes, I'm coming home right away." He slammed down the phone.

"What about the position paper you were going to do on the crisis?" his secretary asked.

My friend was heading for the door. "The hell with the position paper. The Arabs and Israelis can kill themselves for all I care." And he walked out, slamming the door.

I had nothing better to do, so I decided to look up a pal at tht Department of Housing and Urban Development. He was just going over plans for a large housing project for one of the major cities. "What we have to do is give people decent housing," he said.

"Once we can improve the environment, we will be able to deal with the problems of the underprivileged and disenfranchised. Now this model program, if it works, could be repeated in every part of the country and . . ."

"Mr. Bostitch." A uniformed guard rushed in. "They just robbed the employes credit union downstairs and took $20,000."

"THAT DOES IT!" said Bostitch as he tore up the plans into little pieces. "No more Mr. Nice Guy."

I was about to go back to my office when I ran into a judge. "We must get to the root of crime and eradicate the causes of it," he said as we walked back to his court. "Punishing people is not a solution for the long haul." In his chambers he said to his clerk, "Where's my robe?"

"Somone stole it during lunch."

Red-faced, the judge took his seat on the bench in his regular suit, and before the defense attorney could even make his plea in the first case, the judge slammed down his gavel and said, "Twenty years."

'Let's Find More Comfortable Seats And Talk This Over!'

VICTOR RIESEL

The Black Offensive Rolls

NEW YORK — A major, sprawling black offensive is rolling all along the labor front. It is quiet. It is massive. It seeps unnoticed, unusually, out of the nation's ghetto lands.

In the hearts of a network of cities, the strategists and leaders of this offensive are setting up black unions, black hiring halls and declaring war on the big AFL-CIO.

Victor Riesel

From Boston and Baltimore, from San Francisco and Los Angeles, the offensive sometimes rolls, sometimes darts inland. From the industrial complexes of Chicago and Detroit, it moves southward.

Its leaders are of many kinds and philosophies — bound together only by the unity of enmity toward the predominately white labor "establishment," be it the AFL-CIO, the United Auto Workers, the Teamsters or the miners.

On the Boston front, centered in Roxbury, the offensive spurts out of the new United Community Construction Workers, headquartered in an Urban League office. It reaches into 22 trades in defiance of traditional organized labor.

IN CHICAGO, the drive was launched by the Black Labor Federation. In Detroit, by the extremist Revolutionary Union Movement, which fronts its name with the initial of the auto company it's assaulting—such as FRUM for Ford Revolutionary Union Movement, or DRUM for Dodge plants.

On the Pacific Coast, led by CORE's Western Vice President Ben Howard, small units of the Black Workers Alliance, work closely with the National Right to Work Committee.

All this has alerted, more than alarmed, the labor movement, which has some 2 million black members. And among those who want a counteroffensive is labor's first angry man, big Joe Curran, President of the National Maritime Union, (NMV).

When Joe Curran isn't pounding some shipping president's desk as once he pounded Joseph P. Kennedy's, he's knocking at the portals of closed-door sessions of labor's high command, usually from the inside.

The other day, while preparing to fly—hijacks or no hijacks—to labor's Feb. 17, summit conference in Bal Harbour, Fla., Curran got off a letter to his national president, George Meany, demanding that time he earmarked for discussion of the black offensive.

JOE CURRAN WANTS the time used to discuss and then authorize a new, full-time AFL-CIO department to battle the extremists and win back the vast rank and file of black workers now being organized and wooed by militants in virtually every major city, even perhaps in most of the giant mills and plants of the land.

Curran, himself an AFL-CIO vice president, first outlined the divisiveness of the national black offensive against organized labor. Some leaders of the attacks he characterized as splitters and some as crackpots.

"I am sure you are aware of the problem and agree that it calls for action, Curran wrote in his characteristic growling style to Mr. Meany. "I believe it is important that we do not let ourselves be put entirely on the defensive.

"I think we need full-scale, full-time machinery to coordinate an aggressive program by the labor movement in the whole area pointed up by the Black Workers Alliance.

"I BELIEVE IT CALLS for the establishment of a new department which would have responsibility to 1:. enforce the basic AFL-CIO principle of nondiscrimination wherever necessary among our affiliates, and 2. coordinate an AFL-CIO drive against all attacks aimed at dividing workers on the basis of race, religion or nationality in whatever form and from whatever source such attacks may come."

What Joe Curran wants is a department which would negate and refute in action the charges of black construction workers, transit hands, teachers, cops, auto assembly line men, among others, who charge they are discriminated against by tens of thousands of AFL-CIO locals.

He wants the charges refuted if possible, or the local unions opened—as is his maritime organization—to black workers.

At the same time, he wants to battle the National Right To Work (open shop) Committee, the Black Panthers, the SDS youth forays, the old left as well as the new, the extremists who are characterized as "racists" in Detroit. He wants to bring in the scores of ghetto units—and he wants a confrontation with the labor officials of CORE and the Urban League who give money and morale to the openly competitive movements.

One thing is certain—the confrontation is coming, whether or not the labor leaders take Joe Curran's advice. There are new desk-pounders now—and they just don't like the establishment, whether or not it meets them halfway.

Timely Quotes

"If we create today traditions of spying on people when they do not know it, it may not be too far distant when a person can hardly think, much less speak his mind, to any other person without fear of choice or someone else knowing his thoughts or words.

—Ramsey Clark, outgoing U.S. attorney general, on wiretapping.

Berry's World

"The big trouble with war in the Middle East is before you can 'deplore' it — it's likely to be over!"

DAVID LAWRENCE

Eternal Bureaucracy

LOS ANGELES — President Nixon's visits to the various federal departments and his little speeches to workers employed in the countless offices bordering on the endless corridors were something more than routine matters. As an old Washington hand, he realizes well that if he is to succeed he must be known and be seen by those workers.

If possible, he must be admired or at least respected. For the bureaucracy can mar if not unmake any administration. Presidents come and go but the bureaucracy has eternal life.

But this president can never know or even see all of the three million civilian employes who are working for him. Some — a great many — live and work in the District of Columbia and its environs, a multitude is scattered in the states and more than ever are abroad. They are collectively the bureaucracy and their number has grown prodigiously in the past few years.

WHEN FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT was inaugurated, there were 603,000 civilian employes. In 1940, the New Deal had increased the number to 1.042 million. The war years added two million. Under the Truman, regime the number fell to 2.558 million. And while President Eisenhower tried hard to cut back, he only succeeded in reducing the number by less than 200,000.

When President Kennedy took over, there were 2.398 million. But during the eight years that followed, the number increased nearly twice as fast as it did in the first eight Roosevelt years.

These people toil and they spin and try to follow often confusing orders. They get little note in the vast flow of news from Washington. Their prosaic labors are overshadowed by the president and his official and personal famly.

The heads of the big departments get their pictures printed everywhere. And talk of issues and new programs blacks out the people who must, in their own favorite word, "implement" these congressional and presidential directives.

They really know little more of what goes on at the top than we do out here in private life.

This administration is new only in the fact that a few people have been skimmed off the top and others have taken their places. So far as you and I are concerned our contacts with the government we call ours, and which we pay for, are the same.

One of the new group of academic men who have taken office in the new administration said after he had tasted a few days of life in the bureaucracy: "The more things change, the more they remain the same," which freely interpreted means that the new Nixon people are only the front window. The people in charge of the store are the same as before.

And that is an inexorable fact. Someone must send you your Social Security check every month. Someone must send the farmer his subsidy and someone must send or give a food stamp to someone who is hungry and needs something to eat. And, of course, someone must dun you for your next income tax payment.

In the interregnum that followed the election, the Nixon people made heroic efforts to get people to fill the few jobs which lie outside civil service. Once Nixon sent letters to thousands of people selected from "Who's Who," asking for the names of suitable people. This operation produced little. Many who received these letters thought it was a practical joke.

And so the new regime started with only about 100 new people in rather high-level jobs — 100 chiefs and three million Indians.

Balzac, in one of his brilliant flashes of understanding about the French government after Napoleon, said of the bureaucracy: "That ponderous curtain that is set between the good that needs to be done and the man who can command it."

BUT IN OUR COUNTRY and in our time, can "that man" really command it?

In other transitions and under other new presidents there were numerous instances in which a president has taken a personal interest in placing someone in an obscure corner of the bureaucray. He has even written a personal note about it.

But someone far down those endless orridors found a reason in the law or in the budget why it could not be done. And the expected beneficiary went his way and the busy president forgot all about it.

We cannot live without this bureaucracy. It is the president and his department heads' problem to learn to live with it. To say that a new administration is in control is to speak in relative terms.

The Pueblo incident has served to open the eyes of Americans to their own strengths and shortcomings, to the harsh realities of force. It has been a valuable warning, without the disastrous consequences of Pearl Harbor, of the need for preparedness and military coordination, a revelation which will be beneficial in the years ahead.

We should be appreciative that the Pueblo crew has returned, and has provided lessons which will help change policies that shape the nation's history of which these men are now a part.

If Winter Comes . . .

Kites were flying over the West End Saturday, and a Lisbon area woman discovered a hopeful grasshopper near her home last week.

Signs of spring? Sap is flowing in the maples in the western part of the country, but that doesn't mean the trees are about to burst into leaf.

A New Yorker who bought paint for his sailboat Friday skiied to work this morning. If winter comes, can spring be far behind? No — if winter comes. Keep that snow shovel handy, Henry!

Crime and U.S. Policy

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The crime problem in Washington, as everyone knows by now, is serious. And everyone is worried about it because it could have an effect on the national policies of the country. It's very difficult for people to make decisions on the affairs of state when they are living in an atmosphere of apprehension and anxiety.

Art Buchwald

Let me explain what I mean.

The other day I was getting a briefing on America's defense posture from my good friend, Gen. A. B. Em at the Pentagon.

"The United States has never been stronger, in spite of everything you read," Gen. JEm told me. "We've got hardware in every part of the globe and, while we're not looking for trouble, I assure you that there isn't a nation in the world, including you-know-who, who would mess with us. But, of course, our real business is peace."

"IT'S GOOD TO TALK to someone who is neither a 'dove' nor a 'hawk'," I said.

"Without giving away any secret information, our missile sites right here in the continental United States could knock out anything the othtr side could send over."

An aide walked in. "I'm sorry to bother you, sir, but your car has been stolen."

"My car!"

"Yes, sir. Right off the Pentagon parking lot."

"Of all the nerve," the general shouted. He put on his coat and said to me, "I'm sorry I have to break this up." And then to his aide, "Let's go ahead with the bombing raid on the DMZ. And double the bomb loads."

I wandered over to State to see if I could talk a friend on the Middle East desk into having lunch. He was wrestling with the tricky situation out there. "It's our policy to find a peaceful solution to this problem, making sure that neither the Arabs nor the Israelis feel they've won anything. But at the same time we must calm the fears of both parties and urge them to reconcile their differences."

JUST THEN HIS SECRETARY came in. "It's hour wife on the phone." He picked it up. "Hello . . . What do you mean someone broke into the house? They took everything? . . . I know you wanted me to put bars on the windows . . . Will you calm down? . . . Yes, I'm coming home right away." He slammed down the phone.

"What about the position paper you were going to do on the crisis?" his secretary asked.

My friend was heading for the door. "The hell with the position paper. The Arabs and Israelis can kill themselves for all I care." And he walked out, slamming the door.

I had nothing better to do, so I decided to look up a pal at tht Department of Housing and Urban Development. He was just going over plans for a large housing project for one of the major cities. "What we have to do is give people decent housing," he said.

"Once we can improve the environment, we will be able to deal with the problems of the underprivileged and disenfranchised. Now this model program, if it works, could be repeated in every part of the country and . . ."

"Mr. Bostitch." A uniformed guard rushed in. "They just robbed the employes credit union downstairs and took $20,000."

"THAT DOES IT!" said Bostitch as he tore up the plans into little pieces. "No more Mr. Nice Guy."

I was about to go back to my office when I ran into a judge. "We must get to the root of crime and eradicate the causes of it," he said as we walked back to his court. "Punishing people is not a solution for the long haul." In his chambers he said to his clerk, "Where's my robe?"

"Somone stole it during lunch."

Red-faced, the judge took his seat on the bench in his regular suit, and before the defense attorney could even make his plea in the first case, the judge slammed down his gavel and said, "Twenty years."

'Let's Find More Comfortable Seats And Talk This Over!'

VICTOR RIESEL

The Black Offensive Rolls

NEW YORK — A major, sprawling black offensive is rolling all along the labor front. It is quiet. It is massive. It seeps unnoticed, unusually, out of the nation's ghetto lands.

In the hearts of a network of cities, the strategists and leaders of this offensive are setting up black unions, black hiring halls and declaring war on the big AFL-CIO.

Victor Riesel

From Boston and Baltimore, from San Francisco and Los Angeles, the offensive sometimes rolls, sometimes darts inland. From the industrial complexes of Chicago and Detroit, it moves southward.

Its leaders are of many kinds and philosophies — bound together only by the unity of enmity toward the predominately white labor "establishment," be it the AFL-CIO, the United Auto Workers, the Teamsters or the miners.

On the Boston front, centered in Roxbury, the offensive spurts out of the new United Community Construction Workers, headquartered in an Urban League office. It reaches into 22 trades in defiance of traditional organized labor.

IN CHICAGO, the drive was launched by the Black Labor Federation. In Detroit, by the extremist Revolutionary Union Movement, which fronts its name with the initial of the auto company it's assaulting—such as FRUM for Ford Revolutionary Union Movement, or DRUM for Dodge plants.

On the Pacific Coast, led by CORE's Western Vice President Ben Howard, small units of the Black Workers Alliance, work closely with the National Right to Work Committee.

All this has alerted, more than alarmed, the labor movement, which has some 2 million black members. And among those who want a counteroffensive is labor's first angry man, big Joe Curran, President of the National Maritime Union, (NMV).

When Joe Curran isn't pounding some shipping president's desk as once he pounded Joseph P. Kennedy's, he's knocking at the portals of closed-door sessions of labor's high command, usually from the inside.

The other day, while preparing to fly—hijacks or no hijacks—to labor's Feb. 17, summit conference in Bal Harbour, Fla., Curran got off a letter to his national president, George Meany, demanding that time he earmarked for discussion of the black offensive.

JOE CURRAN WANTS the time used to discuss and then authorize a new, full-time AFL-CIO department to battle the extremists and win back the vast rank and file of black workers now being organized and wooed by militants in virtually every major city, even perhaps in most of the giant mills and plants of the land.

Curran, himself an AFL-CIO vice president, first outlined the divisiveness of the national black offensive against organized labor. Some leaders of the attacks he characterized as splitters and some as crackpots.

"I am sure you are aware of the problem and agree that it calls for action, Curran wrote in his characteristic growling style to Mr. Meany. "I believe it is important that we do not let ourselves be put entirely on the defensive.

"I think we need full-scale, full-time machinery to coordinate an aggressive program by the labor movement in the whole area pointed up by the Black Workers Alliance.

"I BELIEVE IT CALLS for the establishment of a new department which would have responsibility to 1:. enforce the basic AFL-CIO principle of nondiscrimination wherever necessary among our affiliates, and 2. coordinate an AFL-CIO drive against all attacks aimed at dividing workers on the basis of race, religion or nationality in whatever form and from whatever source such attacks may come."

What Joe Curran wants is a department which would negate and refute in action the charges of black construction workers, transit hands, teachers, cops, auto assembly line men, among others, who charge they are discriminated against by tens of thousands of AFL-CIO locals.

He wants the charges refuted if possible, or the local unions opened—as is his maritime organization—to black workers.

At the same time, he wants to battle the National Right To Work (open shop) Committee, the Black Panthers, the SDS youth forays, the old left as well as the new, the extremists who are characterized as "racists" in Detroit. He wants to bring in the scores of ghetto units—and he wants a confrontation with the labor officials of CORE and the Urban League who give money and morale to the openly competitive movements.

One thing is certain—the confrontation is coming, whether or not the labor leaders take Joe Curran's advice. There are new desk-pounders now—and they just don't like the establishment, whether or not it meets them halfway.

Eternal Bureaucracy

LOS ANGELES — President Nixon's visits to the various federal departments and his little speeches to workers employed in the countless offices bordering on the endless corridors were something more than routine matters. As an old Washington hand, he realizes well that if he is to succeed he must be known and be seen by those workers.

If possible, he must be admired or at least respected. For the bureaucracy can mar if not unmake any administration. Presidents come and go but the bureaucracy has eternal life.

But this president can never know or even see all of the three million civilian employes who are working for him. Some — a great many — live and work in the District of Columbia and its environs, a multitude is scattered in the states and more than ever are abroad. They are collectively the bureaucracy and their number has grown prodigiously in the past few years.

WHEN FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT was inaugurated, there were 603,000 civilian employes. In 1940, the New Deal had increased the number to 1.042 million. The war years added two million. Under the Truman, regime the number fell to 2.558 million. And while President Eisenhower tried hard to cut back, he only succeeded in reducing the number by less than 200,000.

When President Kennedy took over, there were 2.398 million. But during the eight years that followed, the number increased nearly twice as fast as it did in the first eight Roosevelt years.

These people toil and they spin and try to follow often confusing orders. They get little note in the vast flow of news from Washington. Their prosaic labors are overshadowed by the president and his official and personal famly.

The heads of the big departments get their pictures printed everywhere. And talk of issues and new programs blacks out the people who must, in their own favorite word, "implement" these congressional and presidential directives.

They really know little more of what goes on at the top than we do out here in private life.

This administration is new only in the fact that a few people have been skimmed off the top and others have taken their places. So far as you and I are concerned our contacts with the government we call ours, and which we pay for, are the same.

One of the new group of academic men who have taken office in the new administration said after he had tasted a few days of life in the bureaucracy: "The more things change, the more they remain the same," which freely interpreted means that the new Nixon people are only the front window. The people in charge of the store are the same as before.

And that is an inexorable fact. Someone must send you your Social Security check every month. Someone must send the farmer his subsidy and someone must send or give a food stamp to someone who is hungry and needs something to eat. And, of course, someone must dun you for your next income tax payment.

In the interregnum that followed the election, the Nixon people made heroic efforts to get people to fill the few jobs which lie outside civil service. Once Nixon sent letters to thousands of people selected from "Who's Who," asking for the names of suitable people. This operation produced little. Many who received these letters thought it was a practical joke.

And so the new regime started with only about 100 new people in rather high-level jobs — 100 chiefs and three million Indians.

Balzac, in one of his brilliant flashes of understanding about the French government after Napoleon, said of the bureaucracy: "That ponderous curtain that is set between the good that needs to be done and the man who can command it."

BUT IN OUR COUNTRY and in our time, can "that man" really command it?

In other transitions and under other new presidents there were numerous instances in which a president has taken a personal interest in placing someone in an obscure corner of the bureaucray. He has even written a personal note about it.

But someone far down those endless orridors found a reason in the law or in the budget why it could not be done. And the expected beneficiary went his way and the busy president forgot all about it.

We cannot live without this bureaucracy. It is the president and his department heads' problem to learn to live with it. To say that a new administration is in control is to speak in relative terms.

Italian Rap At Moscow Hints Krush Era Impact

PARIS (AP) — The Italian Communist party's stinging slap at Moscow is another link in a chain of evidence suggesting that the Kremlin is feeling the delayed impact of the Khrushchev era and probably paying for its efforts to reverse it.

Meeting in Bologna, the West's biggest Communist party emphatically challenged Moscow's renewed claim to a monopoly of authority over the international Communist movement.

The Bologna rebellion threw the so-called Brezhnev Doctrine back into the teeth of the Soviet party's general secretary, Leonid I. Brezhnev. It could conceivably be a severely damaging blow to his prestige abroad and to his position at home.

What is going on now was begun by Nikita S. Khrushchev as far back as 1955, when he promised Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia that the Kremlin would honor Yugoslavia's right to develop Communism in its own way.

That, along with Khrushchev's 1956 speech dethroning the dead Stalin from his demigod status, began a process which Khrushchev's successors have been unable to halt.

Recently President Tito met with Nicolae Ceausescu, the Communist chief of Romania, whose party also has been asserting its right to develop internally as it wants. The two mavericks disputed Moscow's right to occupy and dictate to Czechoslovakia.

Now the Italian party has denounced the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia to wild applause of its congress delegates, causing Soviet observers to walk out.

This should stiffen the resolve of the Yugoslavs and Romanians. It can also have strong repuercussions in Czechoslovakia, whose Communist regime already is having considerable trouble convincing the country to toe the Soviet line.

The Italian party's stand is likely to find an echo in a score of other parties at a most awkward time for Moscow. The Soviet party is trying to arrange an international Communist meeting for May to demonstrate that the movement is united and listens to Moscow.

All this can lead to a quarrel among the Soviet leadership regarding who is to blame. The blame could easily fall on Brezhnev.

Brezhnev issued his "doctrine" on Sept. 26, holding that Communists must regard international and national law as "subordinate to the laws of class struggle and social development." Communist-ruled states, it held, have only limited sovereignty which ends when Moscow decides any internal development threatens party authority.

The Romanians and Yugoslavs, and now the Italians, reject this. Other parties find it embarrassing, since it asserts in effect that any country ruled by Communists must be a Soviet satellite.

Signs of frustration in Moscow are plentiful. Pravda fumes about "so-called liberalization" and "false slogans of Socialist humanitarianism." The Soviet press hints that the international meeting in May could bring a restoration of the concept of the Communist International, which before World War II exacted obedience to Moscow from all the world's Red parties.

The Soviet party was divided on the invasion of Czechoslovakia, according to all the signs. The indications are that the leadership remains divided. Should the leaders become involved in a test between the tough-liners and moderates to assess the blame for what has happened, it could lead to some spectacular political fireworks.

In Recess Until Feb. 17

Faster Pace Not Likely When Congress Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, its early weeks marked by general inactivity, is off on its first lengthy recess and there is little expectation the pace will quicken when the lawmakers return Feb. 17.

Although leaders expect President Nixon to make some budget recommendations and a few other legislative proposals in the next few weeks, Congress isn't expected to really get rolling until after the Easter recess in April.

The slow start is normal for a new Congress, particularly when there has been a change in presidential administrations.

Only two major laws have been enacted since Congress convened on Jan. 3. Most of the intervening time was spent on such organization details as selecting committees and getting them operational.

The first law hiked the salary of President Nixon, from $100,000 to $200,000 a year. The second provided $36 million in emergency financing for unemployment compensation payments to veterans and former government employes.

The pay boost for members of Congress, raising them from $30,000 to $42,500 a year, required no affirmative action. It was recommended by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and endorsed by President Nixon and included even bigger raises for some top government executives and judges.

The law under which Johnson recommended the raises makes them effective within 30 days unless either the Senate or the House objected.

The Senate defeated a veto by vote of 47 to 34. The House didn't even consider a veto resolution.

Congressional leaders did try to get some other movement before the senators and representatives broke Friday for the traditional Lincoln's birthday vacation.

They pressured committee chairmen to get a start on legislation slated for early consideration and hearings were started on bills dealing with education, airplane hijacking and election law changes.

Still, the calendars for both chambers are bare for the return to work and, with the exception of Senate consideration of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, there won't be much major floor work to do for another six weeks or so.

The slow opening and the expected volume of proposed bills has congressional leaders resigned to a long session. They already have announced plans for the customary recesses in addition to something new—a month off in late August and early September.

There is talk about adjournment late in October.

But there also is talk about how long the Thanksgiving Day recess will be.

Election Slated By Midland Area Women's Group

Officers will be elected during the March 12 meeting of the Midland Area Junior Women's Club.

Mrs. Louis Hallett reported on the distribution of clothing to needy children in the Midland Elementary Schools at the board meeting Wednesday. The clothing was donated by club members.

Mrs. Edward Richards reported a donation was made to the Auxiliary of American Legion Post 481 for use in its hospital equipment project. Club members will tour the Castleton China Co. at New Castle April 22. A rummage sale will be held April 14 and 15.

A thank-you note for help in packing "ditty bags" for servicemen in Vietnam was read from the Beaver County Red Cross. The group will collect paperback books for the Red Cross to send overseas.

Mrs. Phyllis Vesco was appointed chairman of the club's booth in Lincoln Park on the Fourth of July. Mrs. Michael Radeschi and Mrs. Vincent Monaco are co-chairmen of the float.

The club will participate in a state project, "White House Conference Discussion Groups," in which two club members and eight community members will meet with students of the high school for discussions. Mrs. James Vesco and Mrs. Fran Francis will represent the club.

The members will tour Allencrest Detention Home Tuesday. Ralph Lentz will speak on "Crime Prevention." Mrs. Ronald Gailey conducted the meeting.

Toronto Motorist Treated After Two Autos Collide

A Toronto man was treated at St. John's Hospital, Steubenville, Saturday about 6 p.m. for injuries received in a two-car accident on the Wellsville-East Liverpool Rd.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Howard J. Fisher, 43, of 1320 Sunnyside Ave., operating a 1966 sedan, and Ronald William Crouse, 34, of 410 S. 3rd St., Toronto, driving a 1960 sedan, were involved in the mishap at the intersection of the highway and Kountz Ave., near the Silver Switch.

Crouse was treated for chest, rib and arm injuries. Imbedded glass was removed from his forehead. He was treated and released.

Two East Liverpool motorists escaped injury in an accident on old Route 30, 237 feet west of Route 170, at 4:55 p.m. Saturday.

As Edward Hadfield, 72, of 627 Fisher Ave. was driving his 1968 sedan south on the Route 30 exit ramp, he halted for the stop sign, then started to make a left turn onto old 30.

His auto struck a 1958 coupe operated by Pamela S. Chisler, 20, of 923 W. 8th St., which was headed east.

Hadfield was cited for failing to yield the right-of-way at a stop sign.

A New Middleton man complained of injuries as the result of a truck-car accident on Route 165, but apparently was not treated.

The accident occurred a mile north of Route 14 when James Charles Norman, 55, of East Palestine, backed his 1956 pick-up truck onto Route 165 and it was struck by a 1964 auto operated by Robert R. Molnar, 17, of Poland who was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision.

Ted Koblan, a passenger in the Molnar vehicle, complained of injuries.

A Georgetown truck driver complained of injuries as the result of an accident on Route 7, but was not treated.

Donald L. Brewer, 34, was driving a tractor-trailer, when it went off the west side of the road into a ditch and rolled over, striking a utility pole.

The accident was timed at 9:45 p.m. Saturday just about a mile south of the Mahoning County line.

No one was injured in the two-car accident on Route 344, about a mile and a half east of Leetonia, Sunday at 4:35 p.m.

Mary E. Nentwick, 34, of RD 1, Y. & O. Rd., Wellsville, applied the brakes of the 1964 station wagon she was driving as she approached a snow-drifted curve and her auto slid left of center and collided with a 1959 sedan operated by Merle G. Davis, 54, of 426 Columbia St., Leetonia.

The Davis car went off the right side of the road.

Harold Aronson, Wife Killed In Florida Accident

Services and burial were held Sunday in Miami Beach, Fla., for a former East Liverpool lawyer and his wife, who were killed Friday on a freeway near Miami Beach.

They were en route to visit their son and daughter, who are students at the University of Florida in Gainesville.

Harold Aronson and his wife Muriel, who resided at 580 Lakeview Dr., Miami Beach, were killed when another car crossed over the median strip and hit their car.

Mr. Aronson left here in the late 40's for Cleveland, where he went into the construction business. He left Cleveland four years ago for Miami Beach, where he franchised machines for cleaning cars.

While here he was a lawyer with his brother, George Aronson, with the firm known as Aronson, Copperman and Aronson.

In addition to his son and daughter and brother, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anita Bluestone of Cleveland and Mrs. Marion Saperstein of Hawthorne, Calif.

In addition to her son and daughter, Mrs. Aronson leaves a sister and her mother of Miami.

The Social Notebook

Mrs. Grace Tice of 1st Ave. was hostess to McGaffic Memorial Class of the Boyce United Methodist Church Friday evening.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Arvesta Whealdon and prayer by Mrs. Glenna Hall.

Mrs. Hilda Ruhl, vice president, presided for business when a $10 contribution was authorized for the Seaman and the Moon Scholarship funds in India.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Tice, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Grace G. Foster.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Ways and means committees were appointed during the meeting of the Past Noble Grand Association and the Degree Staff Team of Ceramic Rebekah Lodge 286 Friday night at the home of Mrs. Margaret Datwyler on W. 6th St.

They include Mrs. Grace Frazier and Mrs. Louise Goppert for the association and Mrs. Margaret Radeschi and Mrs. Laura Mae Smith for the degree team.

Mrs. Eva Scott, president, conducted the association meeting, which opened poems by Mrs. Frazier and Mrs. Radeschi.

The group offered a donation to the Heart Fund in memory of the late Sadie Steele, a member.

Conducting the degree team session was Mrs. Gertrude McCall, president. Mrs. Smith reported on the Christmas party held at the Travelers Hotel.

There were 15 present, including Mrs. Anna Shingler, a guest.

The next meeting will be March 7 at the home of Mrs. Mary Jane Jennings of 1101 Avondale St., with Mrs. Radeschi and Mrs. Smith associate hostesses.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Gloria Abdou, director of customer relations for Foodland Supermarkets, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the East Liverpool Jaycee-ettes Tuesday at 9 p.m. at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

The program theme will be "Meat."

The program will be followed by a tour of Billingsley Foodland, where a buffet style lunch will be served.

The speaker was formerly a stage, radio and television personality in Pittsburgh and also director of women's activities for radio station WTAE.

Her presentation will be centered on the topic, "Your Stars and How They Effect Your Food Shopping."

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Jackie Fisher of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., was hostess to Priscilla Circle of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church Thursday when the Rev. Richard Shipley discussed "Interpreting the Bible."

During business conducted by Mrs. Fisher, leader, it was announced that on March 11 the group will present a program for the association meeting at the church. Mrs. Mary Elinor Thompson will screen slides of a trip to Guatemala with Miss Julia Barnhart, a missionary. Mrs. Dorothy Greenwood is program chairman.

The church will host the World Day of Prayer on March 7, with members of the Calcutta and Glenmoor United Presbyterian churches participating.

The members packed boxes for servicemen and college students recently at the church.

Mrs. Elda Lyons read from the Yearbook of Prayer and Mrs. JoAnn Fisher dedicated the least coin. Mrs. Barbara Dray assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

The next meeting will be March 6 at the home of Mrs. Letty Sachs of Cannons Mills Rd. Mrs. Marilyn Cowan will conduct the Bible study and Mrs. Sachs the mission study.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Twenty-seven attended the annual coverdish dinner meeting Friday of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Christian Church in Memorial Hall. Husbands of members were guests.

Dinner was served by a social committee headed by Mrs. Donald Bond. A Valentine theme featured the decorations. Mrs. Bond served as the leader of the mission topic, "Missions in India."

Mrs. Smith Culp gave a Scripture reading. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Robert Olson. Mrs. Charles Haney read a poem and a hymn was sung by Debbie, Diana, Dannie and Donald Olson.

Talks concerning the lesson topic were given by Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mrs. James Hartill, Mrs. Burrl Beaver and Mrs. Harry Shaw.

A dramatization of an orphanage in Kalpahar, India, was given by David Beaver, Mary Beth Chaney and the four Olson children.

The next meeting will be March 7 in the church.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Elmer Lowers of Newell screened color slides of missionary work in Colombia, South America, when the Golden Age Club of the Chester Area met Friday afternoon in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Her daughter, Miss Lois Lowers, is a missionary in Bogota, Colombia. Mrs. Lillian Eberhart was program chairman.

The club choir performed. Group singing was accompanied by Mrs. Anna Curry.

Lester Lutton, president, said the group decided to enter a display in the Chester Arts and Craft Show March 17-18 in the First Christian Church. It is being sponsored by the Chester Woman's Civic Club.

Mrs. Lowers received the corsage. Games were played during the social hour.

Lunch was served 33 by social committee headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Mader.

The next meeting will be Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the church. The women will hold a quilting session at 10 a. m.. and choir practice will follow at 12:30 p. m., Lutton said.

Varied Awards Are Made At Lions 'Charter Night'

More than 100 Lions Club members and guests attended the 44th annual "Charter Night" dinner and dance Saturday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Dudley Simms of Charleston, W. Va., past international president, was guest speaker. Fred Kane, club president, was toastmaster.

Robert Curran and David Thorne were inducted into the club during ceremonies conducted by Richard Martin.

CHARTER Monarch awards were presented Dr. John Fraser and Patrick DiPasquale. Dr. Fraser was a charter member of the local club and DiPasquale transferred to the club here from the Amsterdam club, where he was a charter member and had served as president and zone chairman. He has been a member 15 years.

Other Monarch awards were presented to George Steele, 35 years; Dr. William Horger, 30 years; George McCullough and Dr. J. L. Ward, 25 years; Dr. M. A. Alpern, Harry Faulk and Howard Graham, 20 years; Harmon Rogers, 15 years, and Edward Custer, Richard Judge, John F. Kelly and Edward Sheets, 10 years.

Richard W. Allison, who had recruited two new members during the year, was presented a Key award. Awards for 10 years perfect attendance were given Custer, Leo Lawrence, Richard Walker and Fred Yonz. Five-year perfect attendance awards went to Charles Haugh and McCullough.

SIMMS, introduced by District Gov. Richard Williams of Alliance, congratulated the local club on its years "of unselfish and dedicated service to its fellowmen."

He reminisced about the organization, pointing out that more than 50 years ago businessmen got together to advance their own business and further trade with each other. One man, Melvin Jones, recognized that to accomplish anything these groups would have to serve others not themselves.

"Jones" Simms said, "acted on the principle that you can't go very far in this old world unless you help someone else."

Following the dinner and program, music was provided by the Esquires.

Boy Scout News

Twelve members of Boy Scout Troop 60, accompanied by Don Ramsey, scoutmaster, and three other adults, hiked from the mouth of Beaver Creek to the Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge Saturday.

They were joined at the camp by eight members of Cub Pack 60, Howard Bosworth, cubmaster, and eight other adults. Both groups remained overnight and returned home Sunday morning.

Boys interested in joining either the troop or pack are to contact Ramsey or Bosworth. The annual Blue and Gold dinner will be held Feb. 23 in the hall of St. Ann's Catholic Church.

2-County Group Lists Figures On January Service

There were 230 patients served by the Hancock-Brooke Mental Health Service during January, David Miller, executive director reports.

Included were 137 visits from Hancock, 90 from Brooke and three interviews from outside the area.

Upon recommendation of the board of directors, both the service and society voted to reject affiliation with the proposed Northern Panhandle Mental Health Center, Inc., at Wheeling.

The directors based their action on the feeling that funds not allocated to the service by the county commissioners and any forthcoming funds from the West Virginia Department of Mental Health would be required to support the regional center, thus curtailing local services provided by the Hancock - Brooke society.

Mrs. Audrey Litman presided during last week's meeting of the society at Weirton General Hospital.

Thomas J. Manack, executive director of the Family Service Association at Steubenville and a member of the faculty of the Department of Sociology at the College of Steubenville discussed "A Family Service Association and Its Role in the Community."

The next meeting of the society will be March 6 at the hospital.

County Plumbing Aid Made State Director

LISBON — Eugene Cover of Homeworth RD 1, plumbing inspector for the Columbiana County Health Department the last eight years, was elected to the board of directors of the Ohio Plumbing Inspectors Association during the 11th annual seminary last week at Ohio State University.

Plastic pipe which as yet does not have state approval was one of the items discussed by the 104 inspectors from various health departments.

Cleveland Boy Killed By Shot From Auto

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old boy, standing in front of his East Side home early today, was killed by a shot fired from a passing automobile, police reported.

The victim was identified as Kenneth Journell, who lived with his grandmother, Bessie Walker.

Collection Kits Are Distributed In 'Heart' Drive

Collection kits have been distributed to chairmen in East Liverpool and area communities in the annual Heart Fund appeal, George T. Wilson of Wellsville, county co-chairman, has announced.

Mrs. Fred Crossen and Mrs. George Bingham of the East Liverpool Women's Club are serving as chairmen here.

Other area chairmen include: Mrs. March Welch, Wellsville; Mrs. Wilson, Yellow Creek; Mike McFarland, St. Clair Township and the Ruritan Club, and Mrs. James Thrasher, Madison Township.

The various leaders, assisted by an army of volunteers, will seek a record county collection of $21,500.

Wilson said the goal represents all contributions, including memorials, bequests, donations from clubs and organizations, businessmen, manufacturers and door-to-door gifts.

The money realized helps promote educational programs for doctors and nurses, as well as the general public, and supports the free "Work Evaluation Unit" which is available to all heart patients referred by their physician.

Suspect Questioned In Aliquippa Shooting

A part-time policeman in Rochester Township is convalescing from surgery at Aliquippa Hospital after being shot early this morning outside a club in Aliquippa.

Richard Smith, 32, of 488 Connecticut Ave., Rochester, was shot at 4:40 this morning on 5th Ave. by a man with a .25 caliber automatic. Police are questioning a suspect.

Smith was a former policeman in Beaver Falls before resigning in 1965. He then took a security job with Jones and Laughlin in Aliquippa.

Varied Awards Are Made At Lions 'Charter Night'

More than 100 Lions Club members and guests attended the 44th annual "Charter Night" dinner and dance Saturday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Dudley Simms of Charleston, W. Va., past international president, was guest speaker. Fred Kane, club president, was toastmaster.

Robert Curran and David Thorne were inducted into the club during ceremonies conducted by Richard Martin.

CHARTER Monarch awards were presented Dr. John Fraser and Patrick DiPasquale. Dr. Fraser was a charter member of the local club and DiPasquale transferred to the club here from the Amsterdam club, where he was a charter member and had served as president and zone chairman. He has been a member 15 years.

Other Monarch awards were presented to George Steele, 35 years; Dr. William Horger, 30 years; George McCullough and Dr. J. L. Ward, 25 years; Dr. M. A. Alpern, Harry Faulk and Howard Graham, 20 years; Harmon Rogers, 15 years, and Edward Custer, Richard Judge, John F. Kelly and Edward Sheets, 10 years.

Richard W. Allison, who had recruited two new members during the year, was presented a Key award. Awards for 10 years perfect attendance were given Custer, Leo Lawrence, Richard Walker and Fred Yonz. Five-year perfect attendance awards went to Charles Haugh and McCullough.

SIMMS, introduced by District Gov. Richard Williams of Alliance, congratulated the local club on its years "of unselfish and dedicated service to its fellowmen."

He reminisced about the organization, pointing out that more than 50 years ago businessmen got together to advance their own business and further trade with each other. One man, Melvin Jones, recognized that to accomplish anything these groups would have to serve others not themselves.

"Jones" Simms said, "acted on the principle that you can't go very far in this old world unless you help someone else."

Following the dinner and program, music was provided by the Esquires.

Boy Scout News

Twelve members of Boy Scout Troop 60, accompanied by Don Ramsey, scoutmaster, and three other adults, hiked from the mouth of Beaver Creek to the Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge Saturday.

They were joined at the camp by eight members of Cub Pack 60, Howard Bosworth, cubmaster, and eight other adults. Both groups remained overnight and returned home Sunday morning.

Boys interested in joining either the troop or pack are to contact Ramsey or Bosworth. The annual Blue and Gold dinner will be held Feb. 23 in the hall of St. Ann's Catholic Church.

2-County Group Lists Figures On January Service

There were 230 patients served by the Hancock-Brooke Mental Health Service during January, David Miller, executive director reports.

Included were 137 visits from Hancock, 90 from Brooke and three interviews from outside the area.

Upon recommendation of the board of directors, both the service and society voted to reject affiliation with the proposed Northern Panhandle Mental Health Center, Inc., at Wheeling.

The directors based their action on the feeling that funds not allocated to the service by the county commissioners and any forthcoming funds from the West Virginia Department of Mental Health would be required to support the regional center, thus curtailing local services provided by the Hancock - Brooke society.

Mrs. Audrey Litman presided during last week's meeting of the society at Weirton General Hospital.

Thomas J. Manack, executive director of the Family Service Association at Steubenville and a member of the faculty of the Department of Sociology at the College of Steubenville discussed "A Family Service Association and Its Role in the Community."

The next meeting of the society will be March 6 at the hospital.

County Plumbing Aid Made State Director

LISBON — Eugene Cover of Homeworth RD 1, plumbing inspector for the Columbiana County Health Department the last eight years, was elected to the board of directors of the Ohio Plumbing Inspectors Association during the 11th annual seminary last week at Ohio State University.

Plastic pipe which as yet does not have state approval was one of the items discussed by the 104 inspectors from various health departments.

Cleveland Boy Killed By Shot From Auto

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old boy, standing in front of his East Side home early today, was killed by a shot fired from a passing automobile, police reported.

The victim was identified as Kenneth Journell, who lived with his grandmother, Bessie Walker.

Collection Kits Are Distributed In 'Heart' Drive

Collection kits have been distributed to chairmen in East Liverpool and area communities in the annual Heart Fund appeal, George T. Wilson of Wellsville, county co-chairman, has announced.

Mrs. Fred Crossen and Mrs. George Bingham of the East Liverpool Women's Club are serving as chairmen here.

Other area chairmen include: Mrs. March Welch, Wellsville; Mrs. Wilson, Yellow Creek; Mike McFarland, St. Clair Township and the Ruritan Club, and Mrs. James Thrasher, Madison Township.

The various leaders, assisted by an army of volunteers, will seek a record county collection of $21,500.

Wilson said the goal represents all contributions, including memorials, bequests, donations from clubs and organizations, businessmen, manufacturers and door-to-door gifts.

The money realized helps promote educational programs for doctors and nurses, as well as the general public, and supports the free "Work Evaluation Unit" which is available to all heart patients referred by their physician.

Suspect Questioned In Aliquippa Shooting

A part-time policeman in Rochester Township is convalescing from surgery at Aliquippa Hospital after being shot early this morning outside a club in Aliquippa.

Richard Smith, 32, of 488 Connecticut Ave., Rochester, was shot at 4:40 this morning on 5th Ave. by a man with a .25 caliber automatic. Police are questioning a suspect.

Smith was a former policeman in Beaver Falls before resigning in 1965. He then took a security job with Jones and Laughlin in Aliquippa.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Esther DeTemple 424-5965

LISBON — The Lisbon Music Study Club presents its annual "Parade of American Music" Friday night at the home of Mrs. George Lafferty of E. Lincoln Way.

Mrs. Vernon Duke announced the program after a brief business meeting.

"America," the hymn of the month, was sung by the members and their guests accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kenneth Everett, who also reviewed the history of the hymn.

Songs by Winter Watts entitled "Pierrot, Joy and the Poet Sings" were chosen by Mrs. John Blocksom, who played her own accompaniment. Mrs. Duane Bricker presented a piano solo, "Impromptu" by John Alden Carpenter.

A trio comprised of Mrs. Karl Nicholas, Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Gerald Evans sang "Younger than Springtime" and "You'll Never Walk Alone," accompanied by Mrs. Robert McNally.

Mrs. Donald Lewis played the guitar and sang "Julie Ann" by Randy Sparks and "The Miracle" and "Little Boxes" by Melvina Reynolds.

Edward McDowell's improvisations and George Gershwin's second prelude were the piano solos by Mrs. McNally.

Mrs. Dallas Hepburn accompanied Mrs. William Pannier as she sang "Unlucky Love" by Peggy Glanville - Hicks and "Rain" by Pearl G. Curran.

Mrs. Edward Nold, Mrs. George Nulf and Mrs. Bricker arranged the tea that followed.

The March 7 meeting will feature a youth talent show at the United Methodist Church, with Mrs. Blocksom in charge.

Farm Group Meets

The Salem - Center Farm Bureau Council met Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Heims of Rt. 2 Salem, with 18 members and five children present.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Phillis of near Ashland were guests.

Heims conducted the business session.

Arthur Rudebock, discussion leader, was in charge of the program. The topic was "Will Non-Agricilture Cooperations Dominate Agriculture?"

Valentine decorations featured the lunch served by the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Weaver of Rt. 2 Lisbon will receive the group March 7.

Wed In Church Rites

Mrs. Luella Testerman of W. Washington St. and Harry Howell of Minerva were united in marriage Thursday in the First United Methodist Church here.

The Rev. Fred A. Shiltz performed the ceremony.

They will reside in Minerva.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell are members of the Lisbon Senior Citizens.

Parties Planned At Beaver Local

Plans for the seventh-grade party Friday and for the eighth-grade party March 21 were discussed during last week's meeting of the Beaver Local Mothers Club.

Mrs. Janice Eells and Mrs. Donna Ketchum reported on the events and announced that bands have been hired and games will be played at each.

Mrs. Dorothy Roberts presided during the meeting.

Mrs. Martha Mitcheson, Mrs. Ketchum and Mrs. Roberts were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. Ann Riedel of the county eztension office at Lisbon spoke on 'Development of Child Personality."

Mrs. Carol Hoppel served lunch.

The next meeting will be March 5 at 1 p.m.

Rings Taken In Theft Here

An intruder escaped with two rings after ransacking a Pleasant Heights home Sunday night, police reported.

Charles Taylor of 1324 Ceramic St. told officers the burglary entered through an unlocked door and ransacked a desk and dresser drawers, taking an engagement ring and a ring with a heart-shaped setting. The report was filed at 9:45.

Meanwhile, George Myers of 1839 Ohio Ave. told police Sunday night a thief took a battery from his 1962 model auto some time between Friday and yesterday while the car was parked in the garage at his home.

Lewis Call of Maine Blvd. reported to police Saturday afternoon a tire, tube and wheel were stolen from his 1960 model auto Friday while it was parked on Maine Blvd.

James Rhodes of 302 E. 9th St. told police his car was looted while it was in storage between Jan. 15 and Sunday at Al's Atlantic service property at College and E. 3rd Sts.

Rhodes told officers a thief took a rear license plate with the designation L-1574-X, a radio, a carburetor and the thermostat from the heating system.

Midland Rotary Hears Scouting Discussion

John Onuska of Industry discussed Boy Scout activities at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday.

He screened slides of the canoe trails trip held in Canada annually. Ron Alberta and Tom Krakar reported on a show planned by the Gypsy Glen Riding Club.

Tom Krakar Jr. was a guest. Mike Hornich served as program chairman. The group will meet again Thursday at the New Riviera.

Will Meet At Lisbon

LISBON — Council will meet at 7:30 tonight in the Town Hall, with Mayor Clyde B. Pike presiding. Committee reports are due on a street department request for more pay, an ambulance service franchise proposal and a new type of refuse haulaway which would make the village - township dump unnecessary.

The largest palace in the world is the famous Louvre, in Paris, France, largely occupied since 1793 by a museum. This palace extends over an area of almost 50 acres.

Campers' Group Sets Plans For Sunrise Service

A sunrise service at Raccoon Park in April was discussed when the Tri-State Campers Association met Thursday night at the gas company office in Glenmoor.

Announcement was made of a trailer show at Cleveland in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Andrews have been enrolled as members.

H. Jud English screened slides of California and Hawaii.

A box social was a feature, with Andrews the auctioneer.

Leroy Wise, trail blazer, presided. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones and daughter Cindy, Mrs. Jean Maylone and Mrs. Martha Adkins. Forty - six attended.

The next meeting will be March 6 at the gas company office, with a cake made by Mrs. Zella Wise to be o prize. The luncheon committee will be Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Ethel Thorne.

Sheriff Probes Theft Of $125 And Other Items

LISBON — A Sebring man notified the Columbiana County sheriff's office at 8:35 a. m. Sunday that a drinking companion, whose full name he didn't know, took $125 from him the night before and made him walk home.

Also stolen over the weekend were two wheels and tires from a new car on a Lisbon lot and two saddles and a pony blanket from a garage near Wellsville.

Sheriff's Deputy Dan Gartland said Carl Sheline of Sebring said he met the stranger in a tavern and knew him only as "Don." Sheline told the officer the man offered to take him home, then drove into Columbiana County, took all his money and made him get out of the car.

The stolen front wheels and tires were valued at $75, according to Lehman Ford Sales on Route 45, north of here, and were removed from a vehicle in the new car line on the lighted lot in front of the station between 8:30 p. m. Friday and 8 a. m. Saturday.

James Coleman of Wellsville RD 1 reported at 7:15 a. m. Sunday that someone entered his garage and took the saddles and blanket with a total value of $127. Chief Deputy Robert Beresford investigated. Entry was made by raising an unlocked overhead door.

The term Creole was origiat ly used in the 16th century in the West Indies to denote persons born in the West Indies of Spanish parents, to distinguish them from immigrants direct from Spain and from native Negroes and Indians.

A Couple Gets Together

It clings to the mountainside, this tiny A-frame house, and the tangled trees and underbrush crowd around it, blotting out the city that is only minutes away.

Cecil Smith

There is such peace here, such solitude. It's a long way from his native Harlem for Clarence Williams III, a long way, for that matter, from "Mod Squad," where Williams earns his bread these days as Linc Hayes.

We had been talking theater. The first time I saw Williams perform was as the deadly black madman of William Hanley's "Slow Dance on the Killing Ground" on Broadway.

AND HIS WIFE is Gloria Foster, who brought glory to the New York stage as Anouilh's "Medea" and Lorca's "Yerma." She's a regal presence in the room, an empress pouring coffee.

In a decade in the theater they never worked together, never appeared on the same stage. Now they had faced each other as performers for the first time in the edition of "Mod Squad" that takes the air Tuesday, a play called "Heart of Darkness, Heart of Light" (Channnel 5 at 73:0 p.m.).

"It was a surprise," said Gloria, "like working with a person you didn't know."

"I FELT THAT," said Clarence, "but I think it was because it was working in the terms of the character, the blind girl and she's so unlike Gloria."

"And Linc's unlike you. Once you begin work you forget your own relationship in order to reach the relationship of the character."

"This is the first time," Clarence explained, "that Linc has ever been exposed to anything like a love situation. This blind girl, played by Gloria, is in danger. She was present when a murder was committed and the fear is the murderer doesn't know she's blind and can't identify him. The squad is sent to guard her."

"She's a very gentle person," said Gloria, "whose life has been very sheltered. She knows she's black, but even that is not a big thing with her, it's never been given importance. She feels the strength of Linc. . . ."

"AND HE FEELS the sense of beauty in her. She writes poetry. But her poems see things the way she believes them to be."

"But that's what poetry is, isn't it?" said Gloria. "The poet seeing things as he alone can see them?"

She smiled at her husband and said: "The moment I loved in the show was the scene in which she discovered Linc, like her, is black. How do you make such a discovery when you're blind? The flesh feels the same as any flesh, the features are the same. But the hair. When I touched the hair I knew."

Of the cops and robbers shows that dominate the air this season, "Mod Squad" seems to have made the firmest impact, particularly with the young. The show is mostly formula, usually ending in a bizarre chase in an abandoned amusement park or auto wrecking yard or some such.

MUCH OF ITS appeal lies in the three young dropouts — Williams, Julie Barnes and Michael Cole — who works as undercover agents for the police. Their banding together like orphans in a stormy world has in it a kind of innocence.

The focus is through their eyes, a view many thoughtful adults would like to have these days. The police captain of Tige Andrews is a TV staple, the father figure a la "Bonanza."

The films are skillfully made by an old hand at film making, Aaron Spelling, and the process fascinates Williams. He prowls the set studying the techniques — "Making a film is a very rigid process. There's so much to learn."

He's deeply involved here; Gloria misses the theater — mostly because she's had little to do in her year in Hollywood and "I'm an actress, not a housewife." Both are astonished at the power of television.

"I acted for 10 years on the stage," said Clarence Williams, "and nobody knew me. Gloria and I went back to New York to see some shows and I couldn't duck out at intermission for a cigarette I was so mobbed."

Juvenile Court Lists Average Of 34 Cases Weekly

LISBON — Columbiana County Juvenile Court last year handled an average of 34 cases a week, according to Judge Louis Tobin.

The annual statistical report shows that affidavits were filed against 594 adults and 1,192 juveniles — a total of 1,786, compared with 1,844 in 1967.

An analysis of the adult cases shows 205 non-supprt, 70 contributing to the delinquency of minors, 125 contributing to the neglect of minors, 41 contributing to the abuse of minors, 63 divorces, 20 custody cases and 70 bastardy actions.

A review of the juvenile cases shows 509 cited for traffic hearings, 497 delinquency cases, 88 dependent and neglected children, 44 miscellaneous, 29 permanent surrender of infants born out of wedlock and 25 court consents to the marriage of minors when the girl was pregnant.

Judge Tobin also presides in Probate Court.

Sheriff Probes Theft Of $125 And Other Items

LISBON — A Sebring man notified the Columbiana County sheriff's office at 8:35 a. m. Sunday that a drinking companion, whose full name he didn't know, took $125 from him the night before and made him walk home.

Also stolen over the weekend were two wheels and tires from a new car on a Lisbon lot and two saddles and a pony blanket from a garage near Wellsville.

Sheriff's Deputy Dan Gartland said Carl Sheline of Sebring said he met the stranger in a tavern and knew him only as "Don." Sheline told the officer the man offered to take him home, then drove into Columbiana County, took all his money and made him get out of the car.

The stolen front wheels and tires were valued at $75, according to Lehman Ford Sales on Route 45, north of here, and were removed from a vehicle in the new car line on the lighted lot in front of the station between 8:30 p. m. Friday and 8 a. m. Saturday.

James Coleman of Wellsville RD 1 reported at 7:15 a. m. Sunday that someone entered his garage and took the saddles and blanket with a total value of $127. Chief Deputy Robert Beresford investigated. Entry was made by raising an unlocked overhead door.

The term Creole was origiat ly used in the 16th century in the West Indies to denote persons born in the West Indies of Spanish parents, to distinguish them from immigrants direct from Spain and from native Negroes and Indians.

A Couple Gets Together

It clings to the mountainside, this tiny A-frame house, and the tangled trees and underbrush crowd around it, blotting out the city that is only minutes away.

Cecil Smith

There is such peace here, such solitude. It's a long way from his native Harlem for Clarence Williams III, a long way, for that matter, from "Mod Squad," where Williams earns his bread these days as Linc Hayes.

We had been talking theater. The first time I saw Williams perform was as the deadly black madman of William Hanley's "Slow Dance on the Killing Ground" on Broadway.

AND HIS WIFE is Gloria Foster, who brought glory to the New York stage as Anouilh's "Medea" and Lorca's "Yerma." She's a regal presence in the room, an empress pouring coffee.

In a decade in the theater they never worked together, never appeared on the same stage. Now they had faced each other as performers for the first time in the edition of "Mod Squad" that takes the air Tuesday, a play called "Heart of Darkness, Heart of Light" (Channnel 5 at 73:0 p.m.).

"It was a surprise," said Gloria, "like working with a person you didn't know."

"I FELT THAT," said Clarence, "but I think it was because it was working in the terms of the character, the blind girl and she's so unlike Gloria."

"And Linc's unlike you. Once you begin work you forget your own relationship in order to reach the relationship of the character."

"This is the first time," Clarence explained, "that Linc has ever been exposed to anything like a love situation. This blind girl, played by Gloria, is in danger. She was present when a murder was committed and the fear is the murderer doesn't know she's blind and can't identify him. The squad is sent to guard her."

"She's a very gentle person," said Gloria, "whose life has been very sheltered. She knows she's black, but even that is not a big thing with her, it's never been given importance. She feels the strength of Linc. . . ."

"AND HE FEELS the sense of beauty in her. She writes poetry. But her poems see things the way she believes them to be."

"But that's what poetry is, isn't it?" said Gloria. "The poet seeing things as he alone can see them?"

She smiled at her husband and said : "The moment I loved in the show was the scene in which she discovered Linc, like her, is black. How do you make such a discovery when you're blind? The flesh feels the same as any flesh, the features are the same. But the hair. When I touched the hair I knew."

Of the cops and robbers shows that dominate the air this season, "Mod Squad" seems to have made the firmest impact, particularly with the young. The show is mostly formula, usually ending in a bizarre chase in an abandoned amusement park or auto wrecking yard or some such.

MUCH OF ITS appeal lies in the three young dropouts — Williams, Julie Barnes and Michael Cole — who works as undercover agents for the police. Their banding together like orphans in a stormy world has in it a kind of innocence.

The focus is through their eyes, a view many thoughtful adults would like to have these days. The police captain of Tige Andrews is a TV staple, the father figure a la "Bonanza."

The films are skillfully made by an old hand at film making, Aaron Spelling, and the process fascinates Williams. He prowls the set studying the techniques — "Making a film is a very rigid process. There's so much to learn."

He's deeply involved here; Gloria misses the theater — mostly because she's had little to do in her year in Hollywood and "I'm an actress, not a housewife." Both are astonished at the power of television.

"I acted for 10 years on the stage," said Clarence Williams, "and nobody knew me. Gloria and I went back to New York to see some shows and I couldn't duck out at intermission for a cigarette I was so mobbed."

Juvenile Court Lists Average Of 34 Cases Weekly

LISBON — Columbiana County Juvenile Court last year handled an average of 34 cases a week, according to Judge Louis Tobin.

The annual statistical report shows that affidavits were filed against 594 adults and 1,192 juveniles — a total of 1,786, compared with 1,844 in 1967.

An analysis of the adult cases shows 205 non-supprt, 70 contributing to the delinquency of minors, 125 contributing to the neglect of minors, 41 contributing to the abuse of minors, 63 divorces, 20 custody cases and 70 bastardy actions.

A review of the juvenile cases shows 509 cited for traffic hearings, 497 delinquency cases, 88 dependent and neglected children, 44 miscellaneous, 29 permanent surrender of infants born out of wedlock and 25 court consents to the marriage of minors when the girl was pregnant.

Judge Tobin also presides in Probate Court.

Police Charge 2 In City Collisions

Police filed charges against two motorists as an aftermath of a pair of the seven mishaps that marred East Liverpool traffic over the weekend.

Three charges were filed against a Klondyke man whose auto was involved in a collision Saturday at 9:37 p.m. on Broadway at E. 5th St.

The 1960 two-door sedan of Donald S. Ingram, 33, of 1825 Harvey Ave. struck the rear of a 1960 station wagon operated by Ralph Maze, 18, of Ashland Pl., officers said.

—:—

PATROLMEN Joseph Bates and Dwight Garvey cited Ingram on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, failure to stop in the assured clear distance and operating a motor vehicle with fictitious plates.

Maze told officers his southbound auto was halted for a traffic light on Broadway when it was hit from the rear by Ingram's car. Ingram told police he was unable to halt in time. The collision damaged the front of his auto and the rear bumper of the Maze vehicle.

James A. Wallace, 41, of 314 Indiana Ave., Chester, was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a mishap on St. Clair Ave. at Azalea Ave Saturday at 7:10 p.m.

Police said Wallace's 1960 sedan hit the rear of a 1962 sedan operated by Devern Wolf, 38, of 640 Azalea Ave., who had halted on St. Clair to make a left turn onto Azalea Ave. Both were northbound. The collision damaged the right rear fender of Wolfe's car and the entire front of Wallace's car, officers said.

A mishap at 4:20 p.m. Saturday at Market and E. 4th Sts. involved a halted 1968 sedan driven by Richard A. Haines, 18, of Chester RD 1 and a 1958 sedan operated by Jerry Lee Potts, 25, of 1702 Globe St., police said.

Haines was halted on Market St. for a traffic signal when his car was bumped from the rear by Potts' auto, officers said. Potts told police he also had halted, but his foot slipped off the brake pedal.

AN OVERHEAD door on a service station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way was damaged Sunday at 2:25 p.m. by an auto that veered off Pennsylvania Ave. after the brakes failed, officers said.

Robert Douglas, 16, of 1007 Pennsylvania Ave. told police he was driving east on Pennsylvania Ave. When the cars ahead stopped for a traffic light, he also attempted to halt, but found his brakes had failed, he said. He passed the halted cars, turned left onto Park Way and then continued onto the lot at the Petrosol Service Station, hitting the overhead door, he said. The crash also damaged the front of the auto.

A Beechwood man's auto was damaged heavily in a collision Sunday at 12:30 p.m. at St. Clair Ave. and Avondale and North Sts., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1962 sedan driven by Bernard G. Hanna, 38, of 941 Orchard Grove Ave. and a 1960 sedan operated by James S. Myler, 74 ,of 148 Haywood St.

Hanna told police he was driving north on St. Clair Ave. and had turned onto North St. when his auto was hit by Myler's car. Myler told police he had stopped for the stop sign at the intersection of Avondale and North St. and had started to proceed onto St. Clair Ave.

Myler's car left four feet of skid marks at the point of impact, which was in the center of North St., officers said. There was extensive damage to the entire front end of Myler's auto and the windshield was broken, officers said. The crash damaged the right front fender and quarter panel and rear hubcap of Hanna's auto, officers said.

—:—

A MISHAP on a city-owned parking lot at 3rd and Market Sts. Sunday morning damaged a 1963 two - door sedan owned by Gordon D. Brick of Williams Ave., officers said. Brick said his car was parked on the lot for about three hours and when he returned he found the left side damaged and a note on the windshield telling him that it had been bumped by Thomas A. Mackey, 57, of 1118 Avondale St., who was pulling into a parking space.

Meanwhile, George Adams of 1726 Pennsyivania Ave. told police the left rear fender and bumper of his 1960 four - door sedan were damaged when struck by a hit-skip car while parked on Pennsylvania Ave. at Oakland Ave. between midnight Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday.

Huge Airliner's Test Flight Described 'Absolutely Ideal'

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The huge Boeing 747 jet airliner designed to carry up to 490 passengers flew for the first time Sunday and but for a single flaw its pilot called the test trip "absolutely ideal."

"It's a pilot's dream...it flies like an arrow," declared pilot Jack Waddell, 45, as he stepped from the cockpit of the $20 million, 355-ton prototype of the new fleet of superjets.

The flaw—an improperly aligned wing flap—forced the jet to return to Paine Field here after 1 hour, 15 minutes of a scheduled 2½-hour flight. The trouble was discovered 34 minutes into the flight.

The faulty flap—termed later by Waddell as a "minor discrepancy"—was discovered by Flight Engineer Jess Wallick at about the same time Waddell radioed feeling "a bump" during tests of the wing control system.

The 747 is about 2½ times larger than the biggest jetliners now in service, capable of flying 6,000 miles nonstop at a cruising speed of 625 miles per hour.

Its dimensions are massive—tipped on end it equals a 20-story building—and its four giant jet engines are amazingly quiet and smoke-free.

As Waddell applied conservative throttle, the jet appeared to lumber painfully along the runway looking deceptively slow for its takeoff speed of 196 m.p.h.

On takeoff and landing it appeared to hover gracefully like a kite rather than streak through the air as do its Boeing predecessors, the 707 and 727.

"If future flights are like this one," Waddell quipped at a news conference, "it really won't be much of a challenge."

Australia's Ayers Rock covers 1,200 acres and juts 1,143 feet out of a flat plain in the continent's central dessert. A few trees on the summit are the only vegetation.

Police Charge 2 In City Collisions

Police filed charges against two motorists as an aftermath of a pair of the seven mishaps that marred East Liverpool traffic over the weekend.

Three charges were filed against a Klondyke man whose auto was involved in a collision Saturday at 9:37 p.m. on Broadway at E. 5th St.

The 1960 two-door sedan of Donald S. Ingram, 33, of 1825 Harvey Ave. struck the rear of a 1960 station wagon operated by Ralph Maze, 18, of Ashland Pl., officers said.

—:—

PATROLMEN Joseph Bates and Dwight Garvey cited Ingram on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, failure to stop in the assured clear distance and operating a motor vehicle with fictitious plates.

Maze told officers his southbound auto was halted for a traffic light on Broadway when it was hit from the rear by Ingram's car. Ingram told police he was unable to halt in time. The collision damaged the front of his auto and the rear bumper of the Maze vehicle.

James A. Wallace, 41, of 314 Indiana Ave., Chester, was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance after a mishap on St. Clair Ave. at Azalea Ave Saturday at 7:10 p.m.

Police said Wallace's 1960 sedan hit the rear of a 1962 sedan operated by Devern Wolf, 38, of 640 Azalea Ave., who had halted on St. Clair to make a left turn onto Azalea Ave. Both were northbound. The collision damaged the right rear fender of Wolfe's car and the entire front of Wallace's car, officers said.

A mishap at 4:20 p.m. Saturday at Market and E. 4th Sts. involved a halted 1968 sedan driven by Richard A. Haines, 18, of Chester RD 1 and a 1958 sedan operated by Jerry Lee Potts, 25, of 1702 Globe St., police said.

Haines was halted on Market St. for a traffic signal when his car was bumped from the rear by Potts' auto, officers said. Potts told police he also had halted, but his foot slipped off the brake pedal.

AN OVERHEAD door on a service station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way was damaged Sunday at 2:25 p.m. by an auto that veered off Pennsylvania Ave. after the brakes failed, officers said.

Robert Douglas, 16, of 1007 Pennsylvania Ave. told police he was driving east on Pennsylvania Ave. When the cars ahead stopped for a traffic light, he also attempted to halt, but found his brakes had failed, he said. He passed the halted cars, turned left onto Park Way and then continued onto the lot at the Petrosol Service Station, hitting the overhead door, he said. The crash also damaged the front of the auto.

A Beechwood man's auto was damaged heavily in a collision Sunday at 12:30 p.m. at St. Clair Ave. and Avondale and North Sts., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1962 sedan driven by Bernard G. Hanna, 38, of 941 Orchard Grove Ave. and a 1960 sedan operated by James S. Myler, 74 ,of 148 Haywood St.

Hanna told police he was driving north on St. Clair Ave. and had turned onto North St. when his auto was hit by Myler's car. Myler told police he had stopped for the stop sign at the intersection of Avondale and North St. and had started to proceed onto St. Clair Ave.

Myler's car left four feet of skid marks at the point of impact, which was in the center of North St., officers said. There was extensive damage to the entire front end of Myler's auto and the windsnield was broken, officers said. The crash damaged the right front fender and quarter panel and rear hubcap of Hanna's auto, officers said.

A MISHAP on a city-owned parking lot at 3rd and Market Sts. Sunday morning damaged a 1963 two - door sedan owned by Gordon D. Brick of Williams Ave., officers said. Brick said his car was parked on the lot for about three hours and when he returned he found the left side damaged and a note on the windshield telling him that it had been bumped by Thomas A. Mackey, 57, of 1118 Avondale St., who was pulling into a parking space.

Meanwhile, George Adams of 1726 Pennsylvania Ave. told police the left rear fender and bumper of his 1960 four - door sedan were damaged when struck by a hit-skip car while parked on Pennsylvania Ave. at Oakland Ave. between midnight Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday.

Huge Airliner's Test Flight Described 'Absolutely Ideal'

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The huge Boeing 747 jet airliner designed to carry up to 490 passengers flew for the first time Sunday and but for a single flaw its pilot called the test trip "absolutely ideal."

"It's a pilot's dream...it flies like an arrow," declared pilot Jack Waddell, 45, as he stepped from the cockpit of the $20 million, 355-ton prototype of the new fleet of superjets.

The flaw—an improperly aligned wing flap—forced the jet to return to Paine Field here after 1 hour, 15 minutes of a scheduled 2½-hour flight. The trouble was discovered 34 minutes into the flight.

The faulty flap—termed later by Waddell as a "minor discrepancy"—was discovered by Flight Engineer Jess Wallick at about the same time Waddell radioed feeling "a bump" during tests of the wing control system.

The 747 is about 2½ times larger than the biggest jetliners now in service, capable of flying 6,000 miles nonstop at a cruising speed of 625 miles per hour.

Its dimensions are massive—tipped on end it equals a 20-story building—and its four giant jet engines are amazingly quiet and smoke-free.

As Waddell applied conservative throttle, the jet appeared to lumber painfully along the runway looking deceptively slow for its takeoff speed of 196 m.p.h.

On takeoff and landing it appeared to hover gracefully like a kite rather than streak through the air as do its Boeing predecessors, the 707 and 727.

"If future flights are like this one," Waddell quipped at a news conference, "it really won't be much of a challenge."

Australia's Ayers Rock covers 1,200 acres and juts 1,143 feet out of a flat plain in the continent's central dessert. A few trees on the summit are the only vegetation.

3-Day Jail Term Given Driver, 41

Eleven motorists were penalized today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, including a 41-year-old man given a three-day jail sentence on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Jack E. Watson of 9th Ave., LaCroft, also was fined $200 and costs and given a 90-day suspension of his operator's permit when he pleaded guilty to the charge filed by Patrolman David Huffman.

The officer said he cited Watson Saturday at 12:08 a.m. after observing the defendant's car strike a guard rail on Dresden Ave. and then crash a traffic light at W. 9th St. and Dresden Ave.

MEANWHILE, the court granted a continuance until Tuesday, Feb. 18, in the case of Donald S. Ingram, 33, of 1824 Harvey Ave., cited on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol, failure to stop in the assured clear distance and operating an auto with fictitious registration. Cited after a mishap Saturday night on Broadway at E. 5th St., Ingram asked time to obtain counsel. His $690 appearance bond was continued.

The court set a hearing Thursday morning for William R. Jarrett, 38, of 117 E. 2nd St., charged with being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated. Jarrett is represented by Bernard Fineman. He pleaded not guilty. He was cited Friday at 9 p.m. at E. 3rd and Market Sts. by Patrolman Charles Coen.

Ernest L. Pugh, 20, of McDonald St. was fined $25 and costs on each of two charges—"peeling" tires on the pavement and driving 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. Pugh was cited Sunday at 7:05 p.m. at St. Clair Ave. and Broadway by Patrolman Dwight Garvey. The court noted that Pugh's record showed he also was cited for "peeling" tires on Dec. 19 and Dec. 30.

Roger Lee McCallister, 21, of Vermillion forfeited two bonds totaling $40 on charges of operating an auto with defective brakes and driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol Saturday at 1:30 a.m. on Route 30.

Jason K. Hendershot, 57, of Post Office Box 145, Wellsville, was fined $20 and costs on a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Thursday at 8:15 p.m. on Route 7.

—:—

WALTER E. CROSS, 23, of 1719 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating a vehicle without tail lights. He was cited Wednesday at 9:25 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. at Princeton Ave. by Patrolman Bruce Conkle.

H. Robert Sylvies, 47, of 1234 Cora St. paid a fine of $20 and costs on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited by the patrol Thursday at 11:55 a.m.

Hulda Jane Custer, 33, of Toronto RD 2 paid a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. She was cited on the Freeway Saturday at 5:23 p.m. by Garvey.

Arthur Gray Smith, 60, of 1432 Dresden Ave. was granted a continuance until Monday, Feb. 17, on a charge of speeding 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. He was cited Sunday at 6:09 a.m. on Harvey Ave.

James A. Wallace, 41, of 314 Indiana Ave., Chester, forfeited a $32.50 appearance bond on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He was cited in a traffic mishap Saturday night on St. Clair Ave. at Azalea Ave.

Road Matters Will Be Aired

Road matters will be discussed when Guy Digman, chairman of the trustees of Liverpool Township, and Samuel Webber confer with Bert Dawson Jr., county engineer, and Jack Nasser of the planning survey division of the Ohio Highway Department at Columbus.

The meeting will take place Tuesday morning in the Courthouse at Lisbon.

At Friday night's meeting, the board agreed to have Constable Thomas Edgell take the peace officers' training in Alliance March 10 through April 2, with the meals and mileage paid from the general fund of the township.

The board authorized the clerk to write to the county commissioners listing the areas in the township where 7½-ton load limit signs are to be installed. The areas include Westfield Rd., Pond St., Hill Blvd., Armstrong Ln., Dewey Ave. and Curry St.

A letter was received from the Penn Central concerning the removal of the flashing signals on Route 7, east of Wellsville. Two residents from the Shadyside area were present to discuss with the board the improvement of some of the streets. The board agreed to meet with the men relative to the situation.

The board reminds residents of the township that, under state law, anyone having three or more cars setting on their property or along the road right-of-way must have the vehicles removed off the road berms and a fence installed around the property. The township constables are to enforce the law.

Primm Listed 'Good'

LISBON — James D. Primm Jr., Lisbon attorney, was reported in "good" condition this morning at Salem City Hospital. He was taken to the hospital Thursday afternoon after suffering a cerebral aneurysm while defending a client in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Ballot Places Denied For 3

The County Election Board today rejected petitions of three persons who sought to run for party nominations for village posts at Lisbon and Leetonia in the May 6 primaries, acting on the grounds that the three had voted in the primaries of the opposite party within the preceding four years.

The board denied ballot places to:

Lloyd Williamson of 210 Pendleton St., Lisbon, who had filed for the Republican nomination for Council.

Helen E. Bloor of 621 N. Market St., Lisbon, who sought to run for the Democratic nomination for Council.

Edward Vidumansky of 70 Wilson St., Leetonia, who filed a petition as a Democratic candidate for Council.

The Election board said its records show that Williamson voted in the Democratic primaries at Lisbon in 1968, Mrs. Bloor voted in the Republican primaries in Lisbon in 1965 and Vidumansky voted in the Republican primaries at Leetonia in 1967.

Removal of the three left 109 candidates to whom ballot place have been granted for offices in East Liverpool, Wellsville, cities and Lisbon, Leetonia and Columbiana villages.

The board met Friday to act on the validity of most of the petitions. The Williamson, Bloor and Vidumansky petitions, which were under question at that time, were held for further investigation.. The board's ruling today followed a check on the voting records of the three.

The law says no one may be a candidate in a party primary if he voted as a member of a different party any time during the preceding four years.

Motorist Fined And Sentenced

A Wellsville motorist was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail by Mayor William Daugherty as the result of a driving while intoxicated charge filed Saturday night.

Wellsville police said Howard J. Lowry, 46, of 231½ 3rd St. backed his 1948 sedan from a gas station at 3rd and Main Sts. and it struck a parked car belonging to Salvatore Tomaine.

Lowry told police the gas feed stuck. The accident was timed at 7:30.

In aother mishap, Harold Whitla of 425 Commerce St. was driving east on Clark Ave. when he saw a child coming from the left side of the street. He applied his brakes and slid into a parked 1964 sedan owned by Robert Mason of 2031 Clark Ave.

Whitla was not cited.

Car, Truck Damaged In Route 68 Mishap

A car and truck each received $300 damage in an accident on Route 68 in Hanover Township Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa said a car operated by Alice Kane, 21, of Hookstown, was making a left turn and a tractor-trailer truck operated by Raymond Green of Portersville, Calif., was attempting to pass when they collided.

Questioning Grows Sharper

Pueblo Crewmen To Tell Of Life In Korea Prisons

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The questioning grows sharper and more specific as a Navy court prepares to shift its inquiry from the capture of the USS Pueblo to the ordeal of its men in North Korean prisons.

More enlisted crewmen were summoned today to describe their life since the intelligence ship was seized last year. Ten crewmen testified last week.

The court is recalling junior officers who already have testified about the capture to hear now about prison life.

The 82 men of the Pueblo spent 11 months in captivity. Some suffered severe beatings. Nearly all endured malnutrition. The captain told of mental torture.

When the inquiry opened three weeks ago, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher was allowed to describe in one narrative the preparations for his mission, the capture and imprisonment.

Then came nearly a week of closed sessions, sprinkled with a few hours of open court. The Navy said it was taking testimony classified in the interest of national defense.

When open court resumed last week, the questioning from Navy counsel and the five admirals on the bench grew more pointed.

The admirals began pressing the men about battle stations; whether they wore helmets and lifejackets as required during general quarters; whether they knew the Code of Conduct requiring them to give captors only their name, rank and serial number; whether the code was posted on the Pueblo; how much time elapsed between incidents during the capture; just how precise the navigation really was, and the condition of the wind and sea at the time of the capture.

"People on the bridge did not wear helmets and lifejackets," said CWO Gene Howard Lacy.

"Some of the men were wearing them and some weren't," reported Signalman 1.C. Wendell Leach.

Did the crew train to repel boarders?

Area Driver Charged In Two-Car Accident

A Fombell area man was charged with wreckless driving as the result of a two-car accident Friday afternoon on Route 68.

A car operated by George Hall, 18, of Fombell RD 1 ran into the rear of an auto driven by Edward Robinson of 1108 Pan Ave., Chester. Robinson's car was stopped to allow the car ahead of it to turn, officers said.

Both men escaped injury. Hall's car was demolished, while Robinson's vehicle received $300 damages.

Ohioville Chief of Police Bernard Zlatovich and Assistant Chief Michael Hayden investigated.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a medication with the ability, in most cases – to promptly stop itching, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids.

Tests by doctors proved that in case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction of the inflamed hemorrhoids took place.

The secret is Preparation H®. There's no other formula like it! Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Student's Death Described From Natural Causes

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—Although no official ruling has been made, the death Saturday of Scott Graeler, a Muskingum College sophomore, apparently was due to natural causes.

Dr. Richard Kaiser, college vice president of cocurricular affairs, said he had been advised by Dr. Walter Cunningham, school physician, that a congestive heart condition apparently caused the youth's death.

He said there appeared to have been no connection between Graeler's death and a campus initiation ceremony held by a college club Friday night.

Graeler, a football tackle from Whitehall, a Columbus suburb, was one of nine pledges initiated into the social group.

Graeler was dead on arrival at Zanesville's Bethesda Hospital, where he was taken after his loud breathing awakened other pledges who had slept with him on the floor of the club's quarters. Club members said the youth seemed in good health when they went to sleep. c11 czz dc10

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sev- the 108th Ohio General Assembly as it goes into its sixth week of work tonight. Both houses meet at 8 p.m.

One hot potato facing the legislators is Gov. James A. Rhodes' modified gross receipts tax, which he prefers to call a graduated vendor's excise tax. A number of retail merchants groups have voiced opposition to the proposal.

Other controversial measures waiting in the wings are gun and Sunday sales.

Testimony on bills that would prohibit distribution of unsolicited credit cards and allow restricted wiretapping will be heard by the Senate Judiciary Committee following tonight's session.

The wiretapping measure is sought by law enforcement agencies, but is expected to run into opposition from civil liberty groups.

More Responsibility For Citizens

McGovern Urges Change In Selecting Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Democrats' new reform commission says the party can put an end to backroom politics in selecting presidential candidates by giving citizens more responsibility on the precinct level.

Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, in his first move since being formally appointed Saturday, also has asked Sen. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa to present the 27-member reform group with recommendations on making the party more democratic.

The commission was established by the 1968 Democratic National Convention to overhaul procedures for selection of convention delegates in 1972.

McGovern said "If we can open up the channel of communication in our party so that ordinary citizens can become active on the precinct level, this is a much better way to restructure and revitalize the party.

"I would like to see a system developed where every precinct has a voice in determining the delegation that's going to represent that particular state at the national convention," he added.

McGovern's comments were made in an appearance on a Metromedia News television documentary on the Democratic party.

By naming Hughes, the choice of many reformers for the group's chairman, McGovern signified his determination to press forward in the reform move. He said he hopes to bring the entire commission together within 30 days and to present at least an interim report by midsummer.

In naming the commission Saturday, Democratic National Chairman Fred R. Harris put two other members of the Hughes group, Rep. Donald Fraser of Minnesota and attorney Frederick G. Dutton, on the panel which has no mayors and few old-line party leaders.

But most of the members are new to the subject, and one person who has been close to reform drive said privately "I think it's going to be extremely tough."

The commission faces one major problem—time. Changes in state laws will be required in a number of states, and some legislatures are nearing the end of the only sessions before the start of preliminary delegate selection procedures in 1970.

In ordering creation of the special commission, the 1968 convention also outlawed the unit rule at all levels and directed that 1972 delegates be chosen by processes open to all Democrats within the calendar year of the convention itself.

Two Face Hearings On 'Peeling' Charge

SALINEVILLE — Two area motorists were cited Saturday for peeling tires on Main St.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said Glenn Peoples, 16, of Salineville RD 2 was cited by Deputy Robert Oswalt on E. Main St. He will appear in Juvenile Court.

Roy Spencer, 30, of Salineville was cited on W. Main St. by Deputy Forrest Young. His hearing is set for Feb. 19.

Chairman Of Electric Company Dies At 65

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harry M. Miller, 65, board chairman of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., died Sunday in his home of an apparent heart attack.

Miller had been with C&SOE since 1951 and became chairman in 1966.

A native of Gallia County, Miller received his law degree from Ohio State University and practiced law in Gallipolis before serving three terms as county prosecutor from 1929-1935.

After a stint as executive secretary to former Gov. John Bricker, Miller was appointed to the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in 1941 and served as chairman from 1947-49.

The Franklin stove was invented by Benjamin Franklin for a friend who manufactured it. He refused to take out a patent, saying, "Others should benefit from American inventions as we enjoy great advantages from the inventions of others."

Hospital Report Lists Improvements

Staff Benefited By Conferences

By LIDA SMITH

Inauguration of a new telephone conference link for physicians and nurses at City Hospital with top medical authorities at Columbus marked one of the 1968 developments at the hospital, according to the annual report from Miss Nell Robinson, administrator.

As a result of slides screened in each participating hospital and a telephone hookup with Ohio State University's College of Medicine at Columbus, physicians may "attend" long distance, round-table seminars.

Miss Robinson, said the equipment was installed for two - way transmission from the Medical Education Network Center for Continuing Medical Education so that each week the staff is able to view slides and question new and experimental methods in clinical programs.

Dr. J. W. Schoolnic and Dr. R. C. Costello are the co-chairmen of the program in which lectures are given by professors of medicine with a question and answer period following.

SIMILAR PROGRAMS are held monthly by the Ohio State University's School of Nursing for the faculty of the City Hospital School of Nursing and the registered nurses. These programs are related to various phases of nursing education with lectures by professors of the Department of Nursing. A question-and-answer period is also available on this program.

Equipment, including a television set for closed circuit programs, was installed for reception of programs from the Department of Graduate Medicine at the University of Pittsburgh Mondays at noon on Channel 16 and on Wednesdays at 10:35 p. m. on Channel 13—available for public viewing.

In other facets of medical advancements four students completed the first - year course and four more enrolled in the School of Clinical Laboratory Assistants. The school received provisional approval May 9, 1968, from the American Society of Medical Technologists. Teaching supervisors are Dale Gadd, chief technologist, and Jack Eisenhart, registered medical technologist. Dr. Costello is program director.

In addition, a food supervisor course is in progress in the Dietary Department under the direction of Mrs. Grace Broscoe, dietary consultant, a member of the American Dietetic Association, and Mrs. Della Payne, food service supervisor. The agenda is sponsored by the American Dietetic Association and the Ohio Hospital Association.

TEACHING PROGRAMS include X-ray technicians under the direction of Dr. R. J. Bonistalli, radiologist; boiler operation, under the guidance of Floyd Baker, chief engineer; and housekeeping employes, under the supervision of Mrs. Lucille Miraglata, executive housekeeper.

The Graduate Assistance Program Fund was drawn upon for the benefit of faculty members enrolled in classes at Kent State University. Various funds and scholarships were utilized for student nurses during the year while they were enrolled in the School of Nursing, including memorial funds contributed in 1968 in memory of Dr. Albert J. Michels, Mrs. Esther W. Smiley and Robert Jones.

Arrangements were made with local authorities for storage of hospital goods, and commodities such as drugs were inventoried at the hospital in accordance with the Ohio Department of Health, which, through the Health Mobilization Consultant, Peter R. Jensen, who contacted the administration to pre-position a 200-bed disaster hospital in East Liverpool under hospital sponsorship.

IN 1968, THE payroll at the local institution was computerized with an NCR 500 mechanism which began its work in October of 1967 in the accounts receivable department, Miss Robinson said.

In addition to auxiliary work in the clerical department, the computer also provided an analysis of the payroll for distribution to cost centers of the hospital and the preparation of federal government reports.

The machine's speed and output was increased with the purchase of a line printer, the administrator explained. New programs planned include vouchering of checks payable, computing discounts and progress and perfection of present programs.

In the surgical department, the urology division received a Bovie Machine from the estate of the late Dr. Francis Irwin. A device utilizing fiber optics — a system of transmitting light and images through thin fibers of optical glass by total internal reflection was obtained.

Processing of surgical specimens was aided with the purchase of a Dual Auto Technicon, replacing an outdated processor.

An additional room was allocated to the laboratory, permitting new hematology and bacteriology sections, adding almost 200 square feet of floor space to the facility.

Also new was the lab's Technicon's Sequential Multiple Analysis 12-60, "the ultimate in clinical chemistry automation," according to Miss Robinson.

She related that many hidden abnormalities have been discovered through the use of the machine which records one patient's "profile" per minute. An average of approximately 500 profiles a month or 6,000 chemistry tests are being performed now, though an even greater use is foreseen, she said.

FOR GENERAL use throughout the hospital other new equipment included four Bennett machines — breathing therapy equipment — three through a contribution made by Eugene Kontnier in memory of his wife, Mrs. Ilah Marie Kontnier.

One of the machines has an adjustable heated humidifier recommended when water balance is needed. This and a monitoring spirometer are used in the treatment of lung afflictions and to prevent the progression of disease.

Two modern Continentalair Oxygen Machines and Tents were also added to the equipment at the hospital.

Miss Robinson's 50th year of nursing was marked by a new heart and lung resuscitator donated to the hospital by the East Liverpool City Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association, she pointed out proudly, noting that it has been placed in the emergency department though portable and easily transferred where needed. It is designed to produce rhythmic chest or cardiac compression at a rate of 60 a minute with an adjustable thrust.

A hot water tank was obtained for the main boiler room to increase the supply for hospital needs.

Miscellaneous equipment purchased included electric heaters, fans and air conditioners, furniture for offices and patient's rooms, utility carts, diet mixers, awnings, therapy equipment, resuscitators and time clocks. Automatic lights were installed on the building for lighting the court outside the Emergency Department.

CARL W. Ballerstein was appointed assistant administrator in September. He formerly served in a similar capacity at the Lockport Memorial Hospital at Lockport, New York.

Other appointments included Mrs. Mary G. Dailey, director of Administrative Affairs; Robert S. Carnahan of Newell, registered pharmacist of the hospital; Mrs. Shirley Gilkes, acting director of the School of Nursing; Mrs. Lois Burke, clinical co - ordinator; Miss Susan Miller, executive secretary; and Dr. Liamons Emile Vanags, as a staff physician.

Carnahan, who was graduated from West Virginia University School of Pharmacy, is registered in both West Virginia and Ohio. He replaces the late Richard J. Keiter who died in December. Mrs. Gilkes's appointment followed the resignation of Mrs. Janet Powell Colaizzi in June.

Mrs. Burke assumed her duties after Mrs. Christian Ebaugh's husband returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Dr. Vanags, formerly of Beaver Falls, specializes in urology.

Negotiations resulted in a contractual agreement with the registered nurses through the supervisory level and the state Nurses Association. A new agreement was made with Clerical Union 333 IBOP.

The main Business Office received a face - lifting in the installation of a modern unit of a cashier station with attractive facade and twin attendant facilities.

The payroll and accounting departments were transferred from the first floor to a room leading from the cafeteria. The move included new carpet, air vents and office furniture. The room vacated was redecorated for use by Ballerstein.

THE MEN'S WARD received 22 beds complete with inner spring mattresses, designed with safety sides, she said.

In the department of obstetrics, the hospital was among the first to give the Rho Gam to Rh negative mothers, Miss Robinson stated. The first application in July followed a meeting of the medical staff, attending a program on immunological diagnosis.

The first baby of 1968 was a son born at 2 a, m. to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Clutter of 529 Wedgewood Ave.

Nine hundred and sixty - three babies were born in City Hospital in 1968, compared to 911 born the previous year. There were 481 girls born, up from the 1967 total of 467. Male infants born totaled 482, 38 more than in 1967 (444).

There were four sets of male twins (three sets in 1967), two fraternal sets, the same as the previous year, and one set of girls, bringing the 1968 total to seven, two more than in 1967.

A breakdown on patients, with the 1967 figures in parenthesis, shows: patients admitted 8,591 (8,577); total patient days 63,032 (62,722); average daily census 172.2 (171.8); average length of stay (days) 7.3 (same); emergency room visits 11,898 (10,666) including industrial patient treated 896 (841) and industrial patients admitted 60 (78).

Surgical operations performed in 1968 totaled 2,443, compared to 2,658 in 1967. There were 692 major operations (including 45 Caesarians) during the year; 699 in 1967, and 1,751 minor operations, down from 1,959 the year before.

X-RAYS, with the 1967 figures in parenthesis, included in-patients 7,781 (7,553) and out - patients, 6,439 (6,019) for a total of 14,220 (13,572). Examinations for in - patients totaled 11,209 (10,749); out-patients 8,120 (7,815) for a grand total of 19,329 (18,564); films 52,687 (48,665; flouroscopic examinations 2,510 (2,550); regular chest X-rays 3,763 (3,688); admissions 2,006 (2,076); survey 404 (345); for a total 6,173 (6,109).

Laboratory exams for house patients during the year totaled 127,267, compared to 92,929 in 1967; out-patients showed a total of 13,760 in 1968, and 7,077 in 1967.

Blood transfusions totaled 737 for 1968 and 654 in 1967. The hospital bank lab handled 923 units in 1968 compared to 929 the previous year. Donors gave 797 that year, an increase of the 647 of 1967. Typing and cross match amounted to 1,103 in 1968, compared to 957 in 1967.

A total of 1,325 children were admitted to pediatrics during 1968, with 6,124 patient days of care at an average length of stay of 4.6 days.

The laundry processed 527,547 pounds of 19,758 items during the year, compared to 531,068 pounds including 16,993 items in 1967. There were 243,331 meals served in 1968 and 241,312 in 1967. The pharmacy filled 150,091 prescriptions in 1968, compared to 150,365 in 1967.

Of the 413 number of employes utilized during 1968, 348 were full-time and 65 were part-time. In 1967, there were 380 employes with 287 full-time and 93 part-time workers.

Nursing service days logged, with the 1967 figures in parenthesis, showed: supervisors 1,214 (1,257); head nurses 3,250 (3,316); staff nurses 17,803 (17,392); private duty 478 (566); nurse aides and orderlies 22,604 (22,600); and student nurses 5,461 (5,278) for a total of 50,810 (50,469).

MEDICARE admissions in 1968 amounted to 1,473, the same as in 1967. The percentage of medicare admissions to total admissions (8,591) was 17.1 per cent in 1968, compared to 17.2 per cent in the 1967 listings.

Medicare patient days logged amounted to 21,522, less than the 1967 total of 22,222. The percentage of Medicare patient days to total patient days (63,032) in 1968 was 34.1 per cent, as compared to 1967's 35 per cent.

The Women's auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Martin, logged 14,569 hours from Jan. 1, 1968, to Dec. 31. Of these total hours, 9,594 were given by auxiliary members and 4,975 by members of the various Twigs. Projects included Baby Photos, 36 hours, Book Cart 481; Gift Project, 601, Remembrance Fund and Chapel Checks, 100; Snack Bar 11,440; Surgical Dressings 535; Washington Elm Twig, DAR sewing 693.

In addition, the auxiliary contributed one - half the cost of the beds, mattresses and safety sides for the Men's Ward. The members served as hostesses for the auxiliary of the medical staff served as hostess at the capping exercises.

The Washington Elm Twig made 123 dozen diapers and 29 dozen receiving blankets—all the cloth diapers and blankets used in the newborn nursery. The group purchased a new electric sewing machine for the work.

Volunteers of the American Red Cross, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Hays and Mrs. J. D. Thompson served 3,711 hours.

The East Liverpool Ministerial Association continued its service of chaplaincy for hospital patients with the Rev. William L. Mautz serving as chaplain. Individuals and groups, including clubs, Sunday school classes and schools, remembered patients in a variety of ways, Miss Robinson noted.

Bibles were presented for every bed unit by the Christian Business Men's Committee, and many church and patriotic groups and individuals gave magazine subscriptions and books. Favors were made and delivered to the hospital on special occasions, and carol singing was undertaken by groups including the Student Nurses, the Sweet Adelines and others.

The Jaycees and their annual guest, Santa Claus, visited the hospital, headed by Larry Walton, assisted by Vincent Laneve, Frank Moss, Mark Templin (Santa Claus) and Jack Spratley (the clown), completing "another very successful, fulfilling year," Miss Robinson concluded.

Electronic-Minded

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Burglars who knew enough about electronic equipment to disconnect high voltage lines dismantled about $30,000 worth of gear and knocked radio station WELW off the air Sunday.

"They took the most valuable stuff and left everything else," said chief engineer Ted Alexander.

The theft was discovered Sunday morning when a part time engineer, Archie Cox, 38, arrived to put the station on the air.

Billing Machine Offers Studied

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewage departments, took under advisement two bids received this morning on purchase of a billing machine and receipting equipment for its office.

The National Cash Register Co. of Dayton filed a net bid of $5,146 on a No. 42 billing machine. The offer specified a price of $5,130, plus $16 for freight. It said delivery could be made in five to six months. The same firm offered a No. 41 validating machine at $3,516.

The Burroughs Corp. of Detroit filed a net bid of $5,896.84 on a Model F35303 billing machine, not including receipting equipment. Its offer was $6,540, less a $654 discount and plus $10.84 for freight. The company also offered $100 for the department's old billing machine.

Motorist Fined

NEW CUMBERLAND — A Clarksburg man was fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge when he appeared Saturday before Squire John D. Herron. Cited by state police was William B. Connolly, 27, of Clarksburg.

The Air Force Academy football team is known as the Falcons.

Nursing service days logged, with the 1967 figures in parenthesis, showed: supervisors 1,-214 (1,257); head nurses 3,-250 (3,316); staff nurses 17,803 (17,392); private duty 478 (566); nurse aides and orderlies 22,604 (22,600); and student nurses 5,461 (5,278) for a total of 50,810 (50,469).

MEDICARE admissions in 1968 amounted to 1,473, the same as in 1967. The percentage of medicare admissions to total admissions (8,591) was 17.1 per cent in 1968, compared to 17.2 per cent in the 1967 listings.

Medicare patient days logged amounted to 21,522, less than the 1967 total of 22,222. The percentage of Medicare patient days to total patient days (63,032) in 1968 was 34.1 per cent, as compared to 1967's 35 per cent.

The Women's auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Martin, logged 14,569 hours from Jan. 1, 1968, to Dec. 31. Of these total hours, 9,594 were given by auxiliary members and 4,975 by members of the various Twigs. Projects included Baby Photos, 36 hours, Book Cart 481; Gift Project, 601, Remembrance Fund and Chapel Checks, 100; Snack Bar 11,440; Surgical Dressings 535; Washington Elm Twig, DAR sewing 693.

In addition, the auxiliary contributed one - half the cost of the beds, mattresses and safety sides for the Men's Ward. The members served as hostesses for the auxiliary of the medical staff served as hostess at the capping exercises.

The Washington Elm Twig made 123 dozen diapers and 29 dozen receiving blankets—all the cloth diapers and blankets used in the newborn nursery. The group purchased a new electric sewing machine for the work.

Volunteers of the American Red Cross, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Hays and Mrs. J. D. Thompson served 3,711 hours.

The East Liverpool Ministerial Association continued its service of chaplaincy for hospital patients with the Rev. William L. Mautz serving as chaplain. Individuals and groups, including clubs, Sunday school classes and schools, remembered patients in a variety of ways, Miss Robinson noted.

Bibles were presented for every bed unit by the Christian Business Men's Committee, and many church and patriotic groups and individuals gave magazine subscriptions and books. Favors were made and delivered to the hospital on special occasions, and carol singing was undertaken by groups including the Student Nurses, the Sweet Adelines and others.

The Jaycees and their annual guest, Santa Claus, visited the hospital, headed by Larry Walton, assisted by Vincent Laneve, Frank Moss, Mark Templin (Santa Claus) and Jack Spratley (the clown), completing "another very successful, fulfilling year," Miss Robinson concluded.

Electronic-Minded

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—Burglars who knew enough about electronic equipment to disconnect high voltage lines dismantled about $30,000 worth of gear and knocked radio station WELW off the air Sunday.

"They took the most valuable stuff and left everything else," said chief engineer Ted Alexander.

The theft was discovered Sunday morning when a part time engineer, Archie Cox, 38, arrived to put the station on the air.

Billing Machine Offers Studied

The Board of Public Utilities, which administers the water and sewage departments, took under advisement two bids received this morning on purchase of a billing machine and receipting equipment for its office.

The National Cash Register Co. of Dayton filed a net bid of $5,146 on a No. 42 billing machine. The offer specified a price of $5,130, plus $16 for freight. It said delivery could be made in five to six months. The same firm offered a No. 41 validating machine at $3,516.

The Burroughs Corp. of Detroit filed a net bid of $5,896.84 on a Model F35303 billing machine, not including receipting equipment. Its offer was $6,540, less a $654 discount and plus $10.84 for freight. The company also offered $100 for the department's old billing machine.

Motorist Fined

NEW CUMBERLAND — A Clarksburg man was fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge when he appeared Saturday before Squire John D. Herron. Cited by state police was William B. Connolly, 27, of Clarksburg.

ANN LANDERS

Battery Has Two Poles

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: May I ask the woman who complained about being married to a "dead battery" for 20 years if she believes batteries go dead all of a sudden or does someone turn off the switch?

How many married women are so "ladylike" that they wouldn't dream of letting their husbands know they're not only interested but eager? How many wives believe it's vulgar to be an active participant?

And the sorriest ones of all are the passive numbers who are afraid to demonstrate any degree of expertise for fear their husbands will think they've been practicing.

Any woman who describes her husband as a dead battery must accept some responsibility for the loss of current. Please tell the girls there are two poles to every battery and both must function or the power goes off. — TOPEKA.

Dear Topeka: You speak the truth, lady and I assume you're a lady and not a gent. That bit about the expertise was the tipoff. I hope your letter helps to charge a few thousand batteries around the country.

Student Protest

Dear Ann. We're a group of high school students who respect your opinion and want to know if we're wrong.

A member of our class died last week and we all felt very sad about it. A group of us went to the prinicpal's office and asked to be excused from school an hour early to attend the funeral. The principal told us it was up to the board of education to grant such permission and that he has no such authority.

We called the board of education and spoke with the superintendent of schools. He told us the decision rests with the head of the administration of the school — in other words, the principal.

That same week several students were dismissed early to see a play downtown. It's a pretty rotten world when students can't leave school to attend funeral services for a friend, but can be excused to see a play.

What do you think of this, Ann Landers? — DISGRUNTLED STUDENTS.

Dear Students: I'm shocked and suspicious. Your letter comes from Buffalo. When I visited Buffalo a few years ago I was impressed with not only the students but the faculty and administration of the high schools I visited.

You do not say whether you went back to the principal and reported your conversation with the superintendent, nor do you say whether or not you finally attended the services.

Send me the name of your school and the principal. It will add credibility to your story.

Confidentially

To Quo Vadis: It's bad enough to allow a fool to kiss you, but YOU allowed a kiss to fool you. I admire your lofty standards, but please don't assume that everyone attaches that much importance to a kiss.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The DOCTOR Says

'Ticker' Needs Slow Resting Rate

Q—I am a man, 66. My pulse is 40 to 48 when I am relaxed. What is the normal resting rate? Would a slow pulse indicate hardening of the arteries?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — Although 72 is the average resting rate, a rate of 30 is compatible with health if there is no electrocardiographc evidence of heart block. In general, a slow resting rate is preferable to a resting rate of 100—which is still within normal limits—because it indicates more complete relaxation. It does not suggest hardening of the arteries.

Q — I have a rheumatic valvular heart disease. My doctor says I will need an operation in a year or two. What kind of operation would I need and why?

A—In general, operations for valvular disease are of three kinds: (1) commisurotomy in which the opening in a tight valve is widened, (2) a bypass of the blood flow around an obstructed valve and (3) replacement of the diseased valve with an artificial one. All of these operations aim at restoring the heart to normal function.

Q—Is angina pectoris in any way affected by nervous tension? Can it be fatal?

A — Although attacks of angina may occur when the victim is relaxed or even sleeping, nervous tension is often a preciptating factor. A person with angina may live for 48 years after the diagnosis is made but sudden death during an attack is a possibility, especially if the victim has neglected to carry his nitroglycerin tablets (or their equivalent) with him.

Q—A friend who has angina pectoris takes nitroglycerin. Is there any limit to the number of tablets she can take in a day?

A—No. Some victims take 25 to 30 tablets a day.

Q — My doctor says I have angina pectoris. He gave me itramin tosylate. Is it habit forming? What are its side effects?

A—This new drug is not habit forming. No serious side effects have as yet been reported.

Q — Is Elavil a tranquilizer? Does it contain phenobarbital? Will it quiet an irritable bowel? What are the side effects? Can one stop taking it abruptly?

A — Elavil is an antidepressant rather than a tranquilizer. It contains no barbital. It has no direct action on the bowel in the usual dosage but large doses may cause constipation. Other side effects include drowsiness, dry mouth, tremors, weakness and blurred vision. It can be discontinued abruptly without danger.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Truitt Will Face Air Piracy And Kidnap Charges

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The grandson of the late U.S. Vice President Alben Barkley is back in the United States to face charges of air piracy and kidnaping.

But Alben W. Truitt, 35, says he is guilty only of foolish conduct in events which led to him being charged with forcing the pilot of a chartered Cessna 177 to fly him from Key West, Fla., to Cuba last Oct. 23.

The FBI took Truitt into custody Saturday at the U.S.-Canadian border in nearby Champlain after he withdrew an appeal to an order deporting him from Canada.

Truitt, being held in lieu of $100,000 bail, was to be arraigned here today.

Truitt was ordered held in Clinton County jail after a hearing Sunday before U.S. Commissioner Joseph W. Kelley was continued until today.

The indictment against Truitt was returned Feb. 6 by a grand jury in Miami, Fla.

Truitt has said he was held under house arrest in Havana following his flight there.

"I just confess I was terrified," he said in a recent interview. Anyone who makes unauthorized trips to Cuba "may wind up dead," he said.

Truitt said he is a journalist and went to Cuba to write a book.

He said instead he was finally placed aboard a Cuban ship bound for France, which he left at Saint John, N.B. He made a brief swing into the United States and then re-entered Canada.

With malice toward none; with charity for all: with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right....

Murder Trial In 5th Week

Criminal Defense Lawyer Calls Sirhan 'Sick Man'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We've got a sick man there," veteran criminal attorney Russell E. Parsons said of his client, Sirhan Bishara Sirhan. "I treat him as such."

An observer hardly would guess the gaunt young Jordanian is on trial for his life.

In court, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, he often smiles as though delighted with some private joke.

His darting brown eyes appraise miniskirted newswomen and other courtroom visitors. To a defense investigator visiting his cell he expressed the wish that a particularly striking blonde reporter would smile at him amid "all those deadpan faces."

The trial enters its fifth week today. Selection of six alternate jurors is expected to be completed, followed by opening arguments and launching of the prosecution's case.

Sirhan smiled at a courtroom artist's sketches of him, relayed through the investigator. During a recess he whistled as he entered a security room adjoining the court.

At the moment that a prosecutor was asking a prospective alternate juror if he could vote "death in the gas chamber," Sirhan was smiling and whispering eagerly into Parsons' ear.

"Down" periods come when he sits quietly and listens solemn-faced to the drone of questions from judge and attorneys to prospective alternate jurors.

Said his brother Munir, 21, "He's anxious to get rolling"—that is, for testimony to start.

Said his tiny mother Mary, 55, "Sometimes he is depressed, sometimes not, just as any other man would be."

Once a week or oftener, family members and Parsons visit Sirhan in his heavily guarded cell five floors above the eighth-floor courtroom in the hall of justice.

Defense questions of jury candidates have made clear that the defense will be diminished capacity. The contention is that a man can be sane yet, because of the state of his mind, have diminished responsiblity for a violent act.

The defense admits Sirhan fired the pistol shots that felled Kennedy early last June 5 at the Ambassador Hotel during celebration of his victory in California's Democratic presidential primary. The issue will be Sirhan's state of mind at the time.

Psychiatrists and psychologists will be called.

Parsons and investigator McCowan gave these other glimpses of the Sirhan on trail:

He smokes five or six packages of cigarettes a day—fewer on trial days. He recently switched from cigars, which he took up earlier in jail.

After a day in court he sits reading books on history, the Middle East and the Arab-Israel problem.

His weight is about the same as when he was arrested eight months ago—110 pounds. He's pale, said Parsons, because "He hasn't seen the sun in all that time."

Personalities In The News

LONDON (AP) — Hilda Gadea, first wife of the late Che Guevara, is visiting London to speak to the Movement for Colonial Freedom, but has remained silent about her life with the revolutionary.

Miss Gadea, a Peruvian economist who now lives in Havana, introduced Guevara to Fidel and Raul Castro.

She spoke on the general topic of Latin America's revolutionaries and their future, to the disappointment of 100 people who hoped to gather personal recollections of Che.

LONDON (AP) — Prince Michael of Kent will become the first member of Britain's royal family to visit an Iron Curtain country when he competes in an international bobsled competition in Sinaia, Romania.

The Prince, 26, a brother of the Duke of Kent and cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, will drive the 1,300 miles from London to Romania. He will be accompanied by Squardron Leader Freddie Allan, a Royal Air Force pilot.

A captain in the 11th Hussars, a cavalry regiment, Prince Michael was selected for the British bobsled team after winning the English Inter-Services two-man championship at the Blue Lake track at Cervinia, Italy, during the weekend.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Quartermaster 1.C. Charles B. Law Jr., a crewman on the USS Pueblo, and Marie Louise Cherry were married Sunday in the Mission Bay restaurant where they met five weeks ago.

Law, 24, of Chehalis, Wash., and the bride, a secretary for a landscaping firm, were married by the Rev. Chet Castellaw of the First Church of Religious Science. Thirty other Pueblo crewmen, including Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, attended.

Shortly after the 82 surviving Pueblo crewmen returned from North Korea last December, Storekeeper 3.C. Edward Russell of Glendale, Calif., wed his long-time sweetheart.

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Michel Colin, self-proclaimed Pope Clement XV, has founded "The New Church of Christ" in a drafty three-room apartment here.

Colin, 63, a French former priest, said Christ told him, "You will become a priest, then a bishop and finally pope."

Now known as the Antipope of Fatima, Colin met with newsmen accompanied by two of his cardinals. He wore purple robes and an ermine cape.

Colin says the official church "is no longer able to enlighten anyone."

Telephone Operators End Strike At Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—United Telephone Co. operators were to return to work today after Sunday's approval of a new contract, ending a six-week strike.

The operators walked out Dec. 31 when the old contract expired. Terms of the new pact were not disclosed.

'Full' Gas Tank Danger Cited In Heated Garage

LISBON — A full gasoline tank can prevent condensation of water and gas line freeze-ups but it is a potential hazard, according to Dr. M. K. Singer, Columbiana County health commissioner here.

"In a heated garage, for instance, a full tank can suddenly turn ino a miniature atomic bomb," he warned.

He explains it like this:

Cold gasoline when exposed to heat expands to the overflow position, causing gasoline to spill to the floor of the garage and gasoline vapors to form. These vapors have three characteristics:

(1) They are high explosive, (2) they are invisible at normal temperatures and (3) they are heavier than air. This means that the vapors hug the floor and find their way to the furnace or hot water heater where they explode and started a fire.

"Avoid filling your tank too full if your garage is heated and attached to your home," the doctor advised.

Ohioan Claims Historic First In Ocean Kite-Flying Effort

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ben Blinn says his successful kite-flying venture over the Atlantic Ocean was an "historic first."

"Columbus and Lindberg were first in boats and planes — we were first in kites," the Columbus millionaire said after learning that one of his big kites reached the English coast.

The 70-year-old Blinn and a colleague, Walter H. Scott, 71, launched 18 five-foot-long kites from Nantucket Island in June of 1967.

Attached to each kite was a plastic bottle containing a typewriten note with Blinn's address and a message asking that he be notified where it was found. Each bottle also contained half of a dollar bill with a promise the finder would be sent the other half.

Last Jan. 31 a sea shell collector found one of the bottles on the Cornish coast near St. Austell, England.

John Ord of Cornwall, England, who collects sea shells as a hobby, said he nearly threw the bottle away.

"When my cousin, Edward Dungey, and I found the bottle on the beach about 10 days ago, we thought it wasn't worth bothering about," said Ord, 25, who works in a clay mine in Cornwall.

He said they didn't know whether to take the note seriously. "Then we decided that if somebody had gone to the trouble of sending the bottle off on the other side of the Atlantic, he would be pleased to hear from us," Ord said.

Blinn said he and Scott will go to England to collect the evidence of the trans-Atlantic feat.

Although records are not kept of such things, Blinn said he believes they completed the first trans-Atlantic kite flight.

Thieves Grab Furs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thieves struck at Lowenthal's Furs Inc. over the weekend and an inventory showed that approximately $150,000 in furs—much of it mink—were taken.

Workers Vote To End Westinghouse Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Striking electrical workers have voted to end a strike and are scheduled to return to work today at Westinghouse Electric Corp.'s East Pittsburgh plant.

Local 601, International Union of Electrical Workers, voted unanimously Sunday to end their 18 day walkout. The workers walked out Jan. 22 in a dispute over job classifications.

The Apollo 8 spacecraft sent back 51,200 bits of information per second, enough to fill a standard encyclopedia in an hour.

Murder Trial In 5th Week

Criminal Defense Lawyer Calls Sirhan 'Sick Man'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We've got a sick man there," veteran criminal attorney Russell E. Parsons said of his client, Sirhan Bishara Sirhan. "I treat him as such."

An observer hardly would guess the gaunt young Jordanian is on trial for his life.

In court, charged with murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, he often smiles as though delighted with some private joke.

His darting brown eyes appraise miniskirted newswomen and other courtroom visitors. To a defense investigator visiting his cell he expressed the wish that a particularly striking blonde reporter would smile at him amid "all those deadpan faces."

The trial enters its fifth week today. Selection of six alternate jurors is expected to be completed, followed by opening arguments and launching of the prosecution's case.

Sirhan smiled at a courtroom artist's sketches of him, relayed through the investigator. During a recess he whistled as he entered a security room adjoining the court.

At the moment that a prosecutor was asking a prospective alternate juror if he could vote "death in the gas chamber," Sirhan was smiling and whispering eagerly into Parsons' ear.

"Down" periods come when he sits quietly and listens solemn-faced to the drone of questions from judge and attorneys to prospective alternate jurors.

Said his brother Munir, 21, "He's anxious to get rolling"—that is, for testimony to start.

Said his tiny mother Mary, 55, "Sometimes he is depressed, sometimes not, just as any other man would be."

Once a week or oftener, family members and Parsons visit Sirhan in his heavily guarded cell five floors above the eighth-floor courtroom in the hall of justice.

Defense questions of jury candidates have made clear that the defense will be diminished capacity. The contention is that a man can be sane yet, because of the state of his mind, have diminished responsiblity for a violent act.

The defense admits Sirhan fired the pistol shots that felled Kennedy early last June 5 at the Ambassador Hotel during celebration of his victory in California's Democratic presidential primary. The issue will be Sirhan's state of mind at the time.

Psychiatrists and psychologists will be called.

Parsons and investigator McCowan gave these other glimpses of the Sirhan on trail:

He smokes five or six packages of cigarettes a day—fewer on trial days. He recently switched from cigars, which he took up earlier in jail.

After a day in court he sits reading books on history, the Middle East and the Arab-Israel problem.

His weight is about the same as when he was arrested eight months ago—110 pounds. He's pale, said Parsons, because "He hasn't seen the sun in all that time."

Personalities In The News

LONDON (AP) — Hilda Gadea, first wife of the late Che Guevara, is visiting London to speak to the Movement for Colonial Freedom, but has remained silent about her life with the revolutionary.

Miss Gadea, a Peruvian economist who now lives in Havana, introduced Guevara to Fidel and Raul Castro.

She spoke on the general topic of Latin America's revolutionaries and their future, to the disappointment of 100 people who hoped to gather personal recollections of Che.

LONDON (AP) — Prince Michael of Kent will become the first member of Britain's royal family to visit an Iron Curtain country when he competes in an international bobsled competition in Sinaia, Romania.

The Prince, 26, a brother of the Duke of Kent and cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, will drive the 1,300 miles from London to Romania. He will be accompanied by Squardron Leader Freddie Allan, a Royal Air Force pilot.

A captain in the 11th Hussars, a cavalry regiment, Prince Michael was selected for the British bobsled team after winning the English Inter-Services two-man championship at the Blue Lake track at Cervinia, Italy, during the weekend.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Quartermaster 1.C. Charles B. Law Jr., a crewman on the USS Pueblo, and Marie Louise Cherry were married Sunday in the Mission Bay restaurant where they met five weeks ago.

Law, 24, of Chehalis, Wash., and the bride, a secretary for a landscaping firm, were married by the Rev. Chet Castellaw of the First Church of Religious Science. Thirty other Pueblo crewmen, including Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, attended.

Shortly after the 82 surviving Pueblo crewmen returned from North Korea last December, Storekeeper 3.C. Edward Russell of Glendale, Calif., wed his long-time sweetheart.

Wellsville Rallies In Final Period To Down Springfield

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Once again, the active Cleveland Grandstand managers Club has polled its members on a vital baseball question, the proposed "wild card" substitution rule changes.

Last week the club members voted on the player-owner split, with the majority siding with the owners. I agree with that vote, but this week I can't go along with the fan majority, which favors, by 64 per cent, adoption of the wild card rule.

THIS RULE would permit a player to be used twice during a game as a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner, with the player pinch-hit or pinch-run for not having to leave the game.

One fan backed his opinion with the idea that the new rule would provide more jobs for players, with the introduction of specialists. But such a rule change would bring about need for players. Few pinch-hitters and pinch - runners would be needed, fewer utility men and above all, fewer relief pitchers.

But the number of players needed is not the main reason the rule would be bad. You could practically eliminate the post of manager. One of the great things about baseball is the strategy, which is clear to fans, as strategy in football and basketball isn't always. The manager has to weigh the advantages of the starter vs. the reliefer against the weak hitting of the pitcher and the strength of a pinch-hitter. Or should the pinch-hitter be used now or saved. Or is the slow-footed but heavy-hitting player so much of a liability on the basepaths in a certain situation that he should be removed for a faster man at the price of losing the strong bat.

All these moves would be made automatic by the new rule. Much of the strategy would be gone from the game, to the consequential dilution of the enjoyment of the fans.

MIDLAND'S Sim Hill has dropped out of the top 40 major college basketball scores, but Dave Sorenson of Ohio State has moved up to 24th. Larry Lewis of St. Francis has maintained his lead in rebounding, with the Frankies fourth as a team. Marshall is eighth.

Cincinnati is 10th in defense, Penn State 11th, Duquesne 13th and Kent State 18th.

Bobalik, Ross Pace Tiger Win

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Scoring over half its points in the final period, Wellsville overcame upset-minded Springfield 57-43 in a Buckeye Border Conference basketball game Saturday night at Wellsville.

The Flying Tigers, hoping for an upset of the league champs, slowed the game down, with good success, for three periods. But a technical foul on coach Bob Raber, who was shooting for a victory on the anniversary of the tragic death of his wife and sister-in-law in a home accident, gave the momentum to Wellsville, and once the Tigers started rolling they were unstoppable.

Wellsville hit a mediocre 31 per cent from the field the first half and only 45 per cent from the foul line. Springfield led 19-17 at intermission and boosted the margin to 25-17 as the home team continued cold, making only one of the first seven shots it tried in the third period.

But with the score 25-19 and Springfield in possession, Raber was assessed a technical, though he didn't leave the bench. The foul shot was missed, but on the ensuing possession Wellsville got two points and started on a 22-3 surge that put it 11 points ahead early in the final period. The winners hit 12 of 14 field goal attempts during this time, as Springfield kept turning the ball over against the Wellsville press.

Joe D'Angelo put Wellsville ahead for good 27-26 when he got his only two points of the game, a fast-break field goal, with 10 seconds to go in the third period. But it was Rick Ross, who came off the bench to score 14 points, who really gave the home team the spark when it needed it. John Bobalik led all scorers with 22 points. Jack McConnaughy paced the losers with 20. Wellsville had a 31-30 rebounding edge, as Bobalik had 7 for the winners and McConnaughy and Tom Prisbylla 7 each for Springfield. The significant statistic was the turnovers, where Wellsville made only 10 to 20 by the visitors.

Both teams played good defense the first three periods, but Springfield would consistently shake men loose for drives to the basket. "We didn't execute some fundamentals", said winning coach Bob Dawson.

But in the last period, the game turned into the fast-breaking type of contest that Wellsville excels at. Hitting 13 of 19 shots in the final period the Tigers ended up shooting 49 per cent for the game compared to 41 per cent by the losers. Their foul line accuracy improved to 61 per cent overall, also.

Wellsville led 9-6, but Springfield put on an 11-2 surge and led the rest of the way until the winners took the lead for good. Springfield worked the ball for good shots and played surprisingly well against the taller Tigers, especially when it is considered that starter Tom Gregor missed the game due to a sprained ankle. The lack of depth hurt, as only four players scored.

Dawson was not happy over the performance of the Tigers, but said "I guess I should be pleased that we can play a bad game and still win." Wellsville is 13-3, Springfield 6-11.

The reserve game was very lopsided, as Wellsville rolled to its 13th win in 16 starts, 68-29. The Little Tigers sprang to a 34-11 lead and tore off huge chunks of points all through the game, the most being 14 in a row to make it 59-21. John Lewis had 20 and Jeff McGraw 14 for the winners, while Steve Nowalk led the losers with a mere 6. McGraw had 10 rebounds and his cousin Bob McGraw 11, as Wellsville had a 49-32 edge in that department. Wellsville hit 52 per cent to 23 per cent by the losers and had fewer turnovers, 17 to 19.

Rod Laver Tops Roche On Rally

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rod Laver has a new cure for a backache—five games of tennis.

Laver, a 30-year-old Australian, was due on court Sunday for his best three-of-five set final against countryman Tony Roche in the Philadelphia International Indoor Open Tennis Tournament. But Laver's back ached. It seemed he pulled a muscle a few days ago and it was acting up.

So Laver took a hot shower. Then he had some linament applied. That didn't help much. The final match got under way and Laver looked like a guy with a backache.

Roche, who could be the second best tennis player in the world—Laver is acknowledged No. 1—zipped to a 4-1 lead. The 23-year-old Roche appeared ready to tear up his fellow Aussie for the third time in their last four meetings.

Suddenly, the tide changed. Laver began to hit the shots that made him the No. 1 pro money winner in 1968 with earnings of $70,359. Roche appeared to press a little. The strokes he had been scoring with earlier now were just out.

Laver tied it at 4-4, and went on to take the set and the match by 7-5, 6-4, 6-4. His efforts earned him the $7,000 top prize.

Casper Wins Hope Golf

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper finally got off the launching pad and onto the victory strand. A position he occupied six times in golf in 1968.

A nonwinner in this new season, Casper forged from behind in the final round to capture the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic Sunday at the par 36-33—72 Indian Wells Country Club.

The 37-year-old Californian pocketed $20,000 a nice start in a bid to repeat as the game's leading money winner. He was tops with $205,000 last year.

A last-round six-under par 66 for a 90-hole score of 345-15 under par for the marathon—was three shots in front of Dave Hill's 348 last round 66. Hill, from Evergreen, Colo., won his second largest purse, $11,400.

Such stars as defending champion Arnold Palmer, a former winner, Jack Nicklaus, as well as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, did not fare well on the bright and sunny day.

Never serious threats, Nicklaus had a final 69 for 345 and $1,350 Trevino 71 for 353 and $1,800 and Palmer 70 for 356 and $755.

Casper and the sentimental favorite of the show, Art Wall Jr., rounded the turn into the final nine holes all even.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion and one of the tigers of the 50s, began to wilt and Casper virtually settled it all with an eagle 3 on the 478-yard 14th hole Billy hit a No. 4 wood 25 feet from the cup and sank it.

It was a breeze on in but Casper, a determined guy, went for another eagle 3 on the last green from 45 feet. The ball laged up short three feet and he closed out with a birdie.

"My goal was to get off to a good start," said Casper. "At no time later did I ever have it in mind to play conservatively.

Pierce Takes Big Lead As Duffy, Crooks Falter

Posting a 7-3 mark, Turk Pierce took a three - game lead among the Review Cage Yogis going into the final week of the season.

Challengers Bob Duffy and Bill Crooks both went 5-5, with Pete Weaver, Lorin Howard, Rose Nuzzo and Bob Shaffer, who joined with Pierce in the consensus, all went 7-3.

The Yogis were foiled in Southern's 75-65 win over Beaver Local, Stanton's 69-55 win over Springfield and Columbiana's 53-51 win over Lisbon. In addition, Duffy and Crooks fell with Lisbon in its 76-60 loss to Poland and with Western Beaver in its 52-46 loss to West Allegheny.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool's 54-38 win over Salem, Weirton Madonna's 92-67 win over Oak Glen, Midland's 67-51 win over Hopewell, Coraopolis' 92-74 win over South Side and Wellsville's 57-43 triumph over Springfield.

Stanton Wins Finale, Downs Adena 51-39

IRONDALE — Stanton ended its basketball season on a winning note Saturday night by defeating visiting Adena 51-39.

Dave Olesky paced the Red Raiders with 15 points and Tim Logan added 12. Rich Kokiko had 13 for the losers.

Stanton hit 39 per cent to 25 per cent by the losers. The winners led all the way. The victory reversed a 47-46 win by Adena at Adena.

Stanton ended the season 5-13, Adena closed 2-16.

The Stanton reserves also won, 46-41, as Rick Reynolds scored 15 for the winners and John Oltojvich 17 for the losers. The reserves also ended 5-13.

Wellsville Rallies In Final Period To Down Springfield

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Once again, the active Cleveland Grandstand managers Club has polled its members on a vital baseball question, the proposed "wild card" substitution rule changes.

Last week the club members voted on the player-owner split, with the majority siding with the owners. I agree with that vote, but this week I can't go along with the fan majority, which favors, by 64 per cent, adoption of the wild card rule.

THIS RULE would permit a player to be used twice during a game as a pinch-hitter or pinch-runner, with the player pinch-hit or pinch-run for not having to leave the game.

One fan backed his opinion with the idea that the new rule would provide more jobs for players, with the introduction of specialists. But such a rule change would bring about need for players. Few pinch-hitters and pinch - runners would be needed, fewer utility men and above all, fewer relief pitchers.

But the number of players needed is not the main reason the rule would be bad. You could practically eliminate the post of manager. One of the great things about baseball is the strategy, which is clear to fans, as strategy in football and basketball isn't always. The manager has to weigh the advantages of the starter vs. the reliefer against the weak hitting of the pitcher and the strength of a pinch-hitter. Or should the pinch-hitter be used now or saved. Or is the slow-footed but heavy-hitting player so much of a liability on the basepaths in a certain situation that he should be removed for a faster man at the price of losing the strong bat.

All these moves would be made automatic by the new rule. Much of the strategy would be gone from the game, to the consequential dilution of the enjoyment of the fans.

MIDLAND'S Sim Hill has dropped out of the top 40 major college basketball scores, but Dave Sorenson of Ohio State has moved up to 24th. Larry Lewis of St. Francis has maintained his lead in rebounding, with the Frankies fourth as a team. Marshall is eighth.

Cincinnati is 10th in defense, Penn State 11th, Duquesne 13th and Kent State 18th.

Bobalik, Ross Pace Tiger Win

By TURK PIERCE

Scoring over half its points in the final period, Wellsville overcame upset-minded Springfield 57-43 in a Buckeye Border Conference basketball game Saturday night at Wellsville.

The Flying Tigers, hoping for an upset of the league champs, slowed the game down, with good success, for three periods. But a technical foul on coach Bob Raber, who was shooting for a victory on the anniversary of the tragic death of his wife and sister-in-law in a home accident, gave the momentum to Wellsville, and once the Tigers started rolling they were unstoppable.

Wellsville hit a mediocre 31 per cent from the field the first half and only 45 per cent from the foul line. Springfield led 19-17 at intermission and boosted the margin to 25-17 as the home team continued cold, making only one of the first seven shots it tried in the third period.

But with the score 25-19 and Springfield in possession, Raber was assessed a technical, though he didn't leave the bench. The foul shot was missed, but on the ensuing possession Wellsville got two points and started on a 22-3 surge that put it 11 points ahead early in the final period. The winners hit 12 of 14 field goal attempts during this time, as Springfield kept turning the ball over against the Wellsville press.

Joe D'Angelo put Wellsville ahead for good 27-26 when he got his only two points of the game, a fast-break field goal, with 10 seconds to go in the third period. But it was Rick Ross, who came off the bench to score 14 points, who really gave the home team the spark when it needed it. John Bobalik led all scorers with 22 points. Jack McConnaughy paced the losers with 20. Wellsville had a 31-30 rebounding edge, as Bobalik had 7 for the winners and McConnaughy and Tom Prisbylla 7 each for Springfield. The significant statistic was the turnovers, where Wellsville made only 10 to 20 by the visitors.

Both teams played good defense the first three periods, but Springfield would consistently shake men loose for drives to the basket. "We didn't execute some fundamentals", said winning coach Bob Dawson.

But in the last period, the game turned into the fast-breaking type of contest that Wellsville excels at. Hitting 13 of 19 shots in the final period the Tigers ended up shooting 49 per cent for the game compared to 41 per cent by the losers. Their foul line accuracy improved to 61 per cent overall, also.

Wellsville led 9-6, but Springfield put on an 11-2 surge and led the rest of the way until the winners took the lead for good. Springfield worked the ball for good shots and played surprisingly well against the taller Tigers, especially when it is considered that starter Tom Gregor missed the game due to a sprained ankle. The lack of depth hurt, as only four players scored.

Dawson was not happy over the performance of the Tigers, but said "I guess I should be pleased that we can play a bad game and still win." Wellsville is 13-3, Springfield 6-11.

The reserve game was very lopsided, as Wellsville rolled to its 13th win in 16 starts, 68-29. The Little Tigers sprang to a 34-11 lead and tore off huge chunks of points all through the game, the most being 14 in a row to make it 59-21. John Lewis had 20 and Jeff McGraw 14 for the winners, while Steve Nowalk led the losers with a mere 6. McGraw had 10 rebounds and his cousin Bob McGraw 11, as Wellsville had a 49-32 edge in that department. Wellsville hit 52 per cent to 23 per cent by the losers and had fewer turnovers, 17 to 19.

Rod Laver Tops Roche On Rally

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rod Laver has a new cure for a backache—five games of tennis.

Laver, a 30-year-old Australian, was due on court Sunday for his best three-of-five set final against countryman Tony Roche in the Philadelphia International Indoor Open Tennis Tournament. But Laver's back ached. It seemed he pulled a muscle a few days ago and it was acting up.

So Laver took a hot shower. Then he had some liniament applied. That didn't help much. The final match got under way and Laver looked like a guy with a backache.

Roche, who could be the second best tennis player in the world—Laver is acknowledged No. 1—zipped to a 4-1 lead. The 23-year-old Roche appeared ready to tear up his fellow Aussie for the third time in their last four meetings.

Suddenly, the tide changed. Laver began to hit the shots that made him the No. 1 pro money winner in 1968 with earnings of $70,359. Roche appeared to press a little. The strokes he had been scoring with earlier now were just out.

Laver tied it at 4-4, and went on to take the set and the match by 7-5, 6-4, 6-4. His efforts earned him the $7,000 top prize.

Casper Wins Hope Golf

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper finally got off the launching pad and onto the victory strand. A position he occupied six times in golf in 1968.

A nonwinner in this new season, Casper forged from behind in the final round to capture the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic Sunday at the par 36-33—72 Indian Wells Country Club.

The 37-year-old Californian pocketed $20,000 a nice start in a bid to repeat as the game's leading money winner. He was tops with $205,000 last year.

A last-round six-under par 66 for a 90-hole score of 345-15 under par for the marathon—was three shots in front of Dave Hill's 348 last round 66. Hill, from Evergreen, Colo., won his second largest purse, $11,400.

Such stars as defending champion Arnold Palmer, a former winner, Jack Nicklaus, as well as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, did not fare well on the bright and sunny day.

Never serious threats, Nicklaus had a final 69 for 345 and $1,350 Trevino 71 for 353 and $1,800 and Palmer 70 for 356 and $755.

Casper and the sentimental favorite of the show, Art Wall Jr., rounded the turn into the final nine holes all even.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion and one of the tigers of the 50s, began to wilt and Casper virtually settled it all with an eagle 3 on the 478-yard 14th hole Billy hit a No. 4 wood 25 feet from the cup and sank it.

It was a breeze on in but Casper, a determined guy, went for another eagle 3 on the last green from 45 feet. The ball laged up short three feet and he closed out with a birdie.

"My goal was to get off to a good start," said Casper. "At no time later did I ever have it in mind to play conservatively.

In Cage Yogi Race

Pierce Takes Big Lead As Duffy, Crooks Falter

Posting a 7-3 mark, Turk Pierce took a three - game lead among the Review Cage Yogis going into the final week of the season.

Challengers Bob Duffy and Bill Crooks both went 5-5, with Pete Weaver, Lorin Howard, Rose Nuzzo and Bob Shaffer, who joined with Pierce in the consensus, all went 7-3.

The Yogis were foiled in Southern's 75-65 win over Beaver Local, Stanton's 69-55 win over Springfield and Columbiana's 53-51 win over Lisbon. In addition, Duffy and Crooks fell with Lisbon in its 76-60 loss to Poland and with Western Beaver in its 52-46 loss to West Allegheny.

Everyone was right on East Liverpool's 54-38 win over Salem, Weirton Madonna's 92-67 win over Oak Glen, Midland's 67-51 win over Hopewell, Coraopolis' 92-74 win over South Side and Wellsville's 57-43 triumph over Springfield.

UCLA, Santa Clara Roll Without Injured Stars

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA came up with an effective pain-killer for Lew Alcindor's headache, but Santa Clara might have trouble finding a remedy for Bud Ogden's sprained ankle.

A headache sent Alcindor to the bench early in the second half of UCLA's Pacific 8 Conference game against Washington State last Saturday.

The 7-foot-1½ All-American left the game after scoring 10 points, but teammates John Vallely, Lynn Shackelford, Curtis Rowe and Kenny Heitz picked up the slack as the top-ranked Bruins breezed to a 108-80 victory, their 18th without a loss this season.

No. 3 Santa Clara, the nation's only other unbeaten major power, extended its winning string to 20 with an 88-60 triumph over Pepperdine. But the Broncos lost sparkplug Ogden in the first half when the high-scoring, 6-foot-6 forward twisted an ankle. The extent of the injury was not reported as of Sunday night.

The two West Coast titans, heading toward a possible showdown in the NCAA Tournament, are idle this week until Saturday, when UCLA takes on Washington State again on the Cougars' court and Santa Clara visits San Francisco for a West Coast Athletic Conference scrap.

The Bruins, who have run off 38 successive victories since a two-point loss at Houston a year ago, are 10-0 in the Pacific 8 this season and lead runner-up Washington State by 1½ games. The Broncos, 7-0 in the WCAC, have a two-game edge on four pursuers but could have trouble staying unbeaten without Ogden up front.

Elsewhere last weekend, seventh-ranked LaSalle outscored No. 8 Villanova 74-67 in a Philadelphia summit clash and six other high-ranked teams won handily. No. 2 North Carolina bombed Florida State 100-82, No. 4 Kentucky trounced Mississippi 104-68 and No. 5 St. John's N.Y., stymied Army 65-43.

Sixth-ranked Davidson crushed George Washington 126-98, No. 9 Purdue whipped Northwestern 97-84 and No. 10 Illinois thrashed Iowa 98-69.

Vallely led the UCLA point-parade with 23 while Shackelford contributed 15, Rowe and Heitz 14 apiece. Ogden's brother, Ralph, and 6-foot-9 Dennis Awtrey each scored 17, keying the Santa Clara attack.

Ed Szczesny came off the LaSalle bench and hit three baskets down the stretch as the Explorers got past arch rival Villanova for their 18th victory in 19 starts. Soph Ken Durrett topped the LaSalle scorers with 20 points.

Charlie Scott put in 23 points and Bill Bunting 22 as North Carolina ran its season mark to 17-1. The Tar Heels are 8-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference but face rugged tests this week in North Carolina State and South Carolina.

Dan Issel's 26 points paced Kentucky's Southeastern Conference leaders to their 16th triumph in 18 games and Joe DePre scored 10 of 14 St. John's points in a second half getaway that sent the Redmen, 16-2, past Army.

Davidson rolled to its 48th consecutive home court victory behind 26-point performances by Mike Malyo and Jerry Kroll. The Wildcatts are 18-2 over-all and 7-0 in the Southern Conference.

Rick Mount's 31-point spree led Purdue to its sixth Big Ten Conference victory without a loss and soph Greg Jackson's regounding and defensive work helped Illinois tie 12th ranked Ohio State for the runner-up spot at 3-2. The Boilermakers are 13-3, the Illini 14-2 for the season.

Eleventh-ranked Tulsa raced to its 10th straight Missouri Valley Conference victory, topping Bradley 94-80 for an 18-2 season mark. Ohio State, 12-4, was upset by Wisconsin 77-73.

Kansas, No. 13, squeezed past Oklahoma 66-59 in overtime to stay within one-half game of 20th-ranked Colorado's Big Eight Conference leaders, who edged Nebraska 83-81.

But 14th-ranked Columbia bowed to Penn 91-81 and slipped two full games behind front-running Princeton in the Ivy League title chase. The Tigers beat Cornell 67-57 for an 8-0 Ivy mark.

Duquesne, No. 15, throttled Holy Cross 98-80 Sunday for its 15th victory in 17 starts.

Miami Eyes MAC Title As Ohio U. Takes Loss

By The Associated Press

Miami's tight defense came through again Saturday as the Redskins defeated Bowling Green 66-62 for a firmer hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference basketball standings.

Ten title hopes dealt a severe blow by Wisconsin Saturday, was hoping to pull an upset of its own against league-leading Purdue Tuesday night.

Miami Coach Tates Locke, whose team finished No. 5 in the MAC last season, said after Saturday's game that the Redskins have "got a chance at" the league crown.

The victory gave Miami an 8-1 MAC record. The nearest contender is Ohio University, defeated Saturday by Western Michigan, with a 6-3 mark.

Locke had special praise for Redskins guard George Burkhart for his defensive work against Bowling Green's Dick Rudgers. "Boy, did Burkhart work hard in studying the films on Rudgers," Locke declared.

Miami encountered a determined foe in Bowling Green, 2-5 in the league, but finally broke ahead late in the game by converting two clutch free throws and picking off two Falcon passes.

Walt Williams and Frank Lukacs led Redskin scorers with 16 points each. Dan McLemore of Bowling Green had a game-high 20.

Elsewhere in the MAC, Western Michigan downed Ohio University 97-89 and Kent State thumped hapless Marshall 78-61.

The victory avenged the Broncos' earlier loss to Ohio and gave them a 4-4 record, good for a third-place tie with Kent State in the conference. Western Michigan outshot Ohio 51 to 44 per cent and were led by Joel Voelkert with 24 points and Gene Ford with 21.

Kent State jumped to an early lead and had little trouble downing a taller but slower an international Communist Marshall team. The Golden Flashes double - teamed Marshall's Dan D'Antoni and held the slick backcourt ace to 12 points. Kent was paced by Tom Lagodich with 20 points and Doug Grayson with 19. Bernard Bradshaw had 19 points for Marshall.

Ohio State's 77-73 loss to last-place Wisconsin Saturday was its second in loop play and all but snuffed out the Buckeyes' chances for a Big Ten title. To stay alive, Tuesday night's game with first-place Purdue is a must for OSU, who lost to the Boilermakers in overtime Feb. 1 in West LaFayette.

The score was tied three times in the final four minutes until reserve guard Keith Burington put the Badgers ahead to stay with a layup, followed by two free throws, making it 75-71 with 46 seconds left to play.

Wisconsin's Clarence Sherrod paced the Badger attack with 18 points. Jim Cleamons of Ohio State had a game-high 28 points, while Dave Sorenson, who has been averaging 24.5 a game, was held to 12 points.

Cincinnati, led by Rick Roberson and Jim Ard with 18 and 15 points, respectively, clobbered Missouri Valley Conference foe Memphis State 67-47. The Bearcats grabbed an early 18-4 lead and never got closer than 16 points after that. Rich Jones was high for Memphis State with 17 points.

Dayton squeezed out a 70-69 after Dan Sadlier tied the game at 63 with two seconds left in regulation time. Steve Turnwald's free throw provided the eventual victory margin. Sadlier led Dayton with 28 points, while Loyola's Walt Robertson led both teams with 34.

Wittenberg suffered its first Ohio Conference loss in a 62-60 upset by Mount Union. The Purple Raiders scored seven straight points in the last minute and a half of regulation to tie up 55-55. Jim Bailosky scored with winning points with two free throws with eight seconds left in overtime.

In other Ohio Conference games, All-American John Rinka scored 36 points in leading Kenyon go a 125-97 victory over Heidelberg; Ohio Wesleyan edged Hiram 51-50 in two overtimes, and Baldwin - Wallace dropped Oberlin 62-52 on 17-point scoring performances by Harvey Hopson and Dick Fletcher.

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, relaxed and in high spirits after a week's rest for treatment of a knee injury and sheer exhaustion, is up to his old tricks and ready to lead his Boston Celtics in the late stages of the National Basketball Association race.

The 35-year-old player-coach was Boston's unanimous choice as Comeback Player of the Week Sunday after sparking the Celtics to a 122-117 overtime victory over the Philadelphia 76ers before 6,095 hardy fans who braved a heavy snowstorm.

In other NBA action Sunday, Wilt Chamberlain poured through 66 points, high for the league this season, as Los Angeles thumped Phoenix 134-116; Baltimore edged Atlanta 102-101; San Francisco nipped Seattle 121-120 and Milwaukee topped San Diego 117-109.

Saturday, Detroit took San Diego 123-119 in overtime, New York downed Baltimore 106-100, Los Angeles trounced Phoenix 122-104, Atlanta beat Chicago 106-97 and Cincinnati edged San Francisco 117-116.

Russell came off the bench to rally the Celtics from a 10-point deficit in the first period and turned in last-minute heroics, blocking two shots and stuffing a basket with two seconds left to send the game into overtime.

"The knee is a little sore in the back, but it didn't give me any trouble,' Russell said after 45 minutes of action. "I'm no more tried than usual. It's just that time of year again."

Russell, who strained right knee ligaments in scoring on a pass-in by John Havlicek against New York Feb. 2, checked himself out of the hospital late Thursday night and watched from the bench as the Celtics' lost a fifth straight game in a defeat by Atlanta Friday night.

After working out Saturday, he decided to dress for the meeting with the 76ers, hoping to lend a hand in snapping the Celtics' longest losing streak in two decades.

"The doctor told me to play it by ear, to go out and see how it feels, "Russell said. "I figured to just give Jim Barnes some relief, but then he got into early foul trouble and I decided to go in.

"I wasn't thinking about any losing streak. We don't worry about the next game—or the last one."

With three seconds left and Philadelphia in front 110-108 in the fourth period, the Celtics called time out for a discussion with General Manager Red Auerbach, who continued as coach to allow Russell to concentrate on playing.

Havlicek and Russell worked the same play on which the player-coach was injured a week earlier. Larry Siegfried set up a pick on the 76ers' Darrell Imhoff, and Havlicek looped a high pass to Russell under the basket. Russ dunked the ball.

Russell's comeback included nine points, 23 rebounds, three assists and several key blocks of shots.

Chamberlain not only dominated the scoring, he also grabbed 28 rebounds, and Elgin Baylor made his presence felt by handing out a pro career high of 16 assists and contributing 23 points. Dick Van Arsdale topped Phoenix with 32 points.

Earl Monroe scored 15 of his 29 points in the fourth quarter to lead Baltimore over Atlanta. Don Ohl scored 15 of 20 Atlanta points during one stretch and finished with 26.

Jeff Mullins' two foul shots with one second left lifted San Francisco over Seattle in a game in which six technicals were called. Seattle's John Tresvant and trainer Jack Curran were ejected. Mullins finished with 34 points. Bob Rule topped Seattle with 31.

Guy Rodgers, who scored 22 points, got 14 in the final period to pace a Milwaukee comeback against San Diego. The losers' Elvin Hayes scored 32 before a Milwaukee crowd of 9,608, a record for the Bucks who are in their first NBA season.

Scorer's Error Hurts Minnesota

By The Associated Press

The Minnesota Pipers didn't get their bonus. And it was costly.

In an American Basketball Association game against Indiana at home Sunday night, a Pacer was charged with fouling a Minnesota player late in the first half.

It should have been Indiana's sixth team foul, which would have given Minnesota a bonus shot. However, the scorers table had neglected to record an earlier foul against Indiana, and, so, the bonus situation did not take affect.

Indiana won 119-118 and moved to within three percentage points of first-place Minnesota in the Eastern Division.

In other ABA action Sunday, Houston outlasted Oakland 129-123 and Miami edged New Orleans 105-103. The New York at Kentucky game was postponed when the Nets could not get out of New York because of snow.

The Pipers protested the matter of the missing free throw during the halftime, but ABA Commissioner George Mikan later ruled a mistake had been made and it was too late to do anything about it.

The Pipers missed a chance at victory late in the game when they were called for offensive goal tending. Roger Brown led Indiana with 30 points. Charlie Williams got 32 for Minnesota.

Oakland, playing without star Rick Barry, out with a knee injury, led 120-119 with 1:28 remaining, but Houston then reeled off 10 points to clinch the victory. Stew Johnson led the winners with 32 points. Gary Bradds got 26 for Oakland.

Late Rallies Feature National Hockey Play

By The Associated Press

Give a medal to the Philadelphia Flyers for perseverance, and a point to the New York Rangers, Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens for coming back. But save the hat for Frank Mahovlich, who has done both for the Detroit Red Wings.

The Flyers spent close to nine hours on a train trying to get from Boston to New York Sunday night in a swirling snowstorm. They finally made it but then almost wished thty hadn't after blowing a 3-0 lead and settling for a 3-3 tie against the Rangers.

Boston wiped out a two-goal Oakland lead with a pair of late goals to earn a 3-3 standoff with the Seals and Montreal erased a 3-0 St. Louis lead and tied the Blues 4-4.

Mahovlich had three goals leading Detroit to a 5-0 romp over Los Angeles. Toronto tagged Chicago 5-3 and Minnesota topped Pittsburgh 3-1 in other Sunday games.

In Saturday's action, Montreal defeated Minnesota 6-3, Oakland stung Toronto 4-1, New York blanked St. Louis 2-0, Boston edged Philadelphia 6-5, Los Angeles stopped Pittsburgh 4-2 and Detroit trimmed Chicago 3-1.

Philadelphia showed the effects of its long train ride, managing just 16 shots against Don Simmons, who played goal for New York in place of snowbound Ed Giacomin. But the Flyers held a 3-0 edge with less than 10 minutes to play before the Rangers started their comeback.

Bob Nevin's goal with 42 seconds left to play tied it for New York after Simmons had been pulled for an extra attacker.

Bobby Rousseau's 24th goal of the season with less than five minutes left capped Montreal's comeback against St. Louis. Jean Beliveau and Serge Savard also scored third period goals for the Canadiens.

The victory stretched Montreal's unbeaten string against St. Louis to 12 games over two seasons. The game was delayed one-half hour when Referee Vern Buffey was injured accidentally by a Ted Harris bodycheck.

Derek Sanderson and Ken Hodge scored Boston's late goals to tie Oakland after Gerry Ehman's early third period tally had opened a 3-1 edge for the Seals.

Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, picked up a pair of assists, running his point total for the season to 87.

Mahovlich scored his fourth hat trick of the season for Detroit and raised his goal total to a league leading 36. The big left winger, traded off by Toronto a year ago, has scored more goals this season for Detroit than he had in the last six seasons for Toronto.

His linemates, Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe, had the other Red Wing goals, giving the line 84 for the season. The NHL record is 105 held by Montreal's Maurice Richard, Toe Blake and Elmer Lach in 1944-45.

Danny O'Shea's controversial goal with just over seven minutes left to play broke a tie and sent Minnesota to its victory over Pittsburgh.

O'Shea's shot went in and out of the net so quickly that Pittsburgh players claimed it never went across the red line. But officials allowed the goal and then Bill Goldsworthy gave the North Stars an insurance tally less than three minutes later.

Toronto roared off to a 4-0 lead and then held off a late Chicago rally to beat the Black Hawks and drop them in the NHL's East Division cellar. It was Chicago's fifth straight loss.

Seagren Sets Indoor Pole Vault Record

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Pole vault champion Bob Seagren, with a new world indoor record of 17 feet 6 inches, continues to aim at 18 feet and notes, "The more times I get to jump at it, the better chance I've got."

Seagren cleared the 17-6 at Saturday night's Times Indoor Games in Los Angeles and will compete again in Montreal on Friday night and fly back to California to go even higher.

After this coming weekend, Olympic champion Seagren, who has cleared 17-9 outdoors, plans to compete in about five other indoor meets.

He was voted the outstanding athlete in the Times meet before 13,736 at The Forum on a night when Australia's Ralph Doubell ran the second fastest indoor 1,000 meters ever.

The Aussie led all the way to post a 2:06.3, second only to Peter Snell's 2:06, a race run by the New Zealander in 1962.

West Germany's Jurgen May, on the comeback trail, won the mile but in comparatively slow time of 4:05.8. Poland's Hendryk Szordykowski finished second in 4:06.7.

George Young, the 31-year-old school teacher from Casa Grande, Ariz., ran his unbeaten string of indoor races to 16 when he outlegged Australia's Kerry O'Brien in the two-mile. The indefatiguable Young won in 8:42.4 as he surged ahead with two laps to go. O'Brien couldn't catch him and wound up at 8:43.0 followed by early pace setter Ole Oleson of Southern California in 8:45.

Willie Davenport of the Houston Striders equalled the world record in the 60-yard hurdles for the second straight night with a 6.8 clocking. Like Seagren, he had competed at Ft. Worth. Davenport, who hopes for a pro football career, shares the record with Hayes Jones.

Petite Barbara Ferrell turned in the night's only double victory and both times she beat Olympic 200-meter champion Irena Szewinska of Poland. In the 60 it was Miss Ferrell in 6.7 and Mrs. Szewinska in 6.9 for second place.

In the 300, Barbara won in 36.2 but Lois Drinkwater of Phoenix, Ariz., took second in 36.3 with the Polish gal third in 36.6.

Doubell said he thought he could have broken the 1,000 record except the first quarter was run too slowly.

Another of track's big guns, Jim Ryun, was in action Saturday night, for the first time since being upset by Kipchoge Keino of Kenya in the 1,500 meters at the Olympics.

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile-run, won that event at the 46th annual Michigan State Relays in a leisurely 4:06.2.

A pole vaulter also set the only record in the All-Eastern Indoor Games Saturday at Baltimore. Claus Schiprowski vaulted to a meet mark of 16-11.

In an upset at Baltimore, Sam Bair of Kent State had a five-race winning streak snapped in the mile. which was won by Bob Finley of the Toronto Track Club in 4:05.3.

An American record of 1:07.7 in the 1,000-yard run was set by Tom Von Ruden of Oklahoma State Friday night at the ninth annual Fort Worth Coaches Indoor Games, the meet in which Davenport equalled the 60-yard hurdles world record.

Olympians Charlie Green and Randy Matson also won at Houston—Green taking the 60-yard dash in 6.0 and Matson the shot put with a toss of 64-1.

St. Aloysius Wins Crucial Church Game

St. Aloysius downed Glenmoor UP 28-16 in the battle for first place in the Collegiate Division of the YMCA Church League Saturday night.

Mark Connell had 13 for the winners and Phil Moffitt 18 for the losers. Both teams were 9-0 entering the game.

Wellsville First Methodist edged First Church of Christ 19-15 as Jim Brown had 8 for the winners and Sam Pederson 6 for the losers. Calvary Methodist edged Boyce United Methodist 21-18 as Phil Weber had 7 for the winners and Terry Dick 8 for the losers.

Longs Run UP nipped Chester Christian 15-13 with Charles Greenwood getting 6 for the winners and B. Davis 6 for the losers. Oakland Free Methodist whipped Chester Nazarene 26-7 as Steve Lockhart had 9.

UCLA, Santa Clara Roll Without Injured Stars

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA came up with an effective pain-killer for Lew Alcindor's headache, but Santa Clara might have trouble finding a remedy for Bud Ogden's sprained ankle.

A headache sent Alcindor to the bench early in the second half of UCLA's Pacific 8 Conference game against Washington State last Saturday.

The 7-foot-1½ All-American left the game after scoring 10 points, but teammates John Vallely, Lynn Shackelford, Curtis Rowe and Kenny Heitz picked up the slack as the top-ranked Bruins breezed to a 108-80 victory, their 18th without a loss this season.

No. 3 Santa Clara, the nation's only other unbeaten major power, extended its winning string to 20 with an 88-60 triumph over Pepperdine. But the Broncos lost sparkplug Ogden in the first half when the high-scoring, 6-foot-6 forward twisted an ankle. The extent of the injury was not reported as of Sunday night.

The two West Coast titans, heading toward a possible showdown in the NCAA Tournament, are idle this week until Saturday, when UCLA takes on Washington State again on the Cougars' court and Santa Clara visith San Francisco for a West Coast Athletic Conference scrap.

The Bruins, who have run off 38 successive victories since a two-point loss at Houston a year ago, are 10-0 in the Pacific 8 this season and lead runner-up Washington State by 1½ games. The Broncos, 7-0 in the WCAC, have a two-game edge on four pursuers but could have trouble staying unbeaten without Ogden up front.

Elsewhere last weekend, seventh-ranked LaSalle outscored No. 8 Villanova 74-67 in a Philadelphia summit clash and six other high-ranked teams won handily. No. 2 North Carolina bombed Florida State 100-82, No. 4 Kentucky trounced Mississippi 104-68 and No. 5 St. John's N.Y., stymied Army 65-43.

Sixth-ranked Davidson crushed George Washington 126-98, No. 9 Purdue whipped Northwestern 97-84 and No. 10 Illinois thrashed Iowa 98-69.

Vallely led the UCLA pointparade with 23 while Shackelford contributed 15, Rowe and Heitz 14 apiece. Ogden's brother, Ralph, and 6-foot-9 Dennis Awtrey each scored 17, keying the Santa Clara attack.

Ed Szczesny came off the LaSalle bench and hit three baskets down the stretch as the Explorers got past arch rival Villanova for their 18th victory in 19 starts. Soph Ken Durrett topped the LaSalle scorers with 20 points.

Charlie Scott put in 23 points and Bill Bunting 22 as North Carolina ran its season mark to 17-1. The Tar Heels are 8-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference but face rugged tests this week in North Carolina State and South Carolina.

Dan Issel's 26 points paced Kentucky's Southeastern Conference leaders to their 16th triumph in 18 games and Joe DePre scored 10 of 14 St. John's points in a second half getaway that sent the Redmen, 16-2, past Army.

Davidson rolled to its 48th consecutive home court victory behind 26-point performances by Mike Malyo and Jerry Kroll. The Wildcatts are 18-2 over-all and 7-0 in the Southern Conference.

Rick Mount's 31-point spree led Purdue to its sixth Big Ten Conference victory without a loss and soph Greg Jackson's regounding and defensive work helped Illinois tie 12th ranked Ohio State for the runner-up spot at 3-2. The Boilermakers are 13-3, the Illini 14-2 for the season.

Eleventh-ranked Tulsa raced to its 10th straight Missouri Valley Conference victory, topping Bradley 94-80 for an 18-2 season mark. Ohio State, 12-4, was upset by Wisconsin 77-73.

Kansas, No. 13, squeezed past Oklahoma 66-59 in overtime to stay within one-half game of 20th-ranked Colorado's Big Eight Conference leaders, who edged Nebraska 83-81.

But 14th-ranked Columbia bowed to Penn 91-81 and slipped two full games behind front-running Princeton in the Ivy League title chase. The Tigers beat Cornell 67-57 for an 8-0 Ivy mark.

Duquesne, No. 15, throttled Holy Cross 98-80 Sunday for its 15th victory in 17 starts.

Miami Eyes MAC Title As Ohio U. Takes Loss

By The Associated Press

Miami's tight defense came through again Saturday as the Redskins defeated Bowling Green 66-62 for a firmer hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference basketball standings.

Ten title hopes dealt a severe blow by Wisconsin Saturday, was hoping to pull an upset of its own against league-leading Purdue Tuesday night.

Miami Coach Tates Locke, whose team finished No. 5 in the MAC last season, said after Saturday's game that the Redskins have "got a chance at" the league crown.

The victory gave Miami an 8-1 MAC record. The nearest contender is Ohio University, defeated Saturday by Western Michigan, with a 6-3 mark.

Locke had special praise for Redskins guard George Burkhart for his defensive work against Bowling Green's Dick Rudgers. "Boy, did Burkhart work hard in studying the films on Rudgers," Locke declared.

Miami encountered a determined foe in Bowling Green, 2-5 in the league, but finally broke ahead late in the game by converting two clutch free throws and picking off two Falcon passes.

Walt Williams and Frank Lukacs led Redskin scorers with 16 points each. Dan McLemore of Bowling Green had a game-high 20.

Elsewhere in the MAC, Western Michigan downed Ohio University 97-89 and Kent State thumped hapless Marshall 78-61.

The victory avenged the Broncos' earlier loss to Ohio and gave them a 4-4 record, good for a third-place tie with Kent State in the conference. Western Michigan outshot Ohio 51 to 44 per cent and were led by Joel Voelkert with 24 points and Gene Ford with 21.

Kent State jumped to an early lead and had little trouble downing a taller but slower an international Communist Marshall team. The Golden Flashes double - teamed Marshall's Dan D'Antoni and held the slick backcourt ace to 12 points. Kent was paced by Tom Lagodich with 20 points and Doug Grayson with 19. Bernard Bradshaw had 19 points for Marshall.

Ohio State's 77-73 loss to last-place Wisconsin Saturday was its second in loop play and all but snuffed out the Buckeyes' chances for a Big Ten title. To stay alive, Tuesday night's game with first-place Purdue is a must for OSU, who lost to the Boilermakers in overtime Feb. 1 in West LaFayette.

The score was tied three times in the final four minutes until reserve guard Keith Burington put the Badgers ahead to stay with a layup, followed by two free throws, making it 75-71 with 46 seconds left to play.

Wisconsin's Clarence Sherrod paced the Badger attack with 18 points. Jim Cleamons of Ohio State had a game-high 28 points, while Dave Sorenson, who has been averaging 24.5 a game, was held to 12 points.

Cincinnati, led by Rick Roberson and Jim Ard with 18 and 15 points, respectively, clobbered Missouri Valley Conference foe Memphis State 67-47. The Bearcats grabbed an early 18-4 lead and never got closer than 16 points after that. Rich Jones was high for Memphis State with 17 points.

Dayton squeezed out a 70-69 after Dan Sadlier tied the game at 63 with two seconds left in regulation time. Steve Turnwald's free throw provided the eventual victory margin. Sadlier led Dayton with 28 points, while Loyola's Walt Robertson led both teams with 34.

Wittenberg suffered its first Ohio Conference loss in a 62-60 upset by Mount Union. The Purple Raiders scored seven straight points in the last minute and a half of regulation to tie up 55-55. Jim Bailosky scored with winning points with two free throws with eight seconds left in overtime.

In other Ohio Conference games, All-American John Rinka scored 36 points in leading Kenyon go a 125-97 victory over Heidelberg; Ohio Wesleyan edged Hiram 51-50 in two overtimes, and Baldwin - Wallace dropped Oberlin 62-52 on 17-point scoring performances by Harvey Hopson and Dick Fletcher.

Chamberlain Scores 66

Russell Leads Celtics Over 76ers In Overtime

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, relaxed and in high spirits after a week's rest for treatment of a knee injury and sheer exhaustion, is up to his old tricks and ready to lead his Boston Celtics in the late stages of the National Basketball Association race.

The 35-year-old player-coach was Boston's unanimous choice as Comeback Player of the Week Sunday after sparking the Celtics to a 122-117 overtime victory over the Philadelphia 76ers before 6,095 hardy fans who braved a heavy snowstorm.

In other NBA action Sunday, Wilt Chamberlain poured through 66 points, high for the league this season, as Los Angeles thumped Phoenix 134-116; Baltimore edged Atlanta 102-101; San Francisco nipped Seattle 121-120 and Milwaukee topped San Diego 117-109.

Saturday, Detroit took San Diego 123-119 in overtime, New York downed Baltimore 106-100, Los Angeles trounced Phoenix 122-104, Atlanta beat Chicago 106-97 and Cincinnati edged San Francisco 117-116.

Russell came off the bench to rally the Celtics from a 10-point deficit in the first period and turned in last-minute heroics, blocking two shots and stuffing a basket with two seconds left to send the game into overtime.

"The knee is a little sore in the back, but it didn't give me any trouble,' Russell said after 45 minutes of action. "I'm no more tried than usual. It's just that time of year again."

Russell, who strained right knee ligaments in scoring on a pass-in by John Havlicek against New York Feb. 2, checked himself out of the hospital late Thursday night and watched from the bench as the Celtics' lost a fifth straight game in a defeat by Atlanta Friday night.

After working out Saturday, he decided to dress for the meeting with the 76ers, hoping to lend a hand in snapping the Celtics' longest losing streak in two decades.

"The doctor told me to play it by ear, to go out and see how it feels, "Russell said. "I figured to just give Jim Barnes some relief, but then he got into early foul trouble and I decided to go in.

"I wasn't thinking about any losing streak. We don't worry about the next game—or the last one."

With three seconds left and Philadelphia in front 110-108 in the fourth period, the Celtics called time out for a discussion with General Manager Red Auerbach, who continued as coach to allow Russell to concentrate on playing.

Havlicek and Russell worked the same play on which the player-coach was injured a week earlier. Larry Siegfried set up a pick on the 76ers' Darrell Imhoff, and Havlicek looped a high pass to Russell under the basket. Russ dunked the ball.

Russell's comeback included nine points, 23 rebounds, three assists and several key blocks of shots.

Chamberlain not only dominated the scoring, he also grabbed 28 rebounds, and Elgin Baylor made his presence felt by handing out a pro career high of 16 assists and contributing 23 points. Dick Van Arsdale topped Phoenix with 32 points.

Earl Monroe scored 15 of his 29 points in the fourth quarter to lead Baltimore over Atlanta. Don Ohl scored 15 of 20 Atlanta points during one stretch and finished with 26.

Jeff Mullins' two foul shots with one second left lifted San Francisco over Seattle in a game in which six technicals were called. Seattle's John Tresvant and trainer Jack Curran were ejected. Mullins finished with 34 points. Bob Rule topped Seattle with 31.

Guy Rodgers, who scored 22 points, got 14 in the final period to pace a Milwaukee comeback against San Diego. The losers' Elvin Hayes scored 32 before a Milwaukee crowd of 9,608, a record for the Bucks who are in their first NBA season.

Scorer's Error Hurts Minnesota

By The Associated Press

The Minnesota Pipers didn't get their bonus. And it was costly.

In an American Basketball Association game against Indiana at home Sunday night, a Pacer was charged with fouling a Minnesota player late in the first half.

It should have been Indiana's sixth team foul, which would have given Minnesota a bonus shot. However, the scorers table had neglected to record an earlier foul against Indiana, and, so, the bonus situation did not take affect.

Indiana won 119-118 and moved to within three percentage points of first-place Minnesota in the Eastern Division.

In other ABA action Sunday, Houston outlasted Oakland 129-123 and Miami edged New Orleans 105-103. The New York at Kentucky game was postponed when the Nets could not get out of New York because of snow.

The Pipers protested the matter of the missing free throw during the halftime, but ABA Commissioner George Mikan later ruled a mistake had been made and it was too late to do anything about it.

The Pipers missed a chance at victory late in the game when they were called for offensive goal tending. Roger Brown led Indiana with 30 points. Charlie Williams got 32 for Minnesota.

Oakland, playing without star Rick Barry, out with a knee injury, led 120-119 with 1:28 remaining, but Houston then reeled off 10 points to clinch the victory. Stew Johnson led the winners with 32 points. Gary Bradds got 26 for Oakland.

Late Rallies Feature National Hockey Play

By The Associated Press

Give a medal to the Philadelphia Flyers for perseverance, and a point to the New York Rangers, Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens for coming back. But save the hat for Frank Mahovlich, who has done both for the Detroit Red Wings.

The Flyers spent close to nine hours on a train trying to get from Boston to New York Sunday night in a swirling snowstorm. They finally made it but then almost wished thty hadn't after blowing a 3-0 lead and settling for a 3-3 tie against the Rangers.

Boston wiped out a two-goal Oakland lead with a pair of late goals to earn a 3-3 standoff with the Seals and Montreal erased a 3-0 St. Louis lead and tied the Blues 4-4.

Mahovlich had three goals leading Detroit to a 5-0 romp over Los Angeles. Toronto tagged Chicago 5-3 and Minnesota topped Pittsburgh 3-1 in other Sunday games.

In Saturday's action, Montreal defeated Minnesota 6-3, Oakland stung Toronto 4-1, New York blanked St. Louis 2-0, Boston edged Philadelphia 6-5, Los Angeles stopped Pittsburgh 4-2 and Detroit trimmed Chicago 3-1.

Philadelphia showed the effects of its long train ride, managing just 16 shots against Don Simmons, who played goal for New York in place of snowbound Ed Giacomin. But the Flyers held a 3-0 edge with less than 10 minutes to play before the Rangers started their comeback.

Bob Nevin's goal with 42 seconds left to play tied it for New York after Simmons had been pulled for an extra attacker.

Bobby Rousseau's 24th goal of the season with less than five minutes left capped Montreal's comeback against St. Louis. Jean Beliveau and Serge Savard also scored third period goals for the Canadiens.

The victory stretched Montreal's unbeaten string against St. Louis to 12 games over two seasons. The game was delayed one-half hour when Referee Vern Buffey was injured accidentally by a Ted Harris bodycheck.

Derek Sanderson and Ken Hodge scored Boston's late goals to tie Oakland after Gerry Ehman's early third period tally had opened a 3-1 edge for the Seals.

Phil Esposito, the NHL's leading scorer, picked up a pair of assists, running his point total for the season to 87.

Mahovlich scored his fourth hat trick of the season for Detroit and raised his goal total to a league leading 36. The big left winger, traded off by Toronto a year ago, has scored more goals this season for Detroit than he had in the last six seasons for Toronto.

His linemates, Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe, had the other Red Wing goals, giving the line 84 for the season. The NHL record is 105 held by Montreal's Maurice Richard, Toe Blake and Elmer Lach in 1944-45.

Danny O'Shea's controversial goal with just over seven minutes left to play broke a tie and sent Minnesota to its victory over Pittsburgh.

O'Shea's shot went in and out of the net so quickly that Pittsburgh players claimed it never went across the red line. But officials allowed the goal and then Bill Goldsworthy gave the North Stars an insurance tally less than three minutes later.

Toronto roared off to a 4-0 lead and then held off a late Chicago rally to beat the Black Hawks and drop them in the NHL's East Division cellar. It was Chicago's fifth straight loss.

Seagren Sets Indoor Pole Vault Record

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Pole vault champion Bob Seagren, with a new world indoor record of 17 feet 6 inches, continues to aim at 18 feet and notes, "The more times I get to jump at it, the better chance I've got."

Seagren cleared the 17-6 at Saturday night's Times Indoor Games in Los Angeles and will compete again in Montreal on Friday night and fly back to California to go even higher.

After this coming weekend, Olympic champion Seagren, who has cleared 17-9 outdoors, plans to compete in about five other indoor meets.

He was voted the outstanding athlete in the Times meet before 13,736 at The Forum on a night when Australia's Ralph Doubell ran the second fastest indoor 1,000 meters ever.

The Aussie led all the way to post a 2:06.3, second only to Peter Snell's 2:06, a race run by the New Zealander in 1962.

West Germany's Jurgen May, on the comeback trail, won the mile but in comparatively slow time of 4:05.8. Poland's Hendryk Szordykowski finished second in 4:06.7.

George Young, the 31-year-old school teacher from Casa Grande, Ariz., ran his unbeaten string of indoor races to 16 when he outlegged Australia's Kerry O'Brien in the two-mile. The indefatiguable Young won in 8:42.4 as he surged ahead with two laps to go. O'Brien couldn't catch him and wound up at 8:43.0 followed by early pace setter Ole Oleson of Southern California in 8:45.

Willie Davenport of the Houston Striders equalled the world record in the 60-yard hurdles for the second straight night with a 6.8 clocking. Like Seagren, he had competed at Ft. Worth. Davenport, who hopes for a pro football career, shares the record with Hayes Jones.

Petite Barbara Ferrell turned in the night's only double victory and both times she beat Olympic 200-meter champion Irena Szewinska of Poland. In the 60 it was Miss Ferrell in 6.7 and Mrs. Szewinska in 6.9 for second place.

In the 300, Barbara won in 36.2 but Lois Drinkwater of Phoenix, Ariz., took second in 36.3 with the Polish gal third in 36.6.

Doubell said he thought he could have broken the 1,000 record except the first quarter was run too slowly.

Another of track's big guns, Jim Ryun, was in action Saturday night, for the first time since being upset by Kipchoge Keino of Kenya in the 1,500 meters at the Olympics.

Ryun, the world record holder in the mile-run, won that event at the 46th annual Michigan State Relays in a leisurely 4:06.2.

A pole vaulter also set the only record in the All-Eastern Indoor Games Saturday at Baltimore. Claus Schiprowski vaulted to a meet mark of 16-11.

In an upset at Baltimore, Sam Bair of Kent State had a five-race winning streak snapped in the mile. which was won by Bob Finley of the Toronto Track Club in 4:05.3.

An American record of 1:07.7 in the 1,000-yard run was set by Tom Von Ruden of Oklahoma State Friday night at the ninth annual Fort Worth Coaches Indoor Games, the meet in which Davenport equalled the 60-yard hurdles world record.

Olympians Charlie Green and Randy Matson also won at Houston—Green taking the 60-yard dash in 6.0 and Matson the shot put with a toss of 64-1.

St. Aloysius Wins Crucial Church Game

St. Aloysius downed Glenmoor UP 28-16 in the battle for first place in the Collegiate Division of the YMCA Church League Saturday night.

Mark Connell had 13 for the winners and Phil Moffitt 18 for the losers. Both teams were 9-0 entering the game.

Wellsville First Methodist edged First Church of Christ 19-15 as Jim Brown had 8 for the winners and Sam Pederson 6 for the losers. Calvary Methodist edged Boyce United Methodist 21-18 as Phil Weber had 7 for the winners and Terry Dick 8 for the losers.

Longs Run UP nipped Chester Christian 15-13 with Charles Greenwood getting 6 for the winners and B. Davis 6 for the losers. Oakland Free Methodist whipped Chester Nazarene 26-7 as Steve Lockhart had 9.

Early Planning Aids Retirement

By VIVIAN BROWN

Get set for Operation Retirement Experiment.

If you've lived 20 years in a community or your children are grown, married or away at college, you are ready to think about it.

People have major house problems when they retire, unless they can afford to maintain more than one home.

A house may be far too large when children disperse. Many parents hold on to the old homestead so that married children may return to visit. But is it worth maintaining a large house for those short visits?

Even if a house is small, it may be too expensive to operate on limited retirement income. A couple may have just enough money to cover expenses.

—:—

SUCH SITUATIONS call for a totally new environment, but the great wrench is parting with the house and community.

What to do?

If you are a decade or so away from retirement, begin thinking about it. Plan vacations with retirement spots in mind.

If you find a good one, plan subsequent vacations there, so that you will begin to grow in the community. If you can afford it, buy a house and rent it until you can afford to take it over.

If you are ready for retirement, you can rent the present home for a few years and buy or rent a house in another community.

It may take awhile to find one that is just right, people-wise and health-wise. But you may form new friendships quickly and be happier than ever.

Your experiment has paid off when you decide you can part with your house. If you aren't sure you will be happy elsewhere, you can rent it for several years until you are acclimated to a new life. You may decide that you must keep the old house, even though it will mean scrimping.

—:—

HERE ARE some suggestions for carrying out the experiment:

1. — Determine rental prices in your community and your chances of renting your home. Find out the going rental for unfurnished, furnished and partially furnished homes.

2. — Estimate the cost of running your present home. Mortgage, insurance (home, fire, etc.), repairs and other costs such as chimney cleaning, yard maintenance, heating maintenance should be determined. Add to that figure a monthly amount for depreciation. (You must figure house painting costs, septic tank cleaning and so on.) It is a good idea to look at your house account book for the last five years so that nothing escapes your notice.

3. — If the rental you must get for your home makes this scheme impractical, forget it. The other alternative is to part with your house or continue to live in it.

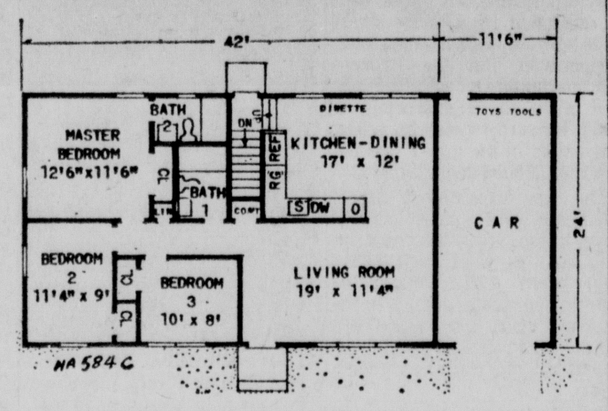
4. — If the house is rentable and can carry itself, find the retirement place before you rent the house. If you absolutely know for sure, you are ready to buy. If you are not sure, rent a place in the area, until you decide that you like it well enough not to be homesick.

5.—Choose the furniture that will be useful in the new house. Furniture is very expensive, so do not leave behind anything you can use, such as big items —sofas, upholstered chairs and so on.

If you have a good slipcoverer or upholsterer, it is wise to have these pieces of furniture recovered or slipcovered before you move to the new place. If you are going to a resort area, you will want brighter fabrics or lighter weight upholstery.

6. — If you plan to buy new rugs and draperies for the new home, you might sell the old ones to the new owner or tenant of your present home.

7. — If you plan to leave some of your furnishings in the home when you rent, be sure to remove what you want before you begin to show it. Ten to one, the prospective renter or buyer will want you to leave the very things you are planning to take with you. For harmony, remove them from sight.



A PERFECT RECTANGLE is the secret of cost-cutting in this trim ranch plan. It looks big but has only 1,000 square feet of living area and this covers three good bedrooms, two baths and comfort-planned living and kitchen-dining rooms. No waste hall space here, but very good traffic patterns from front and back doors. Plan HA584C is designed by architect Lester Cohen, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N.Y. 10036.

Post Mortem Slated In Novelist's Death

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Novelist Cameron Hawley of Lancaster has died in a Marathon, Fla., hospital. He was 63.

A post mortem was scheduled in Marathon today to determine the cause of death. He had been vacationing with his wife, Elaine.

Noted for his vivid portrayals of big business, Hawley resigned from Armstrong Cork Co. in 1951 to devote fulltime to writing.

His first novel, "Executive Suite," was published in 1952 and became a world - wide best seller. Since then, he has turned out three others, the latest being "The Hurricane Years," which deals with heart attacks suffered by pressured businessmen.

Funeral services were to be conducted today followed by cremation.

If Your Floor Squeaks, Here's Plan To Follow

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The cause of a squeaky floor is just what you might expect—something is loose.

Whether the subfloor has pulled away from the joists or the finish (top) floor is rubbing against the subfloor, the slackness must be eliminated if the noise is to disappear. The problem can be solved without marring the floor if the latter is above a basement, permitting the underside to be seen.

Where there is a ceiling below, it is necessary to make nail or screw holes in the floor, which will have to be patched with great care if that portion of the floor is to remain exposed.

—:—

IN EITHER case, make the repair when someone is at home, since you will need his or her assistance, not to do any actual work but to walk and stand at your direction.

With a first - floor squeak, go down to the basement and have your assistant walk back and forth on the floor while you listen.

Do this carefully and without haste, using a piece of chalk to mark the places where the squeaking occurs. In some cases, you will be able to see the subflooring move up and down over a joist as the walking proceeds.

The solution is to drive a wedge between the subfloor and the joist at the point of the noise. Hammer it in well so that the subfloor no longer moves when there is weight on it from above.

If the squeak does not appear to be coming from the area of a joist, but rather from the flooring between joists, it is likely that a strip of the finish floor is loose and is moving up and down when walked on.

This movement can be eliminated by screwing the two layers of floors together. Again working from the underside, drive a screw upward through the sub-floor and into the finish floor. To be sure it does not go all the way through both floors, use a screw one-and-a-quarter inches long. Even then, check the finish floor to be certain it hasn't gone through.

YOU WILL have to use as many screws as necessary to halt the squeak, but usually two or three will do it. Because the finish floor is usually hardwood, first drill a pilot hole to accommodate each screw.

A third but lesser possibility is loose bridging — those strips of wood used as supports between joists. If one of those is loose, rehammer it into place. In severe cases, you can purchase metal bridging strips made especially for reinforcement purposes.

When you cannot get to the underside of the floor, the repair must be made from the top. After making pilot holes, drive threaded nails through the floor into the joists in the offending areas.

At each squeaky section, use two nails, spaced a couple of inches apart and driven at an angle so that the ends of the nails meet or almost meet inside the joist. Use finishing nails that can be countersunk below the surface a little, permitting the holes to be covered with wood putty.

To find the joists, thump the floor with the side of your fist. There will be a hollow sound between joists, a solid sound over a joist. Have someone stand at the point of looseness while the nails are being driven.

Remodeling Tips Offered On Bathroom

Do you have an old - fashioned bathroom with lots of space but no place to put anything?

That's typical of many bathrooms in older homes, where fixtures are widely separated with nothing but bare walls between.

The solution is a remodeling job that includes well - planned built - ins, the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago points out.

For example, a free - standing lavatory can be replaced with twin lavatories mounted in a countertop. The space under the extended counter can be devoted entirely to drawers, entirely to shelves or to a combination of both. Alternately, one section can be fitted with a pull-out clothes hamper.

Of course the twin bowls in the countertop are a convenience in themselves, especially during the morning rush hour. Moreover, the lavatories come in a wide range of styles, so that they really become the focal point of a beautiful new bathroom.

Winter's A Sneaky Thing When It Comes To Draft

Let us assume that your house was calked in the fall, that it is reasonably well insulated and that you have installed weather stripping around all doors and windows — and yet you feel a draft or two on a cold day.

It's entirely possible. Winter air has a way of sneaking in and it will cause discomfort and run up your heat bills unless you do something about it.

TRACING a draft to its source will generally reveal an opening in wall, floor or near a baseboard. You can feel the cool air against your skin, but if you are uncertain you can arm yourself with a lighted candle while you explore for drafts, watching the flame and being careful of fire all the while.

Wherever there is a break in the wall there is a possibility of a draft. An electrical outlet on an outside wall is an example. If you find cold air entering, stuff the opening with glass fiber insulation if it is large or just calk around the edges of the outlet box if small.

You may notice a draft just below the window, in spite of storm windows, weatherstripping and calking.

The wooden apron or molding just below the sill may cover an unplastered area that leads directly to the outside across the rough sill. Drive a few finishing nails through the apron and into the rough sill to tighten the joint and seal it.

—:—

PIPES TO a steam radiator coming up through the floor may have more space around them than they should. Even though there is a metal ring covering the opening it isn't enough to stop a draft. Fill with a mixture of asbestos paste and water.

You may find drafts around baseboards, especially in a basementless house. Check for air leaks. Whereever you find one, loosen the quarter-round molding and calk the crack between the baseboard and floor.

If you left a window air-conditioner up all winter you may be getting drafts through it. It should be covered with an air-conditioner cover to prevent air from blowing through it and to protect it. Calk around the conditioner, between the unit and the mounting board. Even a unit mounted in a wall may be admitting cold air. Check it.

A DRAFT can enter through the fireplace chimney. When the fireplace is not in use remember to close the damper. Remember that outdoors there may be wide joints around the fireplace. Trowel in mortar. If the joint is too wide, stuff with aluminum foil first, then apply mortar.

A kitchen exhaust fan may be admitting cold air. You can purchase a cover to go over the fan grill. Lacking this, you can line the grill with aluminum foil but you will not be able to use the fan for the rest of the winter. Instead, open a window a crack for the short time you might use the fan.

Take a look around the outside of your house where pipes come through the wall. The space around the pipe should be well calked.

Time-And-Half Pay Due Ohio's Highway Crews

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maintenance employes of the State Highway Department will be paid time-and-a-half overtime for work performed in excess of 40 hours per week, Highway Director P. E. Masheter announced Sunday.

The policy became effective immediately and affects about 4,000 workers, Masheter said. The employes previously had been paid straight time for work over 40 hours.

Masheter said the policy change had been authorized by State Personnel Director Wayne Ward.

Employes of the state's penal institutions were granted overtime pay last week after Ohio Penitentiary guards threatened to strike. The agreement averted a strike.

After prison guards were granted the overtime pay, other state employes demanded similar rights.

Masheter called the new policy an "emminent step forward in state service." He said the workers are called out at all hours of the day and night and are "subjected to extraordinary hazards while providing safe and convenient travel to the public."

The workers receive an average of $2.30 an hour.

Fines Assessed In Traffic Cases

LISBON — Beede L. Shinn of Wellsville RD was fined $25 and costs on each of two charges—unsafe vehicle and no operator's license — Friday by Judge J. L. MacDonald in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Also fined were Paul A. Hood of Wellsville, speeding, $15 and costs, and no valid operator's license, $5 costs only; Deborah A. Pinkerton of Wellsville, speeding, $15 and costs; Gerald E. Sanders of Lisbon, speeding, and Elmer H. Webber of Alliance, failure to display warning signal on commercial vehicle, $10 and costs each.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were John Y. Keenan of Empire, overloaded truck, $51.90, and Robert T. Johnson of Warren, failure to obey traffic signal, $15.

Skating Party Set By Ohioville Grange

OHIOVILLE — A skating party was planned for Feb. 22 when the Ohioville Junior Grange met at the hall.

Cub Pack 546 in Ohioville will be guests. Projects for the state grange in the fall were discussed.

Members finished staining station projects, and will complete work on them at the next meeting Feb. 18.

Board Meeting Set

LISBON — The Lisbon board of education will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building, with Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president, in charge. Proposals on the agenda include the purchase of $1,586 worth of equipment for vocational education and participation in federal funds for title programs.

Time-And-Half Pay Due Ohio's Highway Crews

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maintenance employes of the State Highway Department will be paid time-and-a-half overtime for work performed in excess of 40 hours per week, Highway Director P. E. Masheter announced Sunday.

The policy became effective immediately and affects about 4,000 workers, Masheter said. The employes previously had been paid straight time for work over 40 hours.

Masheter said the policy change had been authorized by State Personnel Director Wayne Ward.

Employes of the state's penal institutions were granted overtime pay last week after Ohio Penitentiary guards threatened to strike. The agreement averted a strike.

After prison guards were granted the overtime pay, other state employes demanded similar rights.

Masheter called the new policy an "emminent step forward in state service." He said the workers are called out at all hours of the day and night and are "subjected to extraordinary hazards while providing safe and convenient travel to the public."

The workers receive an average of $2.30 an hour.

Fines Assessed In Traffic Cases

LISBON — Beede L. Shinn of Wellsville RD was fined $25 and costs on each of two charges—unsafe vehicle and no operator's license — Friday by Judge J. L. MacDonald in Columbiana County Southwest Court.

Also fined were Paul A. Hood of Wellsville, speeding, $15 and costs, and no valid operator's license, $5 costs only; Deborah A. Pinkerton of Wellsville, speeding, $15 and costs; Gerald E. Sanders of Lisbon, speeding, and Elmer H. Webber of Alliance, failure to display warning signal on commercial vehicle, $10 and costs each.

Forfeiting appearance bonds were John Y. Keenan of Empire, overloaded truck, $51.90, and Robert T. Johnson of Warren, failure to obey traffic signal, $15.

Skating Party Set By Ohioville Grange

OHIOVILLE — A skating party was planned for Feb. 22 when the Ohioville Junior Grange met at the hall.

Cub Pack 546 in Ohioville will be guests. Projects for the state grange in the fall were discussed.

Members finished staining station projects, and will complete work on them at the next meeting Feb. 18.

Board Meeting Set

LISBON — The Lisbon board of education will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building, with Dr. Wade A. Bacon, president, in charge. Proposals on the agenda include the purchase of $1,586 worth of equipment for vocational education and participation in federal funds for title programs.

E. The aforementioned employees included within the Sewer Revenue Department.
F. The aforementioned employees included within the Income Tax Department.

SECTION 5. That all hourly employees of the City of East Liverpool shall receive time and one-half pay for each hour worked in excess of 8 hours per day. Also, all salaried employees of the City of East Liverpool, excluding each and every salaried employee enumerated in Ordinance Number 62, 1968, shall receive time and one-half pay for each hour worked in excess of 40 hours per week, with said time and one-half pay to be computed upon a 40-hour week.

SECTION 6. Time off for regular union work shall be granted to the President of the local Public Employees Union or the Chairman of the Negotiating Committee of said union or both, when necessary to resolve a grievance or to meet with the City Council for the negotiation of a contract, only when said grievance meeting of said negotiation is requested by the City.

SECTION 7. That this Ordinance is intended to operate retroactively to the first day of January, 1969, and to go into effect on said date.

SECTION 8. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that pay raises are necessary immediately in order to hold present employees on their jobs and to attract new employees to vacancies existing and thus to continue the efficient operation of the various departments of the City and this action is therefore necessary in order for the immediate preservation of the peace, health and safety of the City and its citizens.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 4, 1969.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE ZONING MAP BY CHANGING THE ZONING CLASSIFICATION OF PROPERTY LOCATED IN FISHER PARK.

WHEREAS, an application for a change in the Zoning Map by changing the zoning classification of certain property hereinafter described was submitted to the Planning Commission, and

WHEREAS, a public hearing was held on the proposed application, due notice of which was given by publication thirty days prior to said hearing and in addition thereto written notice was mailed to owners of all properties lying within 200 feet of the property described below, and

WHEREAS, the Planning Commission has recommended to this Council that the application be granted and has certified such to this Council and this Council has held a public hearing after due notice given of the proposed amendment and has considered the recommendations of the Planning Commission;

NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. That the zoning classification of the following described property be changed, to - wit:

Deed Reference: Volume 1122, Page 376.

ALSO, the following described premises, situated in the State of Ohio, County of Columbiana and City of East Liverpool and being more fully described by beginning at the Northeasterly corner of Lot No. 58 of the Second Addition to Fisher Park as said addition is recorded in Plat Book 7, Page 2, of the records of plats of said County and running thence with the North line of said Lots N. 63° 38' 16" W. a distance of 202.68 feet to the East line of South Shady Lane Drive; thence in a Northwesterly direction a distance of 50 feet, more or less, but to a point on the West line of South Shady Lane Drive at the most Easterly corner of Lot No. 23, Block J, Fisher Park Second Addition; thence with the North line of said lot N. 64° 11' 27" W. a distance of 135 feet to the Easterly line of the Fourth Addition to Fisher Park, as recorded in Plat Book 6, Page 198, of the records of plats of said County; thence with said line, on a curve to the left, radius 107.0 feet, a distance of 44.22 feet to a point; thence further with said line N. 11° 54' 10" W. a distance of 61.85 feet to a point; thence further with said line N. 7° 57' 14" W. a distance of 146.42 feet to a point; thence further with said line N. 28° 07' 42" W. a distance of 146.42 feet to a point; thence N. 38° 22' W. a distance of 67.69 feet to a point; thence with the Northerly line of said Fourth Addition N. 48° 58' 36" W. a distance of 200.27 feet to a point; thence further with said line N. 74° 10' W. a distance of 74.13 feet to a point; thence further with said line S. 69° 05' 15" W. a distance of 79.92 feet to the East line of Fairlawn Avenue; thence with said line extended N. 20° 54' 46" W. a distance of 186.88 feet but to the intersection of the Centerline of North Shady Lane Drive; thence with said line N. 84° 40' 40" E. a distance of 21.31 feet to the intersection of said line with the East line of Third Addition to Fisher Park extended S. 00° 24' E.; thence with the East line of the Third Addition N. 00° 24' W. a distance of 164.58 feet to Grantor's North line; thence with said line N. 89° 36' E. a distance of 453.54 feet to Grantor's East line; thence with said line S. 36° 39' E. a distance of 575.0 feet to a point; thence further with said line S. 32° 09' E. a distance of 180 feet to a point; thence further with said line S. 8° 32' 10" W. a distance of 462.22 feet to the place of beginning, containing in area 8.7105 Acres, be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio: Known as and being Lots numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, in Block "d", as said Lots are numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of the second allotment of Fisher Park.

Also, Known as and being lots numbered 39, 40, and 41, in Block J as said Lots are numbered and distinguished on the recorded plat of the Fourth Allotment of Fisher Park.

Excepting therefrom the last above described tract the following: Situated in the City of East Liverpool, County of Columbiana, State of Ohio and being more fully described by beginning at the southeast corner of Lot No. 32, Block "C" of the "Fisher Park" Addition to said city and running thence with the east line of said Lot 32 N 00-24 W a distance of 139.49 feet to the north line of Fisher Park; thence with said north line N. 89-36 E. a distance of 453.54 feet to the northeast corner of said Fisher Park; thence S 36-39 E a distance of 117.24 feet to a point; thence S 84-41 W a distance of 524.80 feet to the place of beginning, containing in area 1.33 acres, more or less.

The change will be from its present classification of "S-1" to the new classification of "R-2".

SECTION 2. That the Zoning Map be amended to show the change in classification above.

SECTION 3. That this Ordinance is hereby declared by Council to be an emergency measure and shall be in force immediately upon passage. Said emergency lies in the fact that it will be beneficial to the economic well being of the city for the residential construction upon the described premises above and said construction may not now take place under the present zoning classification and it is therefore necessary to protect the health, public peace and safety of the citizens of the City of East Liverpool.

Passed this 3rd day of February, 1969.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BEAN SPROUTS

QUESTION: How can bean sprouts be grown?

* * *

ANSWER: Many of us have enjoyed the crisp little bean sprouts served by Chinese restaurants in their chow mein and chop suey. The simple little bean sprout is acquiring a great reputation these days because of its nutritional value, including proteins and vitamin D. Bean sprouts should be eaten three or four days after starting the sprouting process, when they are about 2 inches long. Mung beans are most generally used, but alfalfa seeds and other grains may be sprouted and used for food. To sprout mung beans, place six tablespoons of them in a wide mouth quart jar, fill with one half water, cover with nylon screen and soak overnight. Next morning, pour water off through screen, put in more water until one-third full; swish around and pour off. Place jar on side. Four or five hours later, pour in water until half full; swish and empty again. Repeat process at night. Keep doing this, and the sprouts will start to pop out all over the place. Use in salads and soups. They also taste good fried in butter with onions.
